ALLIED FORCES TRAP NAZI TROOPS

Fighting Reported In Narvik Streets; Navy Guns Cut German Rear

One Small Enemy Force Flees Across Mountains — Way Dotted With Nazi, Norwegian Dead

By PETER RHODES

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

KIRUNA, Sweden, April 17.—(By telephone to Stockholm)—A German force of between 2,000 and 2,500 men is facing the choice of annihilation, surrender, or a fighting retreat into Sweden from Narvik, the northern outpost of the German army of occupation. German troops are reported fighting in the streets of Narvik and one small German force is known to have fled across the rugged snow-covered mountains to the Swedish frontier.

Meanwhile the main German force is based on the bluff Rombak Heights ac,ross the fjord from Narvik, its line of retreat cut off by the big guns of British warships.

The way from Narvik to Sweden is dotted with German and Norwegian dead, lying in the snow.

More than 1,000 German and Norwegian dead lie at the bottom of Narvik harbor.

The harbor itself is the graveyard of some 40 German and Norwegian warships and German, British, Norwegian and neutral merchant ships.

One of these is said by Berlin to be a British cruiser but the German losses included an estimated eight warships destroyed by British naval action in the past few days.

LONDON, April 17.—The Admiralty announced tonight that the Royal Navy had bombarded Stavanger airdrome for an hour and 20 minutes this morning.

REACHED KIRUNA

I have reached Kiruna, one of the two great Swedish ore centres far above the Arctic Circle, after escaping with the last Norwegian troops and refugees from Narvik and keeping as near as I could to the scene of action, in the frontier area on both sides, sometimes using skis.

The situation as it appears as I telephone to Stockholm is that the whole German occupation force in the Narvik area is completely cut off and their sole hope of supply in the inhospitable Arctic snows is the airplane.

By a desperate fight along the railroad line to Sweden a small detachment of the Germans have reached the frontier. Ten of these at least have crossed into Sweden to be interned.

MAY TRY TO FIGHT

The remainder of the Germans may try to fight their way along this road, may try to fight its way either northward toward Tromsoe or southward toward Bodoe, or they may elect to mass on Rombak Heights for a last man fight.

This is the course which those of the Germans I have talked to, the ones who crossed into Sweden, have told me they believe their comrades will choose.

Between Narvik and the Swedish frontier, about 18 miles to the east, are towering mountains, with no roads but with a railroad which runs through a tunnel. The Norwegians in their first retreat blocked this tunnel by wrecking a fully loaded iron ore train in it.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS

The latest developments were the success of the German detachment in reaching the Swedish frontier yesterday morning after days of fighting and privation; the

NORSE FORT SILENCED BY NAZI BOMBS

Heavy Attack On Hegra Puts Guns Out Of Commission

By THOMAS HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM, April 17 — A heavy bomb attack on the Norwegian fortress at Hegra, 25 miles east of the German-occupied Atlantic port of Trondheim, appeared today to have silenced the fortress batteries, it was reported here.

The Hegra guns, although directed mainly against an attack from Sweden, formed an obstacle to Germany's control of the railroad extending from Trondheim to Sweden.

A trainload of German troops slipped by Hegra's guns yesterday by a ruse and reached the Swedish border, about 50 miles from Trondheim.

OPERATIONS HASTENED

Meanwhile, German troops hastened operations in southern Norway behind the potential line of defence from Trondheim to the Swedish frontier.

The front, apparently planned as a bulwark against possible attack by British troops reported to have landed on Norway's northern shores, was reported established yesterday when the invading Nazis gained control of an important railway cutting across the country's narrow "waist."

The only German armed forces north of Trondheim appeared isolated in the vicinity of Narvik, 400 miles away, and there was increasing evidence that the invaders intended to concentrate on consolidating their position behind the newly-established line in middle Norway.

EMPHASIS ON SOUTH

The theory was supported by Berlin statements seeking to minimize the importance of operations at Narvik, which Norwegian sources said already had been occupied by the Allies, and emphasizing the strength of the German position in the south.

Observers pointed out that the Germans apparently have control of several strategic points on the Norwegian coast below Trondheim —including the ports of Kristiansund, Bergen and Stavanger.

Severed lines of communication made it impossible to obtain exact knowledge of German operations in southern Norway, but there were reports of scattered fighting in which Norwegian troops were said to be retiring before superior Nazi detachments.

COUNTER ATTACK

Norwegian military headquarters announced that ski troops had made a successful counter attack on the flank of German forces near Hakadal, east of Oslo, but said that further south the defenders were retiring before strong Nazi units.

The Norwegians said their positions in the Fossem district, 125 miles northwest of Oslo, still were intact. They reported that two German planes had been shot down during yesterday's operations and said the crew of three other Nazi planes which made forced landings in the border area southeast of Oslo had been killed.

Strong German forces were reported moving south out of Trondheim, apparently with the object of making contact with Nazi forces driving north from Oslo.

There were unconfirmed rumors of naval fighting off the southern tip of Norway.

Although Tegra fortress remained in Norwegian hands, advices from Storlen said the Germans had succeeded in bringing more troops over the railroad from Trondheim to the Swedish border last night to strengthen their grip on the line.

LARGE AMOUNT JEWELS TAKEN BY BOLD THIEF

Burglar Smashes Window Of Jasper Avenue Store

Believed by police to be one of the most daring crimes in the city's history a large quantity of valuable rings and watches were stolen from the Jasper avenue display window of Henry Birks and Sons, Limited, jewelry store, sometime Monday night.

Although the value of the stolen jewelry was not revealed, police said that some of the store's most valuable jewelry and watches were included in it and branded it as the "largest haul" ever made by burglars operating in this city. The raid was the first made on the Birks store since its establishment in this city.

ONE-MAN JOB

Completing their preliminary investigations Wednesday, police said they believed that it was probably the work of one man who may or may not have been aided by lookouts.

They said that he climbed onto the permanent canopy which runs around the front and west side of the store and concealed himself until the police constable on the beat passed on his regular round. Then the burglar apparently broke the glass in a transom window about 25 feet north of the south-west corner of the store. Reaching in, he opened the transom and this let him in at the top of the side display window and from there into the store.

The burglar then stripped the Jasper Avenue display window of all its valuable gems and watches, and went back out the way he went in. Police found ring cases and other clues scattered along the canopy outside the broken transom window.

INVESTIGATING

Det. Insp. John Leslie of the city police has put an entire squad of detectives to work. Det. Chris Shaw, finger-print expert, has combed the store thoroughly in search of clues while other men directed by Det.-Sgt. Bert Petheram are pressing other investigation.

Recruit For Norway

LONDON, April 17—British and Norwegian volunteers for service in Norway so crowded the Norwegian consulate here that an additional recruiting bureau was opened today in the Norwegian tourist bureau, near Canada House.

British Navy, German Air Arm Face Crucial Test Over North Sea

By WEBB MILLER

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, April 17.—A crucial struggle between German air power and British sea power was on the verge of commencing today off the Norwegian coast.

Large numbers of German airplanes were constantly sighted over southern Norway yesterday on their way to coastal bases to start efforts to disrupt the line of communication of the allied expeditionary force across the North Sea.

A series of British air force attacks on Stavanger, a German airplane base on the Norwegian west coast, had been designed to break up the German's air concentration and destroy their bases.

TEST SEEMS LIKELY

A momentous test of Adolf Hitler's conception of the effectiveness of air power against British surface command of the sea seemed likely to be fought out in a decisive manner, beginning within a few days. The Germans apparently hope, by constantly harrying British warships and troopships out at sea, to prevent landings of an expeditionary force in effective numbers.

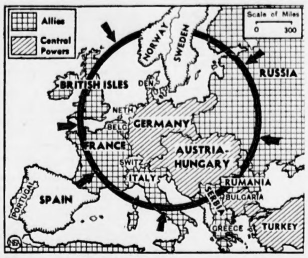
The view here was that the Germans were now openly showing their hand regarding their fundamental strategic considerations in the occupation of Norway and Denmark—the securing of operational bases whence they might try to smash the British command of the North Sea and provide springboards from which they might eventually carry the air war into the British Isles themselves.

R. A. F. BOMBS NORWAY PORT OF TRONDHEIM

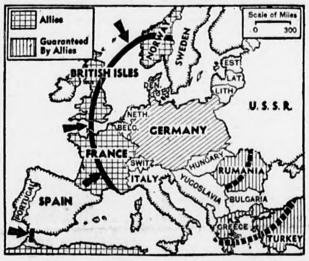
British United Press

LONDON, April 17—The air ministry said today that Royal Air Force planes had bombed the Norwegian port of Trondheim, where there are heavy German troop concentrations. The R.A.F. attack on Trondheim airdrome, the minister said, caused a large fire. The attacks, which occurred last night, included one on a German seaplane base in the vicinity of Trondheim.

New Battle Front Recalls Germany's Handicap Of 1914



World War allies almost completely ringed Germany and Austria-Hungary when conflict began in 1914. Even so, central powers were able to break through defenses to near victory with repeated assaults.



Still fighting on a single front, thanks to friendly neutrality of Russia, Italy and Hungary, Germany has extended that front by her own choice north through Denmark and up through Scandinavia to the Arctic Circle. Possible new fronts indicated by dotted lines.

NORWEGIANS PUTTING UP STIFF FIGHT

STOCKHOLM, April 17—The Norwegian general staff issued the following communique today:

"At Hakadal, Norwegian skiers inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. On all fronts the Norwegians captured German prisoners, whose number now totals 150.

"The Fossumstroekets fortress still holds.

"The Norwegians still hold their positions on the shore of Lake Mjoesa.

"A Norwegian contingent commanded by General Ariksen crossed the Swedish frontier at Oestfeld and was interned.

"At Hadeland, the Norwegians retired to new positions without being harassed by the enemy.

"Several German planes were shot down."

Increase Fares

LONDON, April 17—Euan Wallace, minister of transport, announced today in the House of Commons that railway fares will be increased 10 per cent May 1 to meet rising wages and costs resulting from the war.

WORLD'S FATE HANGS ON WAR EDEN STATES

Loyalty Of Empire Britain's Secret Weapon, Club Is Told

LONDON, April 17.— Anthony Eden, secretary of state for the Dominions, described the war today as "more than a conflict of interests, it was a conflict of worlds," and asserted that "the whole story of civilization waits upon its issue."

The Nazis had boasted that the Third Reich would last 1,000 years, he told the Constitutional Club. If that were so, it would be a "thousand years of blight."

Mr. Eden said it was a fallacy to say that Britain ruled the whole British Commonwealth.

STRESSES EQUALITY

"Britain no more rules over Canada than Canada rules over Britain," he declared in emphasizing the equality of the Dominions.

The loyalty of the whole Empire is Britain's secret weapon, he asserted.

"The Dominions are a living refutation of the Nazi thesis that liberty is synonymous with decadence and that a system based on freedom cannot last."

Sir Frederick Sykes, who presided, read a message from the Duke of Connaught paying tribute to Canada's war contribution and terming the Dominion "the most air-minded of all the nations in the commonwealth."

TO SUPPLY EMPIRE

After mentioning the large military contribution of Canada, the Duke expressed the opinion that "as the arsenal and granary of the Empire, Canada's help will be even more apparent."

Further Strength To Rome-Berlin Axis Predicted

British United Press

ROME, April 17—German and Italian circles say that the arrival in Rome of a new German military mission can be regarded as a further strengthening of the Rome-Berlin axis.

The Nazi mission, said to be headed by a general, joined several other small German groups which arrived in Rome during the past few months to examine Italian military strength and to purchase material for the German army.

Reinforcements Pouring Across Sea To Norway

Fierce Struggle For Air Supremacy Now Forecast — Allied Seaplane Bases To Be Established

By H. L. PERCY

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

LONDON, April 17.—Reinforcements for the British Expeditionary Force are pouring across the North Sea today in British, French and Polish ships while the British Air Force prepared for a major campaign over Norway to obtain landing places.

A fierce struggle for air supremacy was forecast — one that probably will provide a test for former Sir Kingsley Wood's claim that the Allied air forces now rival Germany's in men, machines and production capacity. Unless and until German planes have been swept from the skies, troop transports will be in peril when they anchor off the coasts to disembark land forces, as will the communications by which the forces must be supplied.

Officiall quarters said that the expeditionary force was being "steadily reinforced." For its first campaign in history above the Arctic circles, Britain had supplied its troops with white fur jackets, white sweaters, fur caps, sleeping bags and jerkins.

Most of those already sent, including Canadians, had been especially trained for warfare in mountainous, snow-bound country in the expectation that they would campaign as "volunteers" in Finland.

Among other novelties to the campaign, it was said that the "Tommies" would use reindeer to haul heavy equipment over the snow.

BLOOD FLOWN ACROSS

Already, two urgent calls have been received at headquarters of the army blood transfusion service "for blood needed at once for use by British forces in Norway." Headquarters appealed to the public and 200 aircraft factory workers were among those who donated blood. It was flown immediately across the North Sea.

The British plan was believed to be to establish as quickly as possible, seaplane bases in Norwegian fjords, from which to overskim the scraggy mountains and strafe German troops, supply trains, depots and communication lines.

It was admitted that British sea power could not hope to sever completely German communications between Norway and German Denmark. German bases at Bergen and Trondheim are believed to be getting most of their supplies by air now.

START UNDER HANDICAP

The allies start under a handicap in the air struggle because of the distance to Norway from British bases.

British seaplanes, operating from the fjords, will be expected to blast out a way for the establishment of land bases. Land forces, meanwhile, will try to seize strategic rail heads such as Narvik.

Simultaneous with landing operations, British submarines and destroyers will be expected to harass German sea communications. Naval experts admit that in spite of the vigilance of the fleet, some German transports are bound to get through.

All communiques on Norwegian operations indicated that the main body of French troops included in the expeditionary force had not yet reached Norway. British observers expected that the French "Blue Devils," the Alpine Chasseurs, would be represented in the force since they are especially trained for fighting in such country.

BRITISH SUB THISTLE NOW SAID OVERDUE

Undersea Craft Believed Missing After North Sea Operation

By FREDERICK KUH

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, April 17—The British submarine Thistle — possibly one of the Allied underseas craft that was engaged in the thick of the fight against German warships in the Kattegat and the Skagerrak —is overdue and believed missing.

In announcing the apparent loss of the submarine the Admiralty says the Thistle had been operating in the North Sea.

Thistle is a 1,090-ton submarine, completed in May, 1939, with a normal complement of 53 officers and men.

She was of the same class as the submarine Thetis, which sank off the English west coast last year with the loss of about 100 of those aboard. Since then the Thetis has been raised, reconditioned and is back in service.

PATROL TYPE

Submarines of the Thistle class are classified as of patrol type, for general service. The authoritative naval publication Jane's Fighting Ships comments that their outstanding feature is moderate dimensions.

It was one of the Thistle class, the Truant, which sank the German 6-thousand ton cruiser Karlsruhe on the day Germany invaded Norway.

Thistle passed its acceptance trials last July, a little more than a month after Thetis foundered. She cost about $1,400,000. She had a surface speed of 15 knots and a submerged speed of nine. She carried one 4-inch gun, two smaller guns and 10 21-inch torpedo tubes.

She was the fifth submarine whose loss had been admitted by the admiralty since the European war started. Seahorse, Starfish and Undine had been lost in the vicinity of Germany's Heligoland naval base in the North Sea and Oxley as the result of an accidental explosion.

British United Press

LONDON, April 17 — Following the announced loss of the British U-boat "Thistle" the British press association says that Britain started the war with 57 submarines and Germans with about 71. British sources estimate that about 60 of Germany's original U-boat fleet have been sunk as against Britain's four.

Race For Trondheim Between British, Nazi Forces Is Developing

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 17.—A race for Trondheim between British and German forces is developing as the first stage of land operations in Norway, in the opinion of military observers here.

British forces already in effective control of Narvik, Norway's ore port in the north, are believed to be moving southward while the German army is pushing north from Oslo and Bergen in an attempt to cut the country in two and retain possession of the southern lobe, which contains practically everything of value in the kingdom.

KEY TO OPERATION

Possession of Trondheim, a seaport and railway junction on a long, deep and rocky fjord, is the key to this operation, because whichever side controls it has an immense advantage.

Trondheim at present is in German hands, but the garrison is not big enough to hold out against British troops, so reinforcements are being pushed from the south.

VULNERABLE TO ATTACK

The German garrison is vulnerable to attack by sea despite German possession of the Norwegian forts with big naval guns sweeping all water approaches.

Another reason why Trondheim possesses such strategic value is its airport, which although not so large as that at Stavanger, would be of great value in air operations in both the north and south of Norway. Trondheim is linked to Oslo and Bergen by railway and also to Swedish ports on the Gulf of Bothnia.

Fifty Years In Commons

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, April 17—Fifty years ago today a young Welshman who was destined to rise to the most important political post in Britain took his first seat in the House of Commons.

He was David Lloyd George. He first entered Commons as member for Caernarvon on April 17, 1890. He has been a member continuously for half a century, sitting throughout for that division.

The occasion will not pass without a special tribute to the shrewd little 77-year-old Welshman who was prime minister during the latter half of the first Great War.

A "shilling recognition fund" has been organized, open to admirers of Lloyd George in Britain, the dominions and all over the British Commonwealth. The form which this tribute will take has yet to be decided.

BRITAIN SPENDS BIG SUM DAILY IN DOMINION

British United Press

OTTAWA, April 17—Great Britain is spending about one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in Canada daily for war materials and other supplies.

Government sources disclosed this British expenditure has been maintained as an average since the beginning of the year.

Additionally it is estimated that the total British expenditure from September until the coming September will be about four hundred and forty-five million dollars.

Orders placed with Ottawa through the British Supply Board alone amount to some seventy millions of dollars, with contracts totalling 17 more millions to be awarded shortly.

Canada To Spend $500,000 Boosting Tourist Business

British United Press

OTTAWA, April 17—Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of transport, announces an appropriation of $500,000 for a tourist advertising program in the United States.

"This sum should help to make 1940 the biggest tourist year we have ever enjoyed," said the minister in making the announcement.

RUMANIA PUTS PORTS UNDER NAVY CONTROL

First Step In Intensive Program To Prepare Nation For War

By ROBERT ST. JOHN
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUCHAREST, April 17.—Rumania moved to put her Black Sea and Danube ports under navy rule last night as the first step in an intensive program to prepare the nation against the possibility of war.

With units of the Soviet navy reported at Odessa, and Nazi gunboats said to be ready to dash down the Danube, General Paul Teodorescu, minister of navy and air, introduced a bill in the Rumanian chamber giving the government immediate power to take "extraordinary military measures" in all ports and territorial waters.

At the same time "strategic" factories working for national defence were ordered to build up at once a 15-day emergency supply of gasoline and fuel oil which may not be touched unless there is general mobilization.

In an effort to cut domestic consumption of oil products, the government was reported unofficially to be planning a tax of from 50 to 75 per cent on gasoline sales.

It was expected that use of all private automobiles would be restricted beginning May 1 and all private traffic banned on Sundays.

Germany Gets Lease On Rumanian Timber

BUCHAREST, April 17—The Rumanian senate provisionally accepted today a government bill to give Germany a 30-year lease on almost 100,000 acres of timber—despite testimony of army officers that the lease would jeopardize national defence.

Ionescu Sisesti, minister of agriculture, defended the bill on grounds that it was part of an economic understanding with Germany which greatly benefitted Rumania.

Military experts said the vast forest reserves in central Rumania constituted a natural defence line.

High-ranking officers declared that enactment of the bill would be a great strategical error, allowing Germany to send a large corps of experts and workmen into forests located at "the most vulnerable spot in the country," on the old Rumanian-German border.

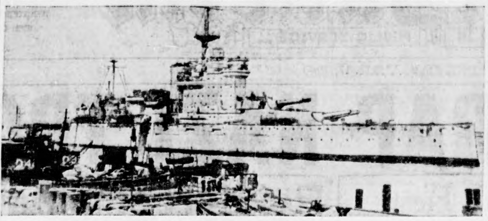
Led British Raid On Narvik



In one of the war's most spectacular naval actions, the 35,000-ton battleship Warspite (above) recently led British warships in a daring attack on the Norwegian Arctic port of Narvik. The Royal Navy, in face of German mines, destroyers and shore batteries, won a smashing victory, sinking seven Nazi destroyers without losing a British ship.

ODLUM PROMOTED MAJOR - GENERAL IN NEW ORDERS

OTTAWA, April 17.—Promotion of Brigadier-General Victor W. Odlum of Vancouver, already designated as commander of the 2nd division, Canadian Active Service Force, to the rank of Major-General, and appointment of Major-General H. F. H. Hertzberg as acting adjutant-general at national defence headquarters, was announced today by the department of national defence.

General Odlum's appointment as inspector-general of the units of the 2nd division also was announced. He will act in that capacity until the division is assembled under his command.

General Hertzberg was quartermaster-general up until his present appointment as acting adjutant-general in which he will serve during the absence of Major-General H. M. Matthews, on sick leave.

Brigadier E. J. C. Schmidlin, director of engineer services, has been appointed acting quartermaster-general while General Hertzberg is serving in the other post.

The new major-general was recently called to Ottawa from civilian life at Vancouver to assume charge of the second division which is now in training at unit headquarters across the country. It is expected the appointments to his headquarters staff and to the command of brigades in the division will be announced shortly.

Mrs. S. Reist Of Wetaskiwin Passes At 69

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

WETASKIWIN, April 17.—Mrs. Sarah Reist, 69, wife of the late Samuel H. Reist, passed away at the Wetaskiwin community hospital Monday after a brief illness. The late Mrs. Reist was born in Palmira, New York state, on July 12, 1870, and came with her parents to Waterloo county, Ont., in her early youth. She was married to Samuel Reist on August 4, 1888. After their marriage they moved to Iowa where they lived for 11 years and then came to Canada in 1901 and settled in the Wetaskiwin district, where she had resided until the time of her death.

She leaves 11 children, 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren, one sister and one brother in Ontario and one brother of Spruce Grove, Alta.

The funeral service, conducted by the Rev. Rowan Binning, will be held Thursday afternoon from the Campbell funeral chapel, with interment in the Wetaskiwin cemetery.

STAR-GAZER IN BOLOGNA WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 17.—Harvard University today awarded a championship—to a star-gazer in Bologna, Italy.

For the third consecutive year, Eppe Loreta, Italian librarian and amateur astronomer, was acclaimed "champion observer of variable stars" among 142 observers in all parts of the world who last year turned in a total of 54,655 observations to the American Association of Variable Star Observers, with headquarters at Harvard.

According to Leon Campbell, Pickering astronomer at Harvard, and recorder for the association, Loreta was responsible for 5,500 observations — made with an eight-inch telescope loaned him by the association.

RIVER CLYDE IS MINED BY NAVY TO GUARD SHIPS

LONDON, April 17—The admiralty announced today that the west coast of Britain in the River Clyde area had been mined.

"All vessels wishing to enter the Clyde must obtain instructions for safe passage from British naval or consular authorities at home or abroad bfeore sailing," it announced.

The mine field, protecting the important Clydeside shipbuilding region, covers an area between the lines joining Dunningham Point, to Craigani and Rhuad Point and to Bennand Head.

Patrols are being established south of the mine fields as a temporary precaution.

Spy Sentenced To Five Years Imprisonment

British United Press

ROTTERDAM, Holland, April 17.—Fifty-year-old Franz Sturm, a naturalized German born in the Netherlands, was sentenced to five years in prison for having photographed Dutch shipping lists for use by German submarines.

Sturm was alleged to have been aided by two pro-Nazi employees of a Dutch department which has access to the shipping lists.

Sturm was charged also with supplying information on Dutch army troop movements to a foreign government and with supplying photographs of lists containing secret information about cargoes and positions of Dutch ships.

Iceland, States Arrange to Start Direct Relations

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Iceland and the United States arranged last night to enter into direct diplomatic relations now that Denmark, sister kingdom of Iceland, has been taken over by Germany.

Hitherto, Iceland's relations with the United States have been conducted through the Danish legation here and through a special trade commissioner in New York.

After the German invasion of Denmark, however, the Icelandic parliament voted to conduct its own foreign policy.

German Jailed On Spy Charge

AMSTERDAM, April 17—A German engineer whose operations are believed to have led to the torpedoing of a number of freighters, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment today on espionage charges. The spy, Herr Sturm, was said to have supplied the Nazis with information regarding the routes and cargoes of Dutch ships.

The British may elect simply to hold Narvik and starve the Germans into surrender or death.

This is what has happened since eight days ago, on Tuesday, April 9. A German occupation force, partly concealed for days in "iron ore" ships in Narvik harbor, aided arriving German warships to capture Narvik, and the Norwegians, misled by their own commanding officers—since arrested—retreated before an inferior force without a fight. I went with them.

A summary of naval and airplane action on this and succeeding days:

April 9—Two Norwegian warships which fired on the Germans and two British merchantmen were sunk by the German warships. One German ship was set afire by shelling and was beached. The Germans landed and possessed Narvik.

April 10—British destroyers attacked. They torpedoed or shelled, and sank, 16 merchant ships in the harbor, to isolate the Germans. One German destroyer was torpedoed and sunk. Two German destroyers were set afire and driven ashore. A British cruiser was sunk.

Three British destroyers were sunk or driven ashore.

April 12—Ten British navy planes bombed the harbor. One Norwegian coast patrol gunboat which the Germans were using to transport troops and material was set afire.

April 13—The British fleet attacked. Two disabled German destroyers which had been towed into harbor were sunk. One German destroyer was torpedoed and sunk in the Rombakfjord. The three remaining German destroyers were driven into the base of the towering Rombak heights. Their crew blew them up. One British destroyer was sunk. One British destroyer was driven aground.

(Rhodes is reporting what he had gathered of naval action. The British admiralty has announced that the battleship Warspite led, as destroyer flotilla into Narvik on April 13. It said seven German destroyers were sunk.)

ELIMINATING MERCHANTMEN

The first British naval attack appears to have been directed chiefly at eliminating all merchantmen, destroying a fort blocking their path, and getting as many German ships as possible while reconnoitering for future action.

Of the original German fleet of five large destroyers one was sunk and two were badly damaged and driven ashore. The evening of April 1 two reinforcing German destroyers slipped through the blockaded entrance of the Lofotenfjord and joined the remaining German warships.

They got their two grounded destroyers free and towed them to the iron ore docks, then laid them in the lee of Narvik hill where those of their guns which were still capable of firing could most effectively bombard the harbor entrance. They tried to repair breaches in the hulls and make them seaworthy, but they didn't have time. The four good destroyers patched their holes and cleared decks for a finish fight, but their munitions and supplies had run low.

Next day the British navy planes came over. They put the little Norwegian patrol ship out of action.

The next day, Saturday, April 13, at 1:25 p.m. came a British destroyer squadron reinforced by two cruisers. (The battleship Warspite also took part, the British had announced in London.) Opening fire from the Lofotenfjord the British quickly sank the two disabled destroyers at the iron ore docks and silenced the remaining guns in the fort.

The four active German destroyers, afraid of being bottled up in the narrow neck of Narvik Bay, ran out into the Herjangenfjord and challenged the British fleet.

SHORT OF AMMUNITION

Running short of ammunition, the four German destroyers ran back up the long, narrow Rombakfjord. The British destroyers raced after them and one was torpedoed and another ran aground.

From then on, after a short pause for positions, the British stood at the mouth of the fjord, blasting at the Germans, and driving them relentlessly toward its dead end.

The Germans turned toward the 4,350 foot mountain at the base of the fjord. The commanders gave the order, "Full steam ahead!" The ships went aground. Their commanders gave the order to abandon ship and the crews made for the shore. The captains ignited the magazines.

FAMED CANADA TROOPS GUARD ROYAL PALACE

Regiment Honored On Second Time Canadians Protect King

By EDWIN JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 17—In a history-making ceremony, a hand-picked detachment of Canada's famed Royal 22nd regiment marched proudly past their king today as they took over guard duties at London's Royal palaces, Buckingam and St. James. They will mount guard for the next four days and then will be relieved by the Toronto Scottish for a similar period.

Wearing battle dress and steel helmets, and their gas masks at the ready, the boys of the Vingt Deuxieme drew the admiration of the crowd as they swung smartly into the palace forecourt headed by the brass band of the Grenadier Guards and the fifes of the Welsh Guards.

MAJESTIES SMILE

As they entered the gates, the King and Queen, smiling broadly, appeared at a balcony. They remained there to witness the novel scene—the second time in history when men from the senior dominion have come to guard His Majesty's person. The last occasion was during the coronation when members of the Canadian contingent took over the guard for 24 hours, along with representatives of the other dominions.

For the first time since Norman days, the guard was changed to deep-throated orders delivered in English and French. The Canadians then went through the impressive changing ceremony, slow marching to a point opposite the old guard — a company of the Welsh Guards — to the strains of "Men of Harlech."

Following presentation of arms, the major of the old guard stepped forward and handed the King's keys to Captain Gerard Charlebois, commander of the Canadians.

OFFICERS RECEIVED

This phase of the ceremony ended. Their Majesties retired into the palace. A few minutes later, Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner in the United Kingdom, Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, general officer commanding the first division, Canadian Active Service Force, and the latter's aide, Lieut.-Colonel A. E. Walford, were ushered into the palace to be received by the King and Queen.

HITLER OBSESSED BY DESIRE SMASH BRITISH EMPIRE

LONDON, April 17. — Hitler's single idea is to break up the British Empire, Sir Neville Henderson, former British ambassador at Berlin, said today.

"If I know Hitler at all," he said at a literary luncheon at Grosvenor House, "and his combination of megalomania and resentment, he has today but one consuming idea—it is not only the defeat of Britain, but the complete disruption of the British Empire as well.

"If we had not gone to war when we did, we would have betrayed our own idealism and European civilization."

Sir Nevile called "profoundly true" a statement of Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax that the real conflict is "between youth and youth."

"The most fanatical of Hitler's supporters," Sir Nevile said, "are to be found among German youth, hypnotized as they have been for the last seven years by Nazi doctrines of politics and racial superiority, taught as they have been to disregard all Christian, moral and intellectual values and submit their souls and bodies to almost idolatrous worship of their leader."

Dick Irvin Will Coach Montreal Canadiens Team

TORONTO, April 17—Dick Irvin, coach of Toronto Maple Leafs, will go to Montreal to coach the Canadiens in the National hockey league, Manager Conny Smythe of the Leafs announced today.

"Dick will occupy somewhat the same position as does Paul Thompson in Chicago," Smythe said. "He will have complete control of the club and its players. Montreal needs a really big man for the job and they've got him."

Sergeant-Major Dies In Blackout

ALDERSHOT, England, April 17—Brother non-commissioned officers formed a firing party today at the grave of Platoon Sergeant-Major M. L. Lawson of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. Sergeant-Major Lawson was killed in blackout manoeuvres when his motorcycle collided with a truck. He leaves a widow, living in Victoria, B.C. He was 30.

British Columbia Oil Well Starts Drilling In May

British United Press

VICTORIA, B.C., April 17—W. J. Asselstine, British Columbia's minister of trade and commerce announces that a government-financed oil drilling operation in the Peace River district of northern B.C.—near the Alberta border—is scheduled to get underway in the first week in May.

Machinery is already in place at Commotion Creek—a point selected by provincial geologists as the most likely place to strike oil.

CONTRACT FOR CANADA BACON IS UNCHANGED

Britain Will Not Require Additional Supply From Dominion

OTTAWA, April 17—The Canadian board, following an exchange of information with British authorities during the past week, announced today that Great Britain will not require any early additional shipments of Canadian bacon to replace supplies cut off by German invasion of Denmark.

"No indication has yet been given that Britain will at any time require greater quantities of bacon from Canada than are provided for in the present contract," said the board in a statement.

Under the bacon agreement entered into with Great Britain early in the war Canada undertook to export to the United Kingdom a maximum of 5,600,000 pounds of bacon and hams weekly.

CAUSED SPECULATION

Germany's occupation of Denmark last week aroused speculation in many quarters that Canada might be called on to make up for Danish bacon supplies normally moving to the United Kingdom.

The bacon board listed the following reasons why movement of Canadian bacon to Britain will not increase:

1—Excessive amounts of bacon are in storage in Great Britain and with the approach of summer weather British authorities regard it as imperative to use up stored products before authorizing increased imports.

2—Production of bacon in Great Britain and Eire continues at higher than expected levels.

SHIPPING SPACE

3—Problems of shipping space present difficulties. Bacon must be handled in refrigerated space and ships so equipped are not numerous and in view of their speed and construction ofter are required for other purposes.

4—It is the apparent intention of the British authorities to restore bacon rationing at an early date and thereby restrict consumption, one purpose being to require civilians to eat home-produced food and thereby conserve foreign exchange.

Analyzing the effect of this situation on the Canadian producer, the board said the present agreement with Great Britain meant the weekly export of the products of about 48,000 Canadian hogs while the Canadian domestic trade consumes the product of about 40,000 hogs weekly.

LONG MISSING WOMAN FLIER TO BE HUNTED

British United Press

HONOLULU, April 17—In the belief that Amelia Earhart, a famous flier, and Fred Noonan her navigator, may be stranded on some South Sea Island, Capt. Irving Johnson will search for them in his schooner Yankee.

The pair vanished in the summer of 1937 while on the last leg of a "round the world flight" and hope for them generally has been abandoned.

Captain Johnson said he will proceed to the Fiji Islands within a week and conduct a thorough search through the Tonga group.

Germans May Be Using Tanks In Oslo District

British United Press

STOCKHOLM, April 17. — There was no confirmation available in Sweden this morning for reports from Berlin that Nazi tank units are now in operation around the German-held city of Oslo.

It was believed possible by Allied experts however that Germany had smuggled tanks into Norwegian ports before the start of the invasion or before Britain mined the Skaggerak and Kattegat to cut off Hitler's communication lines.

Rumanian Army Chief Wounded

BUCHAREST, April 17. — Ion Morusow, chief of the army's counter-espionage department and chief of police of the Royal Palace, was operated on today after suffering a mysterious gun wound in the stomach.

Morusow has been unconscious since he was injured and the cause of the wound has not been ascertained.

Pope Asks For Prayers For Peace

British United Press

VATICAN CITY, April 17.—Pope Pius Twelfth asked for prayers for peace throughout the world in a letter to Luigi, Cardinal Maglione, Papal secretary of state.

The Pope, whose letter was dated April 15, asked for peace prayers in view of war threats menacing non-belligerents.

SUDDEN FLOOD CAUSES GRIEF FOR THORSBY

Cottage Turned About—Women Marooned In Home

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

THORSBY, April 17.—With the melting of the snows, the spring freshets and Weed Creek overflowing its banks, the portion of Thorsby lying to the north was today experiencing the worst flood it has known since 1935.

The roar of the water could be heard as it swept past the livery barn of John Arthur, then towards the theatre of J. N. LaRose. Next in its path was the summer dwelling of Donald Ohrn, who the previous night sensed trouble and removed his belongings to a new location. From there, after twisting the shack to reverse, the water played havoc with the dwellings of Mrs. Hilda Neid, John Coleman and Mrs. Victor Johnson.

ARE MAROONED

Located in a shack north of this were Kathleen Hicks and her sister Dorothy who were marooned but were rescued by Julius B. Olson and Billy Neid who rowed them to shore in the Pigeon Lake community row boat.

The dwelling of M. J. Mealing, principal of the Thorsby school, had three feet of water on the ground floor and grain elevators have had to suspend all operations.

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

LLOYDMINSTER, April 17.—As a result of the spring thaw a flooded condition has arisen at Streamstown, 61 miles northwest of Lloydminster, where the elevator pits are filled with about 10 feet of water.

On Saturday and Sunday due to the extensive heat, water rushed into the town from the high land on the south with such force that the culvert through the road and along the C.P.R. track was unable to carry off all the water. A regular lake formed around the elevators and the flood waters rose to three feet and more in places, necessitating the grain buyers wearing hip boots to reach their offices.

Vic Bystrum, grain buyer for the McCabe Elevator Co., was trapped inside his dwelling place, water rushing into his residence and driving him rrom his bed. His car, which was standing outside, was covered with water over the fenders.

Several Thousand Belgian Soldiers Recalled To Duty

British United Press

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 17.—Several thousand Belgians, who had been released from the army because of age, are being recalled to the colors.

Recently the Belgian government released from the army the oldest of those men called up since the European war started.

All these men were recalled today and detailed to reinforce the interior guard which protects bridges, railroads and other strategically important towns.

Soviet Government Sounds Out Japan On War Intentions

TOKYO, April 17.—The newspaper Chugai Shogyo reported today that the Soviet government summoned the Japanese ambassador at Moscow into conference yesterday in an effort to ascertain to what extent Japan will resist involvement in the war.

The Soviet soundings were presented to the ambassador, the newspaper said, as representations for a general adjustment of Soviet-Japanese relations.

GERMANS ARE THRUST FROM YUGOSLAVIA

"Visitors" Believed To Be Spying Are Cleared From Country

BELGRADE, April 17—The Yugoslav government began today to clear the country of hundreds of German "visitors" suspected of spreading propaganda and spying for the German secret police.

The clean-up was begun in Belgrade, the capital, where thousands of leaflets telling Yugoslavs not to resist Germany had been scattered by Nazi sympathizers from automobiles.

These leaflets, distributed last Thursday just two days after the German invasion of Norway and Denmark, said: "Do not resist Germany if you value your freedom."

STERN MEASURES

Officials said that public opinion urgently demands stern measures to protect the national security as a result of the invasion of Scandinavia.

Twenty Germans arrested immediately after the leaflet barrage were expelled from Yugoslavia, and an order was issued today that all other foreigners still in Belgrade must leave within 10 days, unless they prove that their presence is "a benefit to the Yugoslav government."

EXTENSIVE SEARCH

A house-to-house search was decided upon by police of the cities of Zagreb, Ljubljana and towns even closer to the German border.

Scores of German "strangers" in the key Danube town of Novisad were put under a close serveillance.

Foreigners will be required to leave their passports with police in localities where they are permitted to stay. Special permission must be obtained if they wish to visit other parts of the country.

The Scandinavian crisis brought into the open the government's far-flung campaign against German espionage, which in recent weeks has allegedly expelled 50 Nazi military experts engaged in "prospecting for oil" in the vicinity of strategic points.

SEAMEN'S UNION OFFER REFUSED SULLIVAN SAYS

TORONTO, April 17.—The Canadian Seamen's Union made a new offer to the Dominion government to settle the Great Lakes navigation strike but "the government definitely refused to even communicate this offer to the companies or to request them to meet the men in conference for the purpose of negotiation," J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, union president, said in a statement today.

The statement was issued following a conference between Mr. Sullivan, Arthur Roebuck, union counsel, and J. S. Chapman, union secretary-treasurer, who returned here from Ottawa where they conferred with federal labor department officials concerning the strike, called last Sunday at midnight, and which has tied up the majority of lake boats.

"I am definitely disappointed at the lack of co-operation shown by the government and the employers in our effort to bring about a settlement of the present dispute on the Great Lakes," Mr. Sullivan said.

Mail Seized

HOBOKEN, N.J., April 17—Seizure by British officials of west-bound mail from the Holland-America line's vessel Volendam was reported today by Captain Jan P. Wepster, master of the liner which docked with 428 passengers, 351 of them German-Jewish refugees.

Danish, Norwegian Vessels Streaming Into Canadian Port

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, April 17.—Ships of the Danish and Norwegian merchant marine are streaming into this port from the high seas, their services volunteered to the Allies now that their countries have been beset by the Nazis.

Tens of thousands of tons of shipping from the two Scandinavian countries have entered the shelter of this harbor within the last few days, all without coercion. About a score of ships have put in, many of them diverging from their routes scheduled before the Nazi invasion to toss in their lot with Britain and France.

Though Denmark is under Nazi sway, none of the Danish ships that have reached here up to now are regarded as prizes of war. This question will possibly be decided upon in individual cases, much depending upon the attitude of masters and crews. The half-dozen Danish craft arriving here all came of their own accord.

ALL ANXIOUS TO HELP

The crews of every one of the Scandinavian ships were described as anxious to pitch in and help the Allies. Anti-Nazi feeling was high among them. All want to work for the Allies until their countries have been freed.

The story was told of one Danish ship that headed for this harbor and then halted outside when its captain received two conflicting sets of instructions, one advising him to go into an Allied port and the other to go to the United States.

He finally decided the best thing to do would be to ask the British admiralty. His message to the admiralty was answered with a recommendation that he proceed to this port, as these were his owner's instructions. He did as the admiralty advised.

BEAUTIFUL VESSEL

One Danish ship that came in yesterday evoked admiration along the waterfront. A beautifully-constructed 10,000-tonner, she would be a welcome addition to the merchant fleet of any country in the world.

She and her predecessors and those to follow will be put to good use by the Allies. It is understood all will be operated on behalf of their mother countries, Denmark or Norway as the case may be, in the service of the Allies.

Arrival of these ships in this and other Allied ports follows a London announcement that their masters and crews will be welcomed if they wish to serve under the British or French flag, with their owners being compensated in such a way that no benefit can pass to Germany during the war. And the invitation is bearing early fruit.

DOLLAR COMES UNDER RULING U.S. TREASURY

Canada Money Included In Action Taken To Prevent Losses

OTTAWA, April 17.—Action of the United States treasury yesterday in adopting the British government's "official" valuation of the pound sterling for duty purposes was taken with respect to the Canadian dollar two weeks ago, it was learned from the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

By this measure the United States treasury prevents loss of customs revenue because of valuations placed on imports at a lower rate of dollar valuation than that at which money is quoted in the official market.

The new United States regulations have no effect upon Canadian business or monetary transactions and constitute a purely domestic move to bring customs valuations into line with official value of the Canadian dollar, officials said.

Although United States importers have been required to pay for all Canadian imports in American money since the Exchange Control Board was created last September, they have been able to pass their imports through customs at the open or free market value of the Canadian dollar.

The United States treasury now has moved to prevent the loss of revenue by ruling that imports shall be valued at the official value of Canadian money.

SIMON DENIES SPECULATION BY TREASURY

Chancellor States Care Taken In Requisition Of U.S. Securities

LONDON, April 17.—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, last night denied in the House of Commons that the treasury is speculating in United States securities.

Sir Irving Albery, Conservative, asked the chancellor if in requisitioning British-held dollar securities any method is followed with a view to distributing the burden equitably over the various holders of different securities.

"The primary consideration in choosing which securities should be vested in the treasury is that of the national interest, which requires that they shall be readily marketable abroad," Sir John replied.

J. C. Wilmot, Labor, asked if "it would not be more equitable to requisition all dollar securities and take them by groups on a narrowing, rising market."

"Every care is taken in selecting securities," Sir John replied. "It would not be a good step to requisition the whole of them at one time."

"Does this mean that the treasury is speculating in American securities?" asked Sir Irving.

"No it does not mean that," Sir John replied.

CHAMBERLAIN INTENDING TO STAY AT POST

LONDON, April 17—Prime Minister Chamberlain let the world know yesterday that he feels like sticking to his post for the "duration."

Speaking before the National Free Church council, he said with a wry smile:

"The press continually reminds you and me that I have passed the three score years and ten (he is 71).

"Nevertheless, my eye is undimmed and my natural force unabated.

"I feel encouraged to carry on the task in which I am engaged until our purpose is achieved."

Polish Aviator Brings Down Two Nazi Warplanes

PARIS, April 17.—A Polish flier shot down two German warplanes and dropped to safety in a parachute after his own craft was hit, it was announced yesterday in an official account of a Polish squadron's first action on the western front.

The announcement said the Polish flier attacked a German squadron Monday and accounted for two bombers but was wounded by fire from German pursuit planes and fell to the French lines.

Nazis Shoot Down French Warplane

BRUSSELS, April 17.—A French plane fell in flames yesterday killing one of the crew and injuring two others, after a fight with a German plane near Londlier, near the French border.

BRITISH NAVY OFFSETS NAZI POWER IN AIR

WASHINGTON, April 17. — The chief of United States naval operations set forth yesterday the view of the navy that German air power "has not seriously affected British control of the sea lanes of the world."

Admiral Harold R. Stark, testifying before a senate committee hearing, submitted to the committee a statement setting forth the navy's view on the relative importance of sea and air craft in time of war.

The statement said:

"After seven months of war, in which the immediate major objective has been the reduction of the sea strength of Great Britain, relatively small damage has been done by air attack from German advance bases located 480 to 560 miles from the British fleet bases."

SATIN-GLO IS ON SALE FOR SPRING WORK

"No other expenditure of a small sum of money will give so much pleasure to so many people for such a long period of time as the little required for varnish and enamel to do your spring decorating," says F. W. Kemp, Edmonton manager of the British American Paint Co. Ltd. whose annual Satin-Glo Sale is now featured at the stores of Satin-Glo dealers throughout the province.

It is more than 20 years ago since the manufacturers began the development of their famous Satin-Glo products with the idea of providing varnishes and enamels of the highest quality that the home-decorator would find easy to use and completely satisfactory in durability. Each year this western Canadian firm, through continuous laboratory research and experiment, has worked towards improved standards of paint quality. The Satin-Glo products of today are the highest quality interior finishes that the paint manufacturing industry can produce.

For the finishing of floors, linoleum and furniture, etc., where serviceability is a first consideration, Satin-Glo Enamel is recommended. For wall decoration Satin-Glo Satin Finish is provided. It is a semi-gloss finish in pastel tints that can be washed repeatedly. Satin-Glo Varnish not only stands hard ,every day service underfoot on floor and linoleum but it also withstands boiling water and hot dishes, so that it can be used with equal success for the re-finishing of furniture, table tops, sink drainboards, etc.

All three Satin-Glo interior finishes are [illegible] week at a price reduction of approximately one-third.

A picture that is not without pathos is this one, made at Waterloo station, London, just before the boat train left, bearing Tommies back to France after leave in England. The baby was born while dad was at the front some months ago. He saw his son for the first time when he came on leave. Now, the parting.

BRITISH ARMY RELEASES MEN TO INDUSTRIES

Leaves Being Granted To Soldiers For Varying Time Periods

LONDON, April 17—Some 36,000 men have been returned to industry from the British armed forces since the outbreak of war, Labor Minister Ernest Brown informed the House of Commons last night.

He said 23,000 men have been given indefinite releases and 13,000 temporary releases of varying duration.

Speaking during a debate on the nation's manpower, Mr. Brown said 1,700,000 men had been mobilized for registration or reservation and 300,000 others had volunteered for service in the armed forces.

ESTIMATES SECRET

"We started to comb out the army in September, 1939," the labor minister said.

Mr. Brown disclosed that the government had prepared estimates for the probable manpower requirements for 18 months in advance but could not make these estimates public.

"They have taken the employers and workers in the industries concerned into full confidence. There is greater co-operation than in any previous period in British industrial history.

"In training men we have 14 major government centres and a number of small ones which are at the moment full. There are 7,000 men being trained in them."

During the course of the debate Brigadier-General Sir Henry Pagecroft, Conservative, warned of the vast sums spent by Germany on rearmament and cautioned the members against optimism.

MEASURE OF THREAT

"It is an astounding fact," Sir Henry said, "that the German nation, which came crawling and squealing to the rest of the world, and this country in particular, on the grounds of their poverty in the years prior to the advent of Hitler and afterwards, as shown in Hitler's own declaration have spent no less than £7,500,000,000 (about $33,375,000,000) since he came into power on armaments alone. Surely this is a measure of the tremendous threat we have yet to meet in the days to come."

Ralph Assheton, parliamentary secretary of the Labor ministry, closed the debate with a brief statement emphasizing that the government's "industrial remobilization" program was meeting the nation's needs.

"The government will not fail to use and use vigorously," he said, "all the powers placed in its hands, and will not fail to come back for further powers if it is satisfied that it is best to do this to win the war."

TRAIN BURSTS INTO FLAMES ON LEAVING RAILS

SHERBROOKE, Que., April 17—One man was critically injured yesterday when eight cars and an engine of a fast Canadian National Railways westbound freight jumped the tracks near here and burst into flames following an explosion in a car loaded with gasoline.

The engine, pulling about 35 freight cars on the Portland-Montreal run, left the rails between Dixville and Norton, Vt., about 28 miles from here. Both the engineer, J. Spence of Montreal, and the fireman leaped clear but the fireman, L. A. Omer Lavergne of Montreal, was injured in the jump.

A car, carrying 8,000 gallons of gasoline, exploded as it was thrown from the tracks and the flames quickly spread to other derailed cars, all of which were empty.

Winnipeg Budget Balanced at Tax Rate 36.5 Mills

WINNIPEG, April 17—The 1940 budget for the city of Winnipeg will be balanced and the tax rate—36.5 mills—will be the same as last year.

The budget estimates were adopted at a meeting of the city council with expenditures for the current year estimated at $9,601,454, compared with $10,707,637 in 1939.

Separation Since Birth

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Discovery of a pair of "stereopticon" girl twins so nearly identical after having been separated for 20 years that only an expert can tell them apart, was reported yesterday in the Journal of Heredity, publication of the American Genetic Association.

The girls, identified only as "Lois and Louise," are students at Baylor University, Waco, Texas. Although they were separated eight days after birth, due to the death of their mother, and have lived apart, their smiles, their actions, their voice tones, and even the pitches of their laughs match precisely. Only their palm and finger prints vary, and those only slightly.

Dr. Iva C. Gardner of Baylor and Dr. H. H. Newman of the University of Chicago, who reported their study of the twins, declared that in interviews "when a question was asked, they almost invariably answered in unison, using almost the same words in the same tone of voice."

They were born July 11, 1920, and since July 19 of that year Lois has lived principally in large cities where her foster father worked as a certified public accountant. Louise has lived with the family of her uncle, principally in McGregor, a small town in Texas.

JUDGE RULES CHURCH BELLS ARE NECESSARY

NEW YORK, April 17—Complaining that the 50-year-old bells of St. Sebastian's Catholic church disturbed her morning sumbers, Ruth Baxter, 21, a secretary, tried to have the pastor brought into court yesterday on charges of violating the city's anti-noise ordinance.

Miss Baxter, a Presbyterian, said that when she telephoned her objections to the bells to the pastor, Rev. L. Tuciarone, the priest replied:

"Bells do not annoy people with a clear conscience."

"Church bells are a necessary part of our lives," observed Magistrate William W. Hoppin. He declined to grant a summons.

FINANCE HEAD PRESIDES OVER CABINET MEET

OTTAWA, April 17.—Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of finance, acting as leader of the government in the absence of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, presided over a cabinet council session Tuesday afternoon but there were no announcements when it was over.

It is understood the meeting was occupied chiefly with handling a large volume of orders-in-council having to do with contracts made by the new department of munitions and supply.

Rumors were current in Ottawa that there were large orders pending for war equipment and supplies in Canada for the British and French governments, but officials said there was nothing definite to announce.

Since the war started orders in Canada for supplies and equipment, much of it for the British government, and expenditures on construction for war purposes, have amounted to about $150,000,000.

ARMY & NAVY DEPARTMENT MANAGERS' SALE!

ENTIRE STOCK TURNED OVER TO DEPARTMENT MANAGERS FOR INCREASED BUSINESS

Folks, here it is! The greatest bargain festival Edmonton will ever witness. It's our great DEPARTMENT MANAGERS' SALE and we've been "cooking it up" for months. Over a quarter-million dollar stock turned over to department managers' for 9 days—it's up to them! They've received wide open instructions to sell merchandise at their own prices—each and every one is his own boss. Our only specification is that they must increase their turnover. It must be doubled, quadrupled. It's up to them and the sky is the limit. Their promotions depend on the results, and we firmly believe that they will give EDMONTON AND DISTRICT BARGAINS THAT WILL ASTOUND THE SKEPTICAL. Every manager is well known in the city and an experienced merchandiser. If country customers are unable to get into the city for the opening of this sale owing to poor road conditions, they are reminded that the great specials will be on sale for 9 DAYS.

DOORS OPEN AT 9 A.M. THURSDAY!

L. GHITTER, Mgr. Men's Wear — They're genuine values, folks. Come or you'll regret it.

W. FORTIER, Mgr. Men's Clothing—Never before, have I been able to recommend such savings.

ASTONISHING REDUCTIONS in all DEPARTMENTS

If you value money you'll join the huge crowds that will buy in every department at this greatest of all A. & N. Sale events. We are preparing to serve more customers than ever before during this MIGHTY ONCE-A-YEAR SALE—and we will because we have given the managers a free hand with prices and believe us when we tell you that they have gone right down to the core to reach lower prices. "THE STORE IS OURS," cry the department managers and these eager, sales-seeking business men and women "will go to town" starting Thursday morning. Read over every item in this "ad"—and remember there are hundreds and hundreds of "red hot bargains" not advertised—waiting for you on our counters. Every item is backed by our money-back guarantee. Every need for home, farm and personal requirements. Don't let anything keep you away from the BIG ARMY & NAVY STORE. Plan to bring the whole family with you—outfit them all at prices that will amaze you. But do come early. Three big floors of daring values.

STARTS THURSDAY—APRIL 18 . . . 9 DAYS

"We Will Never Be Undersold"

ARMY & NAVY Lowest Price GUARANTEE!

We, the merchandise managers of the Army & Navy Department Store Ltd., have personally inspected the merchandise listed in this ad, and have found every item to be exactly as advertised. We have checked like merchandise in other stores and—on our honor—feel that we can recommend every item better value than you will be able to find in many other stores in the Province.

Making Canadian Homes Better

March figures show that Home Improvement loans continue to grow in popularity, that the reconstruction operations thus made possible are steadily gaining volume, with corresponding benefits to building and supply industries of all kinds.

Loans made during March totalled $569,305, approximately $100,000 more than the amount for February, and 10 per cent more than for March of last year. The total of loans taken out last year the Dominion over was $14,500,000, and each month of 1940 has shown a healthy increase over the corresponding month a year before.

Alberta stood fourth among the provinces in loans made during March, and third in the total of loans made up to the end of that month. Since November, 1936, Albertans have borrowed under this scheme $3,236,185.

In loans taken out up to the end of February in cities of 40,000 population or over in all parts of Canada, Edmonton comes fourth on the list; only Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg ranking higher. Vancouver comes fifth, the others not being seriously in the running. Edmonton's total up to that date was $1,219,295. If not enough new houses are being built in this steadily growing city, at least the old ones are being fixed up.

On the Norwegian Front?

It will not be at all surprising if unofficial reports prove to be true that detachments of Canada's First Division are in Norway; nor if the entire force is sent there. The Canadians have been rated as among the best-trained troops still remaining in England. Troops being needed in Norway, immediately and urgently, they were in line for selection for service there.

Coming from a country of mountains, lakes and forests, the Canadians would be more at home in the rugged Norwegian terrain than men who have spent their lives in England. That their native resourcefulness, largely the product of Canadian conditions, would be of advantage in the circumstances cannot be doubted.

Norway is at present the main theatre of fighting. It is also a theatre in which events shape the whole future course of the war. The Scandinavian drive was a major enemy offensive, not a mere sideplay. The German high command thought it worth while to risk destruction of the whole Nazi navy and loss of a powerful expeditionary force in an attempt to secure possession of Norway and make it a base for air and submarine attacks on Britain and Allied shipping.

It is a mark of distinction if Canadians are among the troops chosen to oust the invaders from Norwegian soil. If the enemy is beaten there and beaten decisively there will be reactions many and far-reaching. The task of smashing his offensive would only be entrusted to troops in whom the utmost reliance could be placed.

Rumania Learns From Norway

At least one neutral country has gained courage from the fact that Allied aid was promptly and effectively given to Norway when it was attacked. Rumania has dared to place an embargo on the export of wheat, oil, wood, coal and other commodities which its people require; and to also say it will itself attend to the policing of the Danube river in Rumanian territory.

While the embargo apparently forbids exports to all countries, it amounts to a flat refusal of Berlin's demand that Rumania deliver oil and wheat to the Reich. The declaration about the policing of the river is likewise a direct rebuff to the threat that Nazi patrol boats would be sent down the Danube—ostensibly to prevent "British sabotage," but really to impress the Rumanian authorities with the wisdom of sending along the supplies demanded.

In only one foreign quarter will these measures be resented. The self-appointed overlords at Berlin will see in them an impudent refusal to obey orders. Elsewhere such refusals have been answered by instant attack. Rumania has every reason to expect the response will be the same in its case. It has only escaped so long by diplomatic finesse, for on one ground or another it has postponed obeying the delivery orders for months. It has now stopped side-stepping and boldly asserted its right to control its own trade, and to police its own river.

For this sudden stiffening on the Rumanian front there is only one explanation. Rumania understands from what happened in Norway that it can count on Allied backing, in terms of men and munitions and warships, if it is assailed. Other neutral countries, weary of living under the Nazi threat, should also gather courage to tell Adolf to mind his own business.

$86,000 the Total Cost

The Bulletin, it appears, was in error in stating that it would be necessary to construct an additional sedimentation basin as part of the proposed water-softening plant for Edmonton. A new basin, it is explained, will have to be constructed in any case, as the present settling areas are taxed to capacity.

This is an important point because it reduces the cost of the softening plant to $86,000, the cost of the new basin being inevitable whether or not the plant is installed. This is therefore the whole amount by which water rates would be affected by putting in the softening facilities. The proposal is correspondingly more favorable from the consumer's point of view; and council would be even more warranted than was stated in going ahead with the project.

Ex-Premier Bennett is credited with saying he has met Mackenzie King and Adolf Hitler and "one of them is a great man." He no doubt meant Mr. King. Mr. Bennett is not the man to suggest that he was beaten by a second or third rater.

German readers are informed that Nazi forces in Norway "liberated themselves from encirclement in the North Sea and advanced to bases lying on the open Atlantic." There is no doubt about the advances, but the soldiers and sailors penned up in Norwegian ports would have some interesting comments to make on their present freedom from "encirclement."

The strike that has tied up vessels on the Great Lakes just at the opening of navigation is an event of peculiar national importance at this juncture. A bad feature is that the strike was seemingly called in defiance of the law which forbids such action until means of conciliation have been tried. That aspect of the affair should be included in the official investigation which will be made as a matter of course.

Fifty Years Ago

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

The controversy over the new tariff changes is now at full heat, with eastern interests in sharp protest against the reports that the United States will gain better advantages here. Even the maritime provinces, which at first were in favor of general tariff revision, seem now to have changed their mind.

Forty Years Ago

Asquith and Robert Cecil spoke on the South African war at two important meetings in London. Both stressed the need of having the empire disabuse the minds of neutral peoples that the empire was interested in imperialist adventures. Asquith said the origins and significance of the war had been lost in a haze of perverse propaganda, excited by partisan critics.

Thirty Years Ago

Washington: The Republican party has named a special committee to investigate the encroachments by state and federal authorities upon the sphere of private business.

Ottawa: The government has announced that a new rate will be proclaimed soon on maritime shipments, and that the cost of transportation in general will be reviewed by a parliamentary committee.

Twenty Years Ago

New York: Elihu Root, the famous lawyer, said the United States will never be able to recover its moral prestige if it turns its back now upon the attempts to organize a durable peace for the world. He said the United States took the initiative in laying down certain broad principles of international conduct, and now it is ready to dishonor and repudiate the most solemn and important engagements into which any self-respecting people can enter.

Ten Years Ago

LONDON.—Across India's 100-miles breadth there is riot and street fighting. From Calcutta stones and bullets flew as mobs battled police. One follower of Gandhi was killed.

The Provincial Government has approved the issue of permits of two years' duration to the tar sands development interests represented by W. P. Hinton, former vice-president of the G.T.P., and Max W. Ball of Denver.

Hon. George Hoadley announced that the Provincial Government will not encourage immigration into Alberta under present conditions.

The Government of Alberta will issue $2,900,000 worth of bonds of May 1. The bonds to run for 30 years and bear interest at 4½ per cent.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Thirteen men sat down to dinner the other night to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the United States Patent Office. True to the slogan, "We stand behind our patents," everything on the table and in the glasses was a patented food or beverage.

HELPS ONE TO SEE SNAKES

One of the cocktails served was a snake-bite antidote patented in 1888 by Joshua T. Smith of Coffee County, Georgia. There's nothing of coffee about Joshua except the name of his county. If any of the esteemed cash customers of this column would like to make a jorum of Joshua's snakebite remedy in readiness for next Christmas, here is the formula.

One quart of alcohol
Two ounces of gall of earth (Nabulus fraseri)
One ounce rattlesnake weed (Hieracium venosum)
¼ ounce of alum
32 drops of iodine

Dose: One wineglassful every hour till the pain ceases (or the patient).

The snake antidote was poured from a round decanter, round which a snake was curled, the oil of joy proceeding out of its mouth.

So tough are these patent office officials that at last despatch all 13 of them were still living. Joshua's snakebite medicine deserves publicity after that test.

There's one valuable idea, well worth patenting, that Germany delivered free to Britain. That's the self-sealing, puncture-proof airplane fuel tank. The fuel tank has been one of the most vulnerable parts of a fighting plane. One bullet hole through it, and the priceless fuel would run out, creating fire risk as well as fuel loss.

BULLETPROOF FUEL TANKS

In the first few attacks made by German planes last fall on the east coast of Britain, a bomber was brought down in Scotland. Its gas tank had been pierced by over 30 bullets. But that wasn't what brought the plane down. A bullet had killed the pilot.

Forty-eight hours after the plane was brought down, the tank still contained 80 gallons of fuel. Examination showed that the tank was constructed of a thin fibre case, braced with ribs and surrounted inside with several layers of crude rubber and duckskin.

When the wall of the tank was punctured the crude rubber and duckskin swelled and closed the bullet holes.

Now all British and French planes, wherever practicable, have been equipped with self-sealing tanks—some of them specially designed coverings for the metal tanks. Planes being built in Canada and United States for the Allies are equipped with self-sealing tanks. The modifications required took some time to carry out. This explains in part the relatively small aerial operations of the Allies in the first few months of the war. Some German inventor deserves a reward from the Allies.

* * *

I've been reading reports from "the tribunals for conscientious objectors" set up in Britain for the trifling minority of youth—3½ out of each 1000—who felt a desire to stay at home and keep the home fires burning while others fight. It must call for more courage to face a "conchy" tribunal than to face the Siegfrid line.

EXCUSES OF THE "CONCHYS"

"Would you stand by and let invading Germans kill your mothers?" a farm hand was asked.

"Definitely," he replied, and was sent to do farm work.

A bank clerk, who will probably rise to be a great financier, told the court he would have left the victims of the submarine Thetis to their fate "because they were trying to prepare a worse death for others."

A saxophonist—a heartless tribe at best—said he believed that if the Germans were to invade England "they should be allowed to conquer us," objected to even drive an ambulance, dig air-raid shelters or entertain soldiers. He was bettered by a young carpenter who said instead of fighting the Nazis, he would invite Hitler over to England "as a friend."

• Movie-goers may recall the young red-headed actor who played the part of the heroic young Highland drummer in the film, "The Drums." He was an applicant for exemption as a "conchy," saying he thought all killing was wrong and that helping the army in any way whatever was equally wrong.

The only case that had a ring of sincerity was that of a young tenor in a church choir. His clergyman spoke on his behalf. "What is there about his life that makes you think he is a sincere Christian pacifist," the witness was asked.

The clergyman made answer: "Well, he lives with his mother-in-law."

One honest man said: "It is not a matter of conscience with me. I am an egoist. I refuse to be chased round in answer to a bugle."

The remaining 996½ youths in every 1000 went willingly at the call of duty, so Britain isn't as lacking in spunk as the small minority of "conchys" and slackers may make it appear.

By FRED WILLIAMS

Just a century ago today the first Brock monument on Queenston Heights was destroyed by an explosion. Undoubtedly the work of some of the so-called "patriots" who had fled from upper Canada after the rebellion, no one has been able to actually pin the outrage down to any one individual. For a long time the "credit" was given to Benjamin Lett, who had been engaged in many attacks upon Canadian people and property; but there is now some doubt as to his having actually perpetrated the crime, although he may have had a share in it. Some time after the incident the Christian Guardian, of Toronto, stated that the deed had been committed by one Jacob H. DeWitt and a man named Wheeler. Lett was undoubtedly associated with DeWitt in other outrages on the frontier, especially at Chippawa, and boasted in a Buffalo saloon that it was he who destroyed the monument. This was after his escape from Auburn prison to which he had been sentenced for seven years on another charge arising out of his "war" on Canada. He was re-arrested at Buffalo and served four years, then moving to Illinois and finally dying at Milwaukee in 1856, with a burdened conscience, as his tombstone shows.

Today we seek a moral basis for peace. It cannot be a real peace if it fails to recognize brotherhood.—President Roosevelt.

Strangling Hitler

The setting up of a Government financed and controlled trading corporation by Britain to trade in the Balkan countries is another important step in cutting off supplies for the Reich. The Balkans have long been a chief German trade area from which they drew supplies and to which they sold manufactured goods. Since the present German Government got in control that trading has been carried on by the totalitarian method, that is to say, the State has controlled it and directed it.

The new British corporation will operate in much the same way, excepting that it will cooperate with existing trading concerns instead of taking them over. It will sell in the Balkans at lower prices than the Germans can hope to do and thereby cut down Nazi means of payment. And it will buy Balkan goods at a higher price than the Reich can pay and thereby cut down the quantity of supplies Germany can obtain.

It is, of course, expensive, but Britain can afford it better than Germany because the rest of Britain's trade is not seriously disturbed and its raw materials are unlimited. It means a prosperous time in the Balkans, although accompanied by great risks. Driven to desperation by competiton, it may cause Hitler to try to blitzkrieg to the south, although that is unlikely, for his desire to avoid fighting on more than one front has not diminished.

Setting up this corporation is another move by Britain towards a State-managed economy under the necessity of war.—Saskatoon Star-Phoenix.

Steady, Now!

After seven months of suspended warfare—save for isolated clashes and trials of strength and heroism in the air and on the sea—the Great War has opened with spectacular suddenness; and henceforth on a wide range and with violence to the limit, the great powers will apply everything they have or can obtain to the purpose of mutual destruction. It is a terrifying situation, definitely proclaiming the bankruptcy of modern civilization; but there is nothing to do about it except to accept it and face up to the consequences.

This long overture to the actual tragedy of war has been no doubt, of enormous value to the Allied powers in a technical sense.

That the Nazi high command did not attempt the long-promised blitzkrieg at the opening of the war was perhaps due both to moral and material unreadiness; but the delay has certainly been of much greater advantage to the Allies than to the enemy. Sir Edmund Ironside's statement the other day was made with deliberation and may be accepted as an accurate statement of fact as seen by the Allied command. The abandonment by the Nazis of the "White War" may well have been due to internal pressure that made further stalling impossible.

It is not so certain that the delay has added to the public understanding as to what war means and what it involves. The bracing of wills to meet the shock of possible disaster which marked the opening of the war may well have lost some of its fibre in these months of waiting. The public needs to acquire as rapidly as possible a war mentality and a philosophical attiture towards possibilities and actualities that will serve as a defence against the shocks and sensations of war on the modern scale. The general Canadian attitude towards this war, while completely satisfactory so far as acceptance of the inevitability and of the necessity of meeting it is concerned, is somewhat too casual and too unregarding as to all that it means.

The older generation, which bore with restraint and dignity the long drawn-out test of the former war, will doubtless give anew an admirable example of fortitude and patience; and will set the standards of public conduct. War means continual tension spreading over weeks, months and perhaps years, and people need to prepare defence mechanisms if they are to carry the strain. It must be fitted into our daily routine and its events taken as part of the human experiences that life calls upon us to bear. There will be events inviting both moods of the highest exaltation and the deepest depression; because there are in war items on both sides of the ledger and sometimes it takes years to balance the account. It is therefore the part of wisdom to bear good news with equanimity and bad news with fortitude, maintaining a high courage through both good and evil report that will keep citizen morale steady and strong, whatever the current situation.—Winnipeg Free Press.

DEATH TO A SERMON STORY

Doubtless there has never been a preacher who has not used the Dead Sea as an illustration of the life that receives, but does not give. Now that favorite story is as dead as the Salt Sea itself was long supposed to be.

For science has discovered that, suspended in the waters, is greater wealth than in all the world besides. I have gone over the great works that are extracting the salts, and shipping them, at high profit, to the ends of the earth. We passed trucks bearings bags of potash labelled "Kobe" and "Brisbane."

It is true that the Dead Sea is now a reservoir for all the potash that the British Empire can ever need for munitions-making; but it is also true that the greater output is for products of peace. And in potassium sodium the scientists think they have found a remedy for many of humanity's dread ills.

Perhaps a greater illustration for the preacher is the news that in many conditions and lives once thought hopeless, there may be found, by those who know how to seek, immeasureable riches.

We would be explorers of Thy stored up resources, O God, in fields and lives abandoned as dead. Amen.

Read Mark 5:1-20.

Your Health

– By Dr. Frank McCoy

As far back as 1856 it was discovered that there was an electric current present when a frog's heart beat. That there was likewise present in man an electric current when the heart beat, was discovered by 1887. By 1903 an accurate string galvanometer had been worked out which was capable of recording the changes of electric potential occurring during the heart beat. An instrument which photographs the vibrations of a string galvanometer is called an electrocardiograph, and is one of the most valuable of all diagnostic aids at the disposal of the physician who is studying the heart.

The electrocardiograph is an extremely sensitive instrument for measuring galvanic electricity and is based on the principle long ago discovered with the frog—that whenever the heart muscle moves, this creates a small charge of electricity.

You may gain a good idea of the delicacy of this instrument when you know that part of it is a thread of spun glass, covered with a thin gold covering, the thread being so fine that it is about as heavy as a strand from a spider's web.

The thread is so lighted as to throw a shadow on a screen. As the charge of electricity is created by the muscle, the shadow of the thread moves across the screen in such a way as to form a series of waves or jerks. A picture is made of these waves and they are thus recorded.

The series of waves created by a normal heart is much different from those created by a diseased heart.

Usually, three separate records are made, one covering the top half of the heart, one covering the right side and one covering the left side. In this manner it is possible to gain information about the different parts of the heart.

A correct interpretation of these records can only be given by a physician experienced in this work, who understand what any given variation from the normal means.

The record made by this machine is called an electrocardiogram, and represents a photographic record of the heart's action.

There has been considerable discussion as to whether the instrument pictures the passage of the contraction of a muscle, or pictures the excitation wave which stimulates it to contract. Regardless of which it pictures, if offers an accurate knowledge of the heart's action. Probably the time will come when the electrocardiograph will be used in the diagnosis of almost every case of suspected heart trouble.

The electrocardiograph often allows the physician to give the patient the good news that the heart is sound. Perhaps the patient has noticed the heart action is a little irregular and he comes to be examined, with a great fear of heart disease hovering over him. When the electrocardiogram shows the heart is healthy, the patient goes home cured of the fear of heart trouble.

Failure to look ahead is the main cause of trouble in contract bidding. I want to point out in today's hand the number of chances there are to go wrong in the bidding.

South holds five hearts and four spades, and many players will make the mistake of bidding one heart. A bid of two diamonds from partner must be anticipated, because of the singleton. Then South would have to bid two spades, which is reversing the bidding and shows too much strength. Therefore, South should open the bidding with one spade.

Some players are imbued with the idea that, holding a king and one of a tenace, they must bid no trump. Therefore, with the North hand, they would make the mistake of bidding two no trump. Now south bids three hearts, and what is the next bid going to be? Four clubs is too high. If North bids three no trump, partner may rebid hearts or spades.

South should open the bidding with one spade. North two clubs, then when South bids two hearts, North can bid two no trump. Now South has a good picture of his partner's hand. He knows that North cannot support hearts or spades, that he has a club suit, which means that he also has some diamonds. South can therefore safely go to three no trump.

New Hand: "How long have you been working here?"

Old Hand: "Since they threatened me with the sack."

The captain of a barque had two boys employed on board. As they had been with him for quite a long time he decided to do something in the way of promotion for the one who seemed the more intelligent.

He called the boy up for an examination in nautical matters.

"Where's the mizzen-mast?" he asked.

"Dunno," said the youth. "How long has it been mizzen?"

Having lost her husband, an old lady gave instructions for the wording on the tombstone, the wording to be "Rest in Peace."

In the meantime, her late husband's will disclosed the fact that she had been treated rather badly. She immediately hurried to the mason and told him to omit the words "Rest in Peace".

"I'm sorry," he replied, "but they have already been carved."

"Very well," rejoined the old lady. "Just add, 'Until we meet again.'"

Policeman: "Excuse me, sir, but if you're the 'pale faced gentleman who looks like a lop-eared rabbit', I was to tell you that your wife has gone home on the 5:30 bus."

GOLDFIELDS

J. ROBB STAKES MANY CLAIMS MOLYBDENUM

"Scotty" John Robb, prospector who announced a molybdenum discovery in the vicinity of Tazin Lake, N.W.T., about a week ago, returned to Goldfields Monday after staking ground covering the find. Assays from samples taken are now being run at the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. assay office. Returns of an assay report from Edmonton on samples previously indicate the samples to carry 4.22 molybdenum. According to local estimates this places the value of the ores at roughly $40 per ton.

A body of such ore will prove interesting and attractive when it is considered that C.M. and S. are mining and milling gold ore here at a value of $2.40 per ton as announced by James Buchanan, company official, last August.

Molybdenum is an essential alloy used in the hardening and toughening of steel and other metals. Known deposits of commercial importance are few. A Colorado deposit bearing three-quarters of 1 per cent. is being profitably operated, according to L. E. Drummond, secretary-manager, Alberta and North-West Chamber of Mines, Edmonton.

Mr. Drummond estimated that an orebody on Lake Athabaska carrying one and one-half per cent. molybdenum could be profitably worked.

Molybdenum is also used extensively in the manufacture of armaments and munitions. It is most useful for high speed tools, structural and engine parts of airplanes, automobiles, ships and machinery.

LLOYDMINSTER

TOWN HALL CLUB AT LLOYDMINSTER REVIEWS SEASON

The Lloydminster Town Hall club met for the final meeting of the present club year at the week-end.

President W. R. N. Bair, outlining the progress the club has made during its first year, stated that a good foundation had been provided for future educational and recreational pursuits. Debates, an open forum, choral study, an introduction to dramatics, and an introduction to the study of international affairs were among the educational activities attempted. Addresses had been delivered to the club by J. A. McLean, T. Rackham, Prof. Gordon, of the University of Saskatchewan, and R. Delelende.

Membership of the club is 46. A reorganization committee made up of E. King, T. Rackham, R. Ballard and Thelma Sellers was named to arrange the first meeting of the next season of the club. The meeting decided to make a donation of $14 from its surplus funds to the public library. Archie Miller was present as a guest of the club. The president made a presentation to him in appreciation of his services as M.C. of the skating club.

Annual meeting and banquet of the Lloydminster Ladies' Curling Club was held in the Royal Cafe with 18 members present. Reports of a successful year's activities were presented by the various committees.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: president, Mrs. Gordon King; first vice-president, Mrs. C. Coombes; secretary treasurer, Mrs. F. Squires; membership committee, Mrs. McKenna and Mrs. Mills; draw committee, Mrs. G. L. Cooke and Mrs. W. Evered; entertainment committee, Mrs. A. McBride and Mrs. C. Coombes. Following the business, the evening was spent in bridge, the honors going to Mrs. Evered, Mrs. G. L. Cooke and Mrs. Noyes.

HALKIRK

The Apremont sports club presented a most laughable farce comedy, "Aunt Bessie Beats the Band," in the community hall, Halkirk on Friday evening. The players were Georgette Thibault, Anne Thibault, Cecile Cordel, Stella Haeberle, Arthur Shannon, Gerald Wiltse, Charles Fetaz and Robert Kneeland.

Those contributing to the intermission were Beverley McKinnon, Shirley-Anne Hamilton and Arthur Shannon.

ANDREW

G. T. Loney, in charge of the Alberta Lumber Company's business here since the coming of steel in 1928, was transferred to Viking last week. He was an ardent worker on the executives of the Board of Trade and many athletic organizations. Last year he was vice-president of the former and president of the baseball and curling clubs. Mrs. Loney and family will remain in town till about the end of the month.

WASKATENAU

Fire broke out in the basement of the Waskatenau United Church around 8:30 p.m. Monday but was quickly quelled by an efficient water brigade. The Rebekahs were holding lodge in the upper story of the church when they noticed smoke coming through the floor.

GLENDON

A number of friends of Mrs. Johanna Nelson gave her a surprise party on Monday afternoon on the occasion of her 78th birthday. On behalf of the gathering Mrs. Henry Skramstad made a presentation of a work basket and some dress goods.

GOLDFIELDS

ASSESSMENTS AT GOLDFIELDS ARE ADJUSTED

Art Haynes of Prince Albert spent the recent week-end in the mining camp on assessment adjustments for the village of Goldfields and the Goldfields school district.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., Box Property buildings and Athona Mines 1937 Ltd., secured slight reduction in assessments. There were a few adjustments made in the village as well.

For some time the village and school district have had difficulties in collecting taxes and the village has experienced difficulty in collecting payments due on lots sold to residents since the village was incorporated in August 1937. Recently the Saskatchewan legislature put through an amendment to the Village Act, affecting Goldfields only, which makes it possible to collect outstanding payments as they fall due or take back the property.

Previously the only way for the village to regain the lots was to return to the purchasers the amount already paid, as the lots sold for $250 and less. At the present time the village has approximately $13,000 outstanding.

FAUST

CAT TO NURSE YOUNG FOXES GETS BIG FEE

Miss Dorthy Patterson and her friends are wondering if a new industry is in the offing, when last week she was given a surprising sum for merely the use of her Persian mother cat to nurse some deserted newly-born fox puppies.

Canvassing the town for a cat with a very young litter of kittens which will usually nurse baby foxes without hesitation, N. A. Frood, fur farmer here, found his requirements in the cat belonging to Miss Dorthy.

The same problem arises somewhere among the fox farms every spring, when a "wet nurse" is urgently needed to save the lives of some unfortunate young foxes. The value of one or more foxes thus saved is such that a rent fee for a mother cat is trivial in comparison.

BASHAW

Funeral Is Held For Peter Buss, Early Settler

Last rites for Peter Buss, 77, who passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Steve Rinske, was held Friday at the German Lutheran church. Rev. A. Wolfram conducted the services.

Mr. Buss was born in Poland in 1863 and came to Canada to reside at Leduc in 1901, where he homesteaded for 32 years. For the past seven years he has resided with his daughter, Mrs. Steve Rinske, of Bashaw.

He leaves his wife, five sons, Gotlieb, Mike, Julius, Peter, William; and six daughters, Pauline, Albertina, Kathleen, Emma, Rouse, Tillie; also 52 grandchildren.

Work on the land this spring will be late owing to the heavy snow during the end of March and first part of April. This time last year work in the field was well advanced but farmers don't expect to start for another two weeks at the least.

Winners of the final men's and women's bridge tournament have been announced. They are as follows: Men's tournament: 1, J. G. Pearson and I. Nugent; 2, A. Hosegood and N. J. Holt; 3, S. E. Pearson and G. Gardner; 4, H. H. Schultz and L. Read; 5, R. Miller and W. Breum; 6, W. Resler and R. Resler.

Ladies' tournament: 1, Mrs. R. Whitney and Mrs. G. Ennes; 2, Mrs. G. McDonell and Miss J. Gardner; 3, Mrs. J. G. Pearson and Mrs. J. H. Pearson; 4, Mrs. J. Wolch and Mrs. G. Noble.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE

A U.F.A. local was organized in the Arbutus district Saturday when about 30 farmers attended a meeting. Arthur Phillips was elected president and D. Cunningham secretary-treasurer. While planning to interest themselves in everything pertaining to the betterment of farming and social conditions in the community, the first efforts of the new local will be directed in a campaign against the warble fly and bot fly, which are a serious menace to local farmers. The local will enlist co-operation of adjoining communities. District Agriculturist F. H. Newcombe, Red Deer, was present and addressed the meeting. A special meeting will be held shortly to make plans for summer activities.

INNISFAIL

So great has been the snowfall, and so rapid has been the thaw that two large sloughs south and east of town burst their banks this afternoon. Although splendidly drained, local culverts proved inadequate and rivers of water flowed across the streets in the eastern section of town. Ted Hutton's store has two feet of water in it, Dr. Green's residence and office and the Baptist church floor had a depth of six inches. Streets were torn up by the flood waters.

Charles Griffith, who has been assistant at the local C.P.R. station for practically the last 25 years celebrated his fortieth year in Innisfail on Monday. Mr. Griffith is a much respected citizen and as a ratepayer takes an active part in school, muunicipal and hospital affairs of this town.

The Scandinavian Kings Europe's Good "Fellows"

Haakon VII

IT was Norway's King Haakon VII, brother of King Christian, who said to a diplomat:

"Your president is King for four years, while I am a very constitutional president for life."

That statement accurately reflects the rule of this popular monarch who ascended to the Norwegian throne in 1905 together with Queen Maud. Queen Maud died in 1938.

Haakon is in many respects the most statemanlike of the Scandinavian rulers patching up old quarrels between Norway and Sweden, keeping his country neutral during the first World War, trying to steer a democratic course in a Europe deluged by fascism, and finally engulfed in a second world war.

Haakon had a large hand in the changing economic life of Norway, encouraging greater industralization, the extension of co-operatives. When the war started Norway was one of the most stable states in Europe for its size.

Haakon is a thoroughgoing sailor, served a long apprenticeship in the Danish navy. Greatest disappointment of his navy days was that he could never learn to chew tobacco like a tar.

Christian X

Gustaf V

DENMARK'S democratic King Christian X probably will not stroll without guards again in the streets of the picturesque Copenhagen.

That has been Christian's habit, mixing with his poorest subjects as he ambled about the capital.

Six and one-half feet, a broad-shouldered erect figure at 70, Christian is a familiar sight to his people. He is the tallest monarch. On assuming the throne just 28 years ago at the death of his father he sent a brief message to the people, saying, "I hope you will show me the same confidence and respect as you gave him."

Denmark did precisely that.

Christian's road has been difficult since his accession. His crowing achievement came in 1920 when, mounted on a white horse, he rode across the frontier into Schleswig, which had been returned to Denmark after 56 years under German rule.

Since then he had guided Denmark through depression, and worked to counter increasing Nazi pressure.

On his 81st birthday he was decorated for bravery by the French government for his active work in the rescue of a French steamer wrecked off the coast of Greenland.

KING GUSTAV V of Sweden faces war on his doorstep as he nears 82. The popular Swedish ruler is the oldest monarch in Europe—and among the most active.

Ascending the throne on Dec. 8, 1907, on the death of his father, Gustaf canceled the elaborate ceremonies saying "the money can be spent more usefully elsewhere."

That attitude has been the key to his policies ever since.

Two things have made Gustaf especially popular, his ability to keep Norway out of the first World War and his drive for a new and and stronger Scandinavia.

When the war broke out in 1914 Gustaf immediately declared Sweden would be netural and he brought about the historic meeting at Malma of the three Scandinavian monarchs.

Caught between the allies and Germany, he has striven desperately to keep Sweden neutral again.

Doctors call Gustaf the "miracle" king. Nearing 82, he is a remarkable specimen of health, engages in many athletic activities.

His favorite sport is tennis. He is the only athlete of royal blood ever to hold a national championship.

BAWLF

With the closing of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, the Bawlf students, Miss Amy Kvale, Miss Doris Luger and her brother, Carl Luger are home again. Carl Luger won the coveted Vermilion Board of Trade scholarship of $25 for the boy having the highest standing in the practical subjects of the year. Mr. Luger has the highest standing in blacksmithing.

The Likeness young people sponscored a home-talent comedy sketch "For Pete's Sake" at the Oak Park schoolhouse. Those taking part were: Mrs. Emmerson Holte, Miss Ellen Peterson, Miss Isabel Noulette, Miss Evelyn Cross, Miss Edna Aker, Miss Carolyn Mrakota, Martin and Sammy Olson, Gordon Dahlson, Ray and Ed. Aker, and Joe Noulette.

CASTOR

In spite of the bad weather and nearly impassable roads a large crowd of neighbors invaded the peaceful home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ries, Monday evening, to remind them that they had been married 25 years. The invaders left a beautiful silver set. The affair was planned by Mrs. C. F. Pals and the presentation was made by Jack Williams.

DAYSLAND

Daysland High School Dramatics Club presented the play, "Anne of Green Gables". Miss V. and Miss D. Anderson were directors.

The cast included: Gladys Moore, Gerald Way, Alice Hrycuik, Earl Lutz, Doris Helmig, Hazel Pearson, Lorraine Amell, Gladys Wakefield, Eileen Nixon, Bernice Block, Vernice Schleuder, Mike Ciz, Billy Lane, Jean Cockburn.

Between scenes Miss Hazel Boggs played piano solos; Mr. Townend of Edmonton sang solos and Misses Ruth Griffis and Dorothy Landhamer played piano duets.

EDSON

It is learned here that negotiations are at present under way to connect Hinton by telephone with Entrance, where there are telegraphic facilities. Hinton has neither telephone nor telegraph service. Until recently the nearest telephone was at Drinnan, three miles to the east, but the closing down of the mine at the latter point and termination of telephone service from there, left Hinton more isolated than ever. Hinton, a mining community of about 400 people, is 55 miles west of Edson.

CROSSFIELD

MOUSTACHIOS ARE BLOOMING IN THE SPRING, TRA LA LA

Spring is here, and with all the usual signs of its arrival, marbles, skipping, robins, budding trees, greening grass—knighthood is also showing signs of immediate bloom. The Knights of the Moustachio formed a club last week, and now about a dozen of the local young men evidence membership in this noble order with unmistakeable indications of fuzz on the upper lip.

The entry fee per head is 10 cents, the closing day May 23, on which date, selected judges will award the accumulation of dimes to the most resplendent moustache, and anyone who welches before that time pays a 50 cent fine.

Recruiting goes on daily and some magnificent specimens are anticipated—some smooth, dark and Latiny, a few glossy blond ones, that throw off silver gleams in the sunlight, and others as yet quite unpredictable.

A boom is expected in curlers, wavers, tonics, rat-tailed combs and perhaps even a few incubators, as soon as the crops get definitely underway—already most of the local Dons are observed stealing furtive, admiring glances at the fruits of their intensive culture, in any unsuspecting mirror or window that presents the opportunity.

This is the first Derby of its kind in Crossfield and promises much amusement and stiff competition, although most of the girls interviewed on the subject agree that it is rapidly developing into a "ticklish situation." Meanwhile we await, with breathless interest, that momentous decision on May 23rd—and the removal, it is fervently hoped, of these facial firze-bushes.

RED DEER

PLEBISCITE WILL DECIDE FATE OF $45,000 SCHOOL

The Red Deer Board of Trade at their monthly meeting on Monday decided to actively support the Red Deer public school board in seeking passage of a by-law to build a $45,000 intermediate school. Vote on the by-law will be on Monday, May 6, and in the interval the two bodies will launch a campaign in support of the proposed building.

The civic committee of the Board of Trade under the chairmanship of J. Ballantyne, has been working with the school board since the trade board decided some time ago to support the drive for increased accommodation in the schools. Plans were drawn up for a $40,000 building but at a meeting of the Board of Trade this was not felt to be adequate. Further consideration was given to the project since then and a plan for a building to cost about $45,000 has been approved by both boards.

D. W. Robertson, of Red Deer, has been appointed secretary of the Red Deer Agricultural Society. His duties commence on May 1. Mr. Robertson succeeds Walter Miller, former secretary, who resigned last summer when he moved to the coast. There were several applications for the post.

The 1940 grant from the provincial government will again be $750, the same as in 1939. The society and the city will co-operate in making improvements at the fair grounds.

The council of the Municipal District of Pine Lake at their monthly meeting in Red Deer decided to buy a new tractor and a grader. At the same meeting the council decided to continue for another three years their financial support of the Red Deer health unit.

GLENDON

The death occurred on April 11 at her home near Glendon of Olena, beloved wife of Thorvald Sather. Mrs. Sather was born at Furness, Norway, November 26, 1876. In 1907 with other members of the family she moved to Warren, Minnesota, coming from there to the Glendon district in 1911. On July 30, 1914, she was married to Thorvald Sather and since that time Mr. and Mrs. Sather had made their home on the Sather homestead.

One daughter and three sons were born of whom two sons, Ole M. and Helmer, together with the bereaved husband, five brothers and three sisters survive. The brothers are Eric, Lars and Andrew Mikkelson of Glendon, Peter of Camrose and Alfred of Strome; the sisters, Mrs. Lawrence Stead of New Westminster, B.C., Mrs. Gilbert Berge of Grand Forks, North Dakota, and Mrs. Johanna Gilbertson of Glendon.

Mrs. Sather was instrumental in the organization of the First Lutheran Church at Glendon and was the first president of the ladies' aid.

The funeral service was held Sunday from the house and the Lutheran church by the pastor, Rev. L. M. Hanson.

LLOYDMINSTER

Saturday was a "red letter" day for the Lloydminster Business and Professional Women's Club. The day was marked by the visit of Federation President Margaret Clay of Victoria, B.C. In the afternoon, Miss Clara Stevenson, the local president, entertained her at tea, and in the evening members dined with the visitor, after which the meeting adjourned to the club rooms where Miss Clay addressed members following an address of welcome delivered by Miss Mossie McCrae.

Miss Clay spoke on the aims and objects of the club, emphasizing that it was primarily organized to strengthen the position of the women in the business world of today.

In the absence of the president, Miss Joyce Davidson, vice-president, thanked Miss Clay for her address.

Primroses To Aid War Work Of Red Cross

Dextrous fingers of school children will aid the war-time program of assistance undertaken by the Canadian Red Cross Society when, in Edmonton on Saturday, Edmontonians will buy the dainty primrose flowers the school children have made for the day. The occasion is the annual Primrose Tag Day of the society.

Judging of the best flowers took place on Wednesday morning in the Edmonton Museum of Arts rooms in the Civic Block and judges were Mrs. J. C. Bowen, wife of His Honor, J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, Mrs. John W. Fry, wife of His Worship Mayor Fry, Mrs. Frank E. Dynes, Mrs. Campbell Fraser, Mrs. W. J. Dick and Mrs. S. Israel, convener of the tag day.

WINNERS

Following is a list of winners of the prizes offered for the best flowers: 1, Annie Stadeus, St. Teresa's School, Forest Heights; 2, Gladys Knutson, McCauley School; 3, Agnes Stephanie, St. Anthony's School; 4, Lorraine Krell, Cromdale.

Honorable mention distinction goes to Edith Oldstad, Highlands, Eva Odynski, Alex Taylor; Annie Krasowski, Calder, and Wilma Lewko, Garneau.

Junior making the largest number of flowers are as follows: (Older juniors)—Kathleen Jones, Highlands, 2,050; Annie Stedeus, St. Teresa's School, 1,150; Gladys Knutson, McCauley, 1,100; (Younger juniors)—Lorraine Krell, Cromdale, 575; Annie Krasowski, Calder, 475. Group making largest numbers of flowers is as follows: St. Teresa, 3,725; King Edward, Miss Potter's room, 1,550; King Edward, Miss Durrand's room, 1,500; Highlands school, Miss Bell's room, 1,350.

New Officers Kiwanis L.A. Are Named

Presidency of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Edmonton Kiwanis Club was entrusted to Mrs. W. G. Strachan when the annual meeting of the organization was held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Burrows on Monday of this week.

Others in office for the current term are: Mrs. W. M. Fawcett, first vice-president; Mrs. G. B. Cooper, second vice-president; Mrs. A. H. Skenfield, secretary; and Mrs. A. White, treasurer.

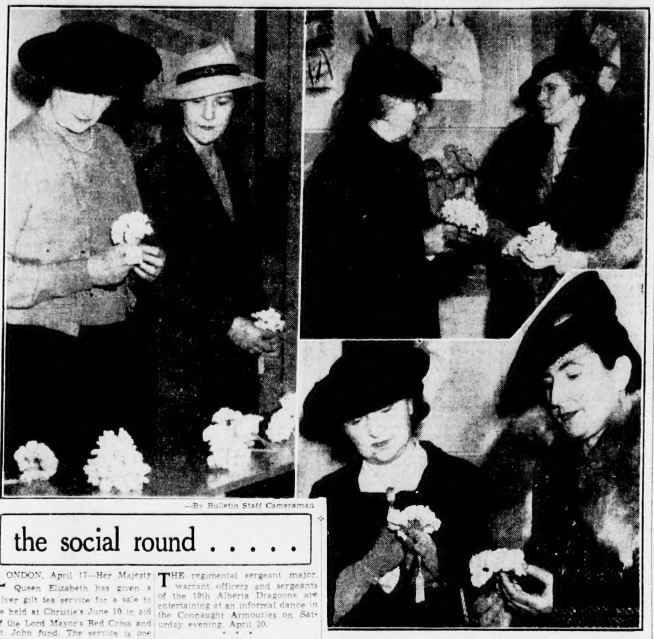
BENEFIT TEA

During the meeting plans were completed for a benefit tea to be held at the Glenora home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Greer, 10220 133 street, on Wednesday, May 22, in aid of the Edmonton Garrison Hostess House.

The retiring members of the executive were made the recipients of bouquets of flowers, during the meeting.

Following the business session, a social hour was held.

Judging the Primroses That Will Be Sold In The Red Cross Tag Day



—By Bulletin Staff Cameraman

Primroses will bloom on Edmonton streets on Saturday of this week, in aid of a most worthwhile cause—the wartime work of the Canadian Red Cross Society. School children have made the blossoms that will be sold on Saturday and seen here are the judges who chose the best flowers on Wednesday morning at the Civic Block. Awards will be given to the children making the best flowers.

Federation Of Community Leagues Entertain At Social Highlight Of Their Year — Annual Banquet and Dance — In Corona On Tuesday

DAFFODILS, and mauve and red tulips formed attractive table decorations in the banquet room of the Corona hotel on Tuesday evening, when members of the Federation of Community Leagues entertained at their annual banquet and dance. Mrs. W. T. Rice was in charge of the affair, which was attended by about 150 persons. Outlining the place community leagues have held in the life of the city since their inception and the contribution they have made to civic consciousness, His Worship Mayor John W. Fry was a guest speaker at the banquet.

Mr. A. E. Ottewell, who proposed the toast to the community leagues, was the principal speaker.

Mr. L. Lloyd Jones, president of the federation, who presided as toast master on the occasion, replied to Mr. Ottewell's toast. Toast to the city was proposed by Mr. W. G. McConachie, to which His Worship Mayor Fry replied. Mr. Ben Hager proposed the toast to the ladies, and Miss M. Fearn replied.

An entertainment program was presented following the banquet. Soloists were Mrs. W. Saunders and Mr. Jack Williams, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. P. Beatty. Mr. Fred Doucette led the community singing.

AT HEAD TABLE

Seated at the head table were His Worship Mayor John W. Fry and Mrs. Fry, Rev. Captain C. F. A. Clough, Mr. L. Lloyd Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McConachie, Mrs. J. Rault, Mrs. W. T. Rice, Mrs. J. A. Clarke, Miss M. Fearn, Mr. O. W. Bannister, Mr. Ben Hager and Mr. James F. Miller.

Mrs. Dearing Is President Of C.W.L.

Mrs. H. Dearing was named president of the Catholic Women's League, at the annual meeting of the senior sub-division of the league in Rosary Hall on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Dearing succeeds Mrs. J. A. McCool in office.

Others named to executive positions were Mrs. Dennis O'Brien, first vice-president; Mrs. Frank E. Dynes, second vice-president; Mrs. E. Base, third vice-president; Miss Stewart, recording secretary; Mrs. A. A. O'Brien, corresponding secretary and Mrs. P. T. Ford, treasurer.

PRESIDENT HONORED

The retiring president was made the recipient of a gift presented by Mrs. Dennis O'Brien, on behalf of the league. Mrs. McCool paid tribute to the work of the retiring executive, including Mrs. A. A. O'Brien, formerly recording secretary, Mrs. P. M. Dunne, formerly corresponding secretary; and Mrs. F. Steinburg, formerly treasurer.

Reports on the work of the various committees during the year, were presented at the meeting.

An additional group was added to the Red Cross committee, under the convenership of Mrs. Frank Dynes, it was announced. Representatives of the Church of the Immaculate Conception parish will aid in the work.

A membership drive, to increase the number of those aiding in the war work of the league will be undertaken in the near future, it was stated. Definite arrangements for the drive will be made at a meeting of the new executive, with the past president and the councillors from the various parishes, on Thursday.

WAR WORK

War work of the League includes assistance to the Canadian Red Cross Society; the serving of breakfast to the soldiers of the Edmonton Garrison, after the church service on the second Sunday morning of each month, at the Sacred Heart parish hall; the provision of cigarettes and letters to the men now overseas; and the visiting of the soldiers' wives who have remained in the city.

Following the business session, tea was served the members. Mrs. J. W. Connolly was in charge of the affair, assisted in the arrangements by Mrs. H. McGill and Mrs. W. O'Callahan. Miss Helen Timothy, Miss Dorothy Hawkes and Miss Maisie Connolly assisted as serviteurs during the tea hour.

Edmonton Creche March Attendances Number Over 200

Report of work of the Edmonton Creche Society, presented at a meeting of the society in the Macdonald hotel on Monday afternoon, showed that attendance at the Creche during the month of March totalled 226. Meals and bottle feedings had been given to 625 mothers and children. A number of toys have been presented to the children by the welfare committee of the Soroptomist Club, and the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training centre.

In the absence of the president, Lady Rodney, Mrs. W. J. Dick, vice-president, was in the chair during the meeting.

Because nearly two-thirds of highway fatalities occur at night, many states are introducing legislation to lower the speed limit after dark.

Education's Role In Democracy Crisis Discussed At Meeting Of Women's University Club

EXAMINING the part modern education has in the life of a democracy and inquiring into its principles and methods to see whether it has aided and strengthened our democratic way of life or whether it has been a deterrent, three members of the Women's University Club presented the two sides of "Education and the Crisis in Democracy. Has the Educational System Failed?" at a meeting of the club held in Talmud Torah Hall this week.

Mrs. Edgar Stansfield, president, was in the chair and introduced the speakers, Mrs. R. L. Anderson, Mrs. W. P. Calhoun and Mrs. D. A. Hansen.

In her address, Mrs. Anderson showed that our educational system has fostered in students certain attitudes and feelings of individual competition and acquisition which have contributed to an economic crisis; that it has not allowed for practice in critical thinking in order that people may analyse effectively political issues. The speaker claimed that our system has failed to give recognition in its general attitude to the Christian religion which would have supplied the moral and emotional appeal that authoritarian governments possess so strongly and which democracy seems to lack.

Moreover it has educated for scholastic attainment rather than for character building and the wholesome development of personality which is the foundation of democracy.

HAD NOT FAILED

Mrs. Calhoun outlined many phases in which the system has not failed. "The fact that we are dealing with a crisis and not a revolution proves that we have gone a step beyond merely transmitting knowledge—it has succeeded in binding together peoples of different races and creeds—it has shown that war is not the only way to solve difficulties—that the adjustment of any crisis lies in the application of the principle on which our educational system is founded, namely, whatsoever things are true. The main business of the school is the imparting of knowledge."

Mrs. Hansen stressed the importance of the selection and training of teachers. "Seventy-three percent of teachers receive less than $100 a month and that outstanding personalities would not be attracted to a profession that does not pay them better. Educational costs," she said, "should be more extensively met by the governments and that society on the whole suffers if the job of educating the young is not efficiently done."

CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES

Democracy rests on Christian principles, of tolerance, understanding and service to others, and co-operation between the various units in the educational system must exist if the whole process of moderation is to serve our democracies.

Coffee was served later in the evening, under the convenership of Miss Margery MacKenzie.

Mildred Ward Is Married Recently

South Side home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Ward was the scene of a pretty wedding one day just recently when their daughter, Miss Mildred Ward became the bride of Sapper Frederick Bray, of the Royal Canadian Engineers, Edmonton, son of Mrs. William Parker and the late Mr. James Bray of Mackay, Alberta. Adjutant E. Tobin performed the ceremony, in the presence of the immediate family.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue tailleur, with white sheer blouse and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Marjorie Ward was her sister's bridesmaid, and wore an afternoon dress of periwinkle blue crepe, with a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

Private Lester Hanson, of the Royal Canadian Engineers, supported the bridegroom as best man.

Sapper Bray and his wife are making their home in Edmonton.

Dorothy Dix Says:

The problem of how to manage a woman is almost universally regarded by men as one of the insoluble mysteries of life, so they just give it up, without even trying to find out the answer. Of course, every man would like to know what makes the wheels go around in a woman's head and makes her act the way she does.

Now speaking entirely from the woman's point of view, I should say that the way to manage a woman is by direction an not by acquiescence. Never, for instance, tell your bride of her faults. Criticism merely sets her more deeply in them. But assume that she possesses the virtues you wish her to have, and she will break her neck to acquire them in order to live up to your ideal.

If you want your wife to be a good housekeeper, don't carp on her cooking. Praise any dish that isn't an actual menace to life and she will get busy with the cook books. If you want a wife who is thrifty and economical, don't raise ructions every time she buys a new hat.

Don't look sour and act grumpy because her family descends upon you like the wolf on the fold. Just tell her how you love to be alone with her and she will sweep them out of the door.

Then, managing a woman naturally depends upon knowing how to do it. It is an art. You must understand your subject. You must be familiar with her moods and tenses.

It is never so much what husband says to his wife that counts as the way he says it.

It isn't easy to manage a woman, but it can be done if men would only give a little of the time and thought to it that they do to studying how to make their automobiles and radios work. But the pity of it is that they don't even try to find out the answers to the human enigmas to which they are united. The average husband can live with his wife for forty years without ever finding out whether she likes one lump of sugar or two in her coffee. —DOROTHY DIX.

The average car is driven about 20,000 miles annually.

Bourinot, Ottawa; Franklin Davey McDowell, Toronto, and Mrs. Laura Goodman Salverson, Winnipeg, and formerly of Edmonton. These awards, auuounced by the Canadian Authors' Association, were founded by the late Lord Tweedsmuir, and are recognized as the highest literary awards available in Canada.

To Mrs. Salverson belongs the distinction of being the first Canadian writer to have a second book acclaimed by the critics responsible for the adjudication of the award competitions. In 1937, she took first place in the fiction division for her outstanding novel of western settlement, "The Dark Weaver." Her stimulating and brilliantly written autobiography, "Confessions of an Immigrant's Daughter," receives the 1939 award for general literature.

Arthur S. Bourinot's latest book "Under the Sun," wins the prize for the year's outstanding contribution to Canadian poetry, while Franklin Davey McDowell with his "The Champlain Road" wins the award for his first novel, under the fiction division.

Tasty, Easily Prepared Dressings For Salads

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Your salad can be no better than its dressing. The gaiety of assorted greens and tender fruits and vegetables calls for an equally delicate mixture of oils, acids and spices. Try these and you'll be gay and pleased yourself.

SPICY SALAD DRESSING
(Makes about one cup)

One-half cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon paprika, ½ cup vinegar, 2 teaspoons grated onion, 1 tablespoon minced celery, 1 tablespoon minced sweet pepper ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons oil.

Mix sugar, salt and paprika, add vinegar and stir until well blended. Add remaining ingredients with a small piece of ice and beat or shake 1 minute until thoroughly blended.

FRUIT FRENCH DRESSING
(Makes three-fourths cup)

One-half teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ cup salad oil, ¼ cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Mix dry ingredients, add oil and stir until well blended. Add fruit juices and beat or shake until thoroughly blended. Beat or shake.

Those come from Edith Barber, noted writer on food. Here is her recipe for the all-important French dressing:

FRENCH DRESSING
(Makes about one-half cup)

One-half teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon paprika, ½ cup salad oil, 2 tablespoons mild vinegar, 1 teaspoon onion juice.

Mix dry ingredients thoroughly, add oil, and stir until well blended. Add vinegar and onion juice and beat or shake well until mixture thickens slightly. Beat or shake well before serving.

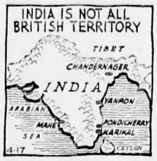
Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Tomato and grapefruit juice, nut muffins, crisp bacon, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Veal hash. Escarole salad, spiny French dressing, hard rolls, fresh fruit cup, tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled lamb chops, mashed potatoes, creamed scallions, mixed green salad, French dressing, banana cream pie, coffee, milk.

Debunker



Although most of India is British territory, part of it is not. There are five French colonies in India, covering an area of 196 square miles, and including a population of about 300,000. These colonies are Pandicherry, Karikal, Chandernager, Mahe and Yanaon. Most of these colonies were held successively by the Portuguese, Dutch and Spanish before they came into French possession. France had much greater territory in India till England wrested it from her, leaving only the five colonies, which are represented in the French parliament by one senator and one deputy.

Spring Garden Festival Will Attract Many To Victoria

VICTORIA, B.C., April 17.—On May Day, when British Columbia gardens are bursting with new bloom, the spring garden festival, so successful for the last five years, will open in the Empress hotel under the sponsorship of the Victoria Horticultural Society and the hotel management. The show continues officially till May 6 and unofficially as long as summer lasts.

Official programs, just issued, announce that visitors who are expected from all parts of Canada and from across the border will be given an opportunity to visit fifty of Victoria's loveliest private gardens. They will also exchange news and views of gardens with experts under the generous hospitality of the horticultural society.

Tours for garden week are planned to Grove Hall across the famous Malahat to Duncan and will include an expedition to the Lake of the Seven Hills on May 5 if the visitors stop over.

In addition to the garden tours there are planned a decorated tables display, a tea at Grove Hill, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ashton; a dinner forum, where rock and Alpine flower culture will be discussed by some of the most successful growers in this rock garden paradise, and the cultivation of lilies and the Japanese flowering cherries will be described.

There will be motion pictures of floriculture in technicolor and the garden fanciers will be divided into small groups to visit garden centres of particular interest to themselves.

Already Victoria's flowers are painting its gardens in rainbow colors and the festival date has been advanced so that all its loveliness will be at the peak for the event.

Minute Make-Ups

Do you know that nails don't break so easily if you allow the sides to grow high instead of filing them in curved lines? The shape of the nail is apt to be squarish instead of oval, but the tips will not break so often. This is recommended particularly for those who do office and home work.

All About Babies

By RICHARD ARTHUR BOLT
M. D., DR. P. H.
Secretary, Maternal and Child Health Section of American Public Health Association

Every prospective mother should know what constitutes good prenatal care, and she should expect to receive such care on the part of her doctor and nurse.

Dr. Bolt

Of first importance is the selection of a competent, conscientious physician known to be skilled in the practice of obstetrics. Such a doctor should be consulted as early as possible, the earlier the better. Certainly this should be done before the middle of pregnancy.

The doctor will want to conduct a thorough general physical examination, including careful measurements of the pelvis, examination of the heart and lungs, taking of blood pressure and carrying out laboratory tests of the blood and urine. At that time the doctor should take a complete history, going into details on obscure points. He will complete the first visit by giving definite instructons as to the hygiene of maternity, including diet, rest, exercise, clothing, elimination and care of the breasts.

• • •

It is important for her to return to the doctor at regular intervals, even though she may feel perfectly well. On each visit he will carefully check the blood pressure and test the urine, as well as inquire about any unpleasant signs or symptoms, as the following:

Severe vomiting and nausea.

Any discharge or bleeding, even in small amounts.

Swelling of the hands or face.

Shortness of breath.

Disturbance of vision.

Persistent headaches.

Undue fatigue.

Dizziness.

Pain in upper abdomen.

Painful or scanty urination.

Any one of these in itself may not prove serious, but it may indicate to the physician an underlying condition which if taken in time may avoid disaster later on.

• • •

It is important to have a planned delivery whether it takes place in the home or in the hospital. In some places visiting or public health nurses are available to help the prospective mothers. Where maternity hospitals and prenatal clinics are part of the community resources, mothers may receive needed help from these.

If a well-equipped hospital with separate maternity service is available with consultation services on call, it is more convenient and on the whole safer to have the mother in the hospital, especially for the first baby. However, it must be understood that with skilled medical and nursing care, home deliveries can be carried out with safety and comfort.

Get In Shape Now For Bathing Suit Days

By ALICIA HART

The girl who is looking forward to getting into sun suits and bathing suits the moment it gets a little warmer, begins right now to do something about her back and shoulders.

In other words, she resolves to gain or lose weight, according to her needs, and to make the skin on arms, shoulders and back look smooth and well cared for.

EXERCISE AND DIET DO THE TRICK

She knows that if she eats less and does special exercises for the upper arms the rolls of excess weight between elbows and shoulders will disappear.

Or, if she happens to be too thin, she'll resolve to get a great deal more sleep and rest and to eat quantities of calory-rich foods.

Thin or overweight, however, she will correct her posture and in so doing eliminate a hollow-chested look and the lump on the back of her neck. Bathing suits aren't flattering to any figure which is hollow in the wrong places or bulging in the wrong places.

To refine the texture of skin which is soon to be exposed to both sun and spectators, she renews her attention to her long-handled bath brush. She scrubs back, shoulders and upper arms with the brush each time she bathes. Afterward, she rubs them vigorously with a coarse bath towel. The towel removes dead cuticle from the surface of the skin and stimulates circulation, which is important.

SKIN SOFTENER LOTION HELPS

Furthermore, she gets out the bottle of pre-bath skin softener which she bought during cold weather last January and never quite finished.

This is to be massaged into the skin before bathing. Other types are to be used after the bath. And they, too, soften and refine shoulders and arms.

What To Do

A gentleman took me to a party at a hotel in the city and, after arriving (there were only the two of us in our party), he discovered some friends of his at another table, halfway down the dining room. Please advise if a gentleman wishing to speak to this party at the other table should leave me sitting alone at our table while he goes to their table for a visit. He asked to be excused, but I replied, "Would you leave me here alone?" Perhaps I am entirely wrong. MISS M. E. R.

Answer: Not entirely, but so much depends. No gentleman would leave a lady alone under such circumstances except for a very good reason. Whether or not such a reason existed in this case I have no means of knowing. If there were such a reason, then—after ordering your dinner — your escort should have explained why it was important for him not to ignore the other persons. Otherwise he should not have left you sitting alone.

TRICKS WITH TRICKS

(A Three-Handed Game)

In the first three tricks of a three-handed game of cards, there was only one Queen, which was the highest card played. There was only one Eight, which was the lowest card played.

No two cards of equal value were played in any single trick.

The highest card played in the 3rd trick was equal in value to the 2nd highest card played in the 1st trick and to the lowest card played in the 2nd trick.

THE PROBLEM: Give the value of all three cards in each of the three tricks.

	Highest	2nd High	Lowest
1st Trick
2nd Trick
3rd Trick

Solution tomorrow.

SOLUTION TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE, TWO ROYAL PAIRS:

1. From A we know that cards Nos. 1 and 2 cannot both be Kings.
2. From B we know that cards Nos. 3 and 4 cannot both be Kings.
3. From C we know that there cannot be a Queen between two Kings.

These three facts eliminate every possible combination except that of two Kings in the centre, Nos. 2 and 3.

4. From D we know that there cannot be a Heart between two Spades. That is, we know that there must be two Spades side by side.
5. From E we know that cards Nos. 1 and 2 cannot be Spades. Therefore they must be Hearts.

Hence the only possible answer is:

Card No. 1 .... Queen of Hearts
Card No. 2 .... King of Hearts
Card No. 3 .... King of Spades
Card No. 4 .... Queen of Spades

You Reap Many Rewards if Active in Club Work

Be Informed on Club Affairs

Club work is full of interest and adventure for those who know how to take an an active part. You make pleasant contacts in your group, meet stimulating visitors.

And, with information of office holding, money-raising, committees, you can easily step to the fore.

Perhaps your first post is with a committee and you are asked to write a report on its work. Show your efficiency by making a neat summary of the principal points, using paper which can be conveniently filed in the minute book.

You win the appreciation of fellow members, too, if you understand budget problems. You may be allotted a fund to spend as social chairman. Stay within that figure!

Is your club trying to raise money? Subscription affairs, such as dances, picnics and bridge parties, will be profitable if you compute the cost for each guest, then charge double. When selling food, the price should be two or even three times its cost.

For other successful money-making plans, see our 32-page booklet. Tells how to organize a club, draw up a constitution; gives duties of officers, members, committees. Includes a sample budget, tips on club etiquette.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of Clubwoman's Guide to The Edmonton Bulletin Home Service, Edmonton, Alberta. Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, and the Name of booklet.

Please allow a week or ten days for delivery.

Eats, Sleeps and Feels Better Than in Years! Thanks Mosby's Tonic

"I Suffered So Much I Don't See How I Ever Stood It!" Says Mr. John Schimke, of Trochu, Alta.—Had Splitting Headaches, Gaseous Stomach, Couldn't Sleep Right and Bowels Were Sluggish Before He Found Mosby's Tonic.

Mr. John Schimke, of Trochu, Alta., is now adding his name to the long list of well-known people in this section who are publicly praising and endorsing MOSBY'S TONIC, which is the "Splendid Mixture of Herbs and other Medicinal Agents," now being introduced to crowds daily by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, at The Army and Navy Dept. Store, Edmonton. What Mr. Schimke has to say about Mosby's Tonic will be read with Real Interest throughout the city. Following is his Sincere Public Endorsement of Mosby's Tonic:

"Don't See How I Ever Stood Such Distress!"

"I can't even begin to describe the way I suffered for years; in fact, I don't see how I ever stood such distress!" said Mr. Schimke. "One of the worst things was the way my stomach would bloat with gas after my meals. Why, it just seemed like all my food would ferment and turn to gas. I had splitting headaches and was so nervous with suffering that I couldn't sleep right at night and just felt tired and worn out continually. My bowels were sluggish and inactive, and I believe this caused my system to fill up with poisons and I surely felt like I was only half-living.

Surprised At Relief He Got From Mosby's Tonic

"Oh! I tell you, I certainly had my share of suffering and ill-health. I did everything I knew to do, without relief, so you can imagine how discouraged I was. Then finally I read so much about Mosby's Tonic that I got it and started taking it. Now I am overjoyed at the results. This medicine relieved my gas and bloating, and now my food digests properly instead of turning sour and fermenting like it did. It also helped my nerves and I can go to bed and sleep a full night. Another thing, this medicine also has a splendid laxative action on a person's bowels and gives them a fine cleansing and regulating. In short, I eat, sleep and feel better than IN YEARS since I took Mosby's Tonic, and I am so grateful to this medicine that I want to give you my statement and publicly endorse it to others who suffer as I did."

MR. JOHN SCHIMKE, of Trochu, Alta., is the Latest Widely-Known Citizen to Publicly Endorse This "New, Scientific Medicine," MOSBY'S TONIC. Read His Sincere Statement in This Announcement.

15 Roots and Herbs In Mosby's Tonic

MOSBY'S TONIC contains extracts from 15 of Nature's Roots and Herbs, blended with 5 Other Splendid Medicinal Ingredients. These 20 Ingredients cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys, relieve rheumatic and neuritic pains caused by these sluggish organs. Suffering people say they soon feel different all over. Due to the immense volume in which it sells, the Price of this New, Scientific Compound is Reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, is now at The ARMY AND NAVY DEPT. STORE, Edmonton, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, April 17.—The stock exchange market registered practically no net price change today and trading was down to about 230,000 shares for the session.

General Electric firmed 10 to 235 and Ault and Wiborg preferred firmed 1½ to a new high at 102½. Ford "A" was ¼ stronger.

A gain of 2 or more showed for Lake Shore gold. Wright Hargreaves, Beattie, Toburn and Powell Rouyn were inclined upward while the market was soft for Teck Hughes, O'Brien, Buffalo-Ankerite, Macleod-Cockshutt and Upper Canada.

Demand was light for western oils and minor recessions predominated. Calgary and Edmonton lost 5 cents, Home Oil 3 and Calmont and Anglo-Canadian 1.

Montreal and Toronto

MONTREAL, April 17—Papers were slightly stronger in late trade on the stock market today.

Price Brothers, St. Lawrence Corporation, Pfd., and Dryden tacked on fractions. Howard Smith and St. Lawrence Paper, Pfd., were on the downside.

Algoma Steel, Dominion Bridge and Building Products gave up minor amounts. Canadian Car and C.P.R. failed to retrieve earlier declines.

Brazilian, B.C. Power A and Shawinigan were off narrowly. Smelters and Hudson Bay Mining weakened fractions.

National Breweries, Distillers Seagrams, International Nickel and Dominion Steel and Coal B displayed minor additions.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 17.—War stocks worked through a barrage of profit-taking today and later advanced as much as two points, carrying most of the market to higher ground.

Leading the parade of gainers were Bethlehem, U.S. Steel, Youngstown, Yellow Truck, Glenn Martin, Lockheed, Anaconda, American Can, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, N.Y. Shipbuilding, and Anaconda, Phelps Dodge and Patino Mines. The last three reached new highs for the year.

Broomhall

Temperature changes in the American southwest are very severe and not conducive to favorable development of the wheat. Variations of 44 degrees were recorded at Durant, Oklahoma, and 42 degrees at Dodge City, Kansas. The forecast is for snow in western Kansas, compared to a high of 88 degrees Monday. The weather is generally cloudy with a high baromter working down from the northwest, suggesting precipitation for the midwest today. The weather in the Balkans is now improving after heavy rains and further snow in Rumania last week-end. No new contracts will be entered in for the exportation of wheat from Rumania at least for the time being. Old contracts, however, will be fulfilled. The severe winter caused heavy abandonment and the spring floods delayed field work. The weather in the Argentine has cleared after a four-day rain. The markets rallied after Monday's decline on wheat and flaxseed. The old and new wheat surplus is disappearing rapidly and Broomhall calculates that only 67-241,000 bushels remain for export to Europe and Brazil, of which the latter country may need 25,000,000 bushels, leaving only 32,000,000 bushels for Europe until the new crop is harvested next January. It is very likely that the advance in the Argentine will divert the continental buying to Canada where the best wheat can be obtained at attractive prices.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, April 17—Norwegian bonds today suffered declines, including 6's of '42, 4½'s of '56 and 4's of '63. Also retreating were Copenhagen 5's, Denmark 4½'s and Finland 6's.

GRAIN INSPECTIONS

WINNIPEG, April 17—Grain inspections Tuesday: Wheat, this year 463, last year 189; cars of [illegible] wheat 4[illegible], [illegible] 75-40, barley 17-56, flax 1-0, rye 1-1.

HIMMLER SAID SHOT IN MOUTH IN COPENHAGEN

LONDON, April 17.—The Daily Mail's Stockholm correspondent last night said reports are reaching Stockholm that Heinrich Himmler, leader of the German secret state police (Gestapo) had been shot in the mouth in a Copenhagen street last week.

Details or confirmation were lacking but the correspondent said it was reported Himmler reached Copenhagen the day after German troops occupied Denmark and it was believed the attack took place Wednesday.

(The dispatch did not say if Himmler was dead or merely wounded.)

(In Berlin Nazi authorities denied the Stockholm reports and said that Himmler, on April 10 and 11, inspected various formations of the Gestapo stationed south of Berlin. He was back in the capital on April 14 they said, and they claimed he now is on an inspection tour "somewhere in Germany".)

WHEAT CLOSES DOWN SLIGHTLY

WINNIPEG, April 17—Wheat trading was quiet on Winnipeg grain exchange today and futures prices fluctuated slightly below the previous closing levels. Quotations at this end were ¼-⅛ lower, May at 90⅛, July 91⅝ and October 93¼.

Influence of declining quotations in United States wheat pits dragged the Winnipeg range lower at the opening and buying support failed to develop during the day.

Ribbentrop Said Trying Again To Woo Soviet Union

STOCKHOLM, April 17 — The newspaper Tidningen reported today that German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop is preparig to go to Moscow for another attempt to create a Rome-Berlin-Moscow axis and to offer the Soviets a free hand in Bessarabia. Moscow was represented as believing, however, that this new attempt would have no more success than the previous one.

River Plate Now At Normal Level

BUENOS AIRES, April 17.—The river Plate returned to its normal level today after a flood which caused 35 known deaths and caused damage estimated at $10,000,000. Hundreds of houses were destroyed. A launch, missing with 40 passengers since Sunday, was found today, with all aboard safe.

QUEBEC SHOWS DEBT INCREASE TO JUNE, 1939

QUEBEC, April 17.—Increase in debt of $61,185,000 and an over-expenditure of $27,317,327 in excess of all budget estimates during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1939, were revealed yesterday in a public accounts' statement tabled in the legislature.

The statement, tabled by Hon. J. A. Mathewson, provincial treasurer, set the province's net debt at $257,128,186, compared with $212,020,351 in the previous year, an increase of $45,107,834.

Increase of $24,770,634 was shown in capital expenditure of $46,729,444 compared with $21,958,809 in the preceeding year.

The gross public debt, increased by $37,097,000 in 1939 was given as $279,673,099. The statement said the net funded debt has increased 202 per cent in six years.

The increase averaged $40,691,889 per year in the last three fiscal periods, the statement revealed, compared with an average increase of $15,688,824 in the three previous years.

EDSON MAYOR PERSUADED TO RETAIN POST

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

EDSON, April 17 — Mayor W. Wilson of Edson will remain in office as chief executive.

The town council assembling Tuesday evening decided to reject the mayor's resignation, handed in a week ago under the stress of his sative Denmark submitting to enemy military occupation.

The mayor was then summoned from his residence to the council meeting, where a resolution was read to him expressing sympathy on account of conditions in his native land and the unanimous decision of the council not to accept his resignation.

Mr. Wilson then took his seat as mayor amid applause, thanked the council with some emotion for their vote of confidence and the meeting turned its attention to the usual routine business before it.

Both the mayor and Mrs. Wilson are naturalized Canadians but they have relatives in Denmark.

Minister Warns Against Apathy In Present War

SOUTHAMPTON, England, April 17.—Sir John Reith, minister of information, warned today against the "danger of being neutral minded in England." "Neutrality is not confined to the low countries or Scandinavia or Italy or America," he told the Southampton chamber of commerce. "I have met neutrals walking the streets of England. There is apathy and boredom and yet this is a war of wills as much as it is a war of guns."

Gasoline Burns Prove Fatal To Calgary Boy

CALGARY, April 17.—Suffering extensive body burns after gasolme, with which he was cleaning bicycle parts in the yard at the rear of his home at 118 Fifteenth street northwest, exploded Sunday afternoon, 14-year-old Kenneth Robinson died in the General hospital today.

Dr. George R. Johnson, coroner, said it would be unnecessary to hold an inquest.

Kenneth, with his brother Thomas, was working on the cycle parts in the yard when the explosion caused extensive burns to his face, hands and the upper part of the body.

Polish Black Book Is Being Issued

British United Press

PARIS, April 17.—A Polish government black book—generally described as "the book of Polish martyrdom" is being issued by the Polish government, now in exile at Angers, France.

The volume deals with the German invasion of Poland last September and purports to give a picture of what "total war" signifies.

Livestock Crisis

BELGRADE, April 17. — The newspaper Vreme today reported a crisis in the Yugoslav livestock industry as a result of excessive exports since the outbreak of the war.

Buffalo Reserve Is Planned In Alberta: Animals Are Donated

Establishment of a buffalo herd park in the Rocky Mountain House district was indicated Wednesday by government officials. This area is one where the monarchs of the plains in days gone by roamed at their pleasure.

Three buffalo, two cows and one bull have been presented, through the co-operation of W. H. Wallace, provincial fish and game commissioner, to the Clearwater and West Country Fish and Game Association, with headquarters at Rocky Mountain House.

It is believed that these animals were "strays" from the Banff National Park. They were rounded-up at Sundre, after which arrangements were completed for their transfer to the Clearwater Flats to form the nucleus of a herd.

Proposals have been advanced to re-stock the Kootenay Plans, west of Nordegg, with buffalo, while members of the Fish and Game Association in that area have stated that there is sufficient wild hay and grass there to feed 1,000 buffalo.

Provincial game branch officials declared that the establishment of the herd was being carried out so that in the near future, when a large herd was built up, natural hunting conditions could be provided.

Press Chief

J. A. McNEIL
general manager of The Canadian Press, an Edmonton visitor on Wednesday, said full coverage on war events was being given Canadian newspapers.

NEWSPAPERS GET FULL WAR NEWS PRESS HEAD SAYS

Newspapers in Canada are receiving finest coverage on war news from all fronts and they will continue to get full reports, as well as all regular Canadian and international news, it was stated here Wednesday by J. A. McNeil, Toronto, general manager of the Canadian Press.

Mr. McNeil was returning to Toronto after attending The Canadian Press annual meeting in Vancouver, stopping here to inspect the new bureau in this city and the Edmonton newspapers.

Canadian Press writers are accompanying the C.A.S.F. overseas and are in the front ranks, while the European staff is being increased. Foreign news from neutral and enemy countries is obtained from Associated Press of the United States and Agence Havas of France.

Mr. McNeil, formerly managing editor of the Montreal Gazette, was appointed head of The Canadian Press last July.

POLICE GIVE WARNING ON FANCY WORK

Police warned Wednesday that Edmonton was being canvassed by saleswomen who were offering lace table cloths and other fancy work, alleged to be handmade, for sale at good prices. They said the "salesladies" asked $10 for table cloths and $1 for doilies. They said the same articles could be purchased in downtown department stores for $1 and 5 cents, respectively.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Do you approve of the Dominion government's action in levying only one license covering all radio sets in a single residence and the proposal that an increased fee be charged for radios in public places?

THE ANSWERS

ALF IBBOTSON, clerk: I think the single license is a good idea. Because a person has an extra set in his bedroom he shouldn't have to pay an extra fee.

• • •

DAVE CHATTELL, bookkeeper: One license fee is plenty. The fee is not far short of the cost of these tiny extra sets that most people get.

• • •

ELMYR STUTCHBURY, advertising man: A single fee of $2.50 is enough for any home for its radio entertainment. The government owes it to us to reduce the fee after having us sacrifice entertainment for political speeches for a big period this spring.

• • •

GILBERT WRIGHT, minister: The single fee is a good move and if Hon. Mr. Howe wants to step up the license for radios in public places it is all right with me. I would rather eat a cafe meal in quiet anyway.

Girls Take Motor Training For War Work

—By Bulletin Staff Cameraman

There's no "sissy-stuff" about these girls as they take their practical training as members of the first class of the Women's Auxiliary Motor Service, receiving instruction at Dominion Motors Ltd., 102 street. The girls are fitting themselves to handle and take care of ambulances and trucks in the event of their services being required for war work. The pictures, taken Tuesday night, show, top, Ethel Myatt seated at the wheel. To the left of her is May River, and to the right in order, Walter Ewenson, class instructor, Elsie Kirby, Muriel Meaden, Jean Julien and Viola Leadlay. In the lower picture Instructor Ewenson is seen showing the girls the carburetor controls. Left to right are Gina Nesbit, Jean Irvine, Kay Card and Jennie Wilson.

FARM WIDOW HAS TIDY SUM THROUGH WILL

Creditors' Claims Barred By Court In Decision Here

A windfall of $1,894.15 went to Mrs. Francis Cammidge, formerly Mrs. Axel Grauer, Camrose, through a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice W. R. Howson in supreme court Wednesday.

In 1929 Axel Grauer, Camrose district farmer, died leaving a bankrupt estate. The London and Western Trusts Co., Ltd., were appointed executors to wind up the estate. There were 14 creditors to whom $1,997.78 was owing, and approximately $90 available for distribution.

ESTATE BENEFITS

Following settlement at that time nothing further was heard of this estate until March, 1937, when it was learned that under the provisions of the late Axel Grauer's father's will the estate would benefit to the extent of approximately $1,900.

Immediately the question of creditors arose, and it was ordered by the courts on application of the executor company that a court decision be rendered on the right of the creditors to claim on the legacy.

DELAY OF TIME

It was contended on behalf of the beneficiary, Mrs. Cammidge, that the claims against the estate were statute barred as no request for payment had been made for six years prior to the money being made available to the estate.

The creditors countered that debt adjustment provisions in Alberta extended the limitations of the barring statute and that their claim was good.

Mr. Justice Howson's judgment was that all the debts were barred. Thus Mrs. Cammidge will benefit from the bequest, less the costs of the court action.

Albertan Worried About Relatives

Finn Goa of Edberg, Alta., former resident of Stavanger, Norwegian city now held by the Germans, is anxious for the safety of an uncle who resides near the airport in the Norwegian city, and his mother. The airport has been bombed by the British in an effort to drive Nazis out. Mr. Goa, who came to Canada in 1928, has been unable to contact his relatives.

Anti-Jay-Walking Bylaw Cutting Down Accidents: Housewives Are Heedless

Most persistent offenders against Edmonton's "jay-walking" ordinance are middle-aged housewives who are either in such a hurry they never remember they shouldn't cross streets between intersections or hope the constable on the beat isn't watching them. He usually is.

That's the opinion of Sgt.-Maj. Alex Riddell, chief of the city police traffic squad, who reports the following 50-cent fine tags issued to jaywalking pedestrians since the bylaw came into effect December 1 last: December, 101 persons; January, 103; February, 69; March, 65; first half of April, 20. No person has been tagged twice yet.

Edmonton is believed to be the only city in Canada banning jaywalking, and Sgt.-Maj. Riddell claims the bylaw has resulted in tremendous improvement in walking habits in downtown districts, with the resulting decrease in the accident toll. He states that now the only persons who cross between intersections are country folk and persons from other cities who are not aware of the safety ordinance. These persons are usually warned and no tags are issued.

AROUND THE TOWN

A decree absolute of divorce was granted Mrs. Johanna Luchek, Hamlin, from George Luchek by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in supreme court Wednesday.

Good news came from the city engineer's office Wednesday for city motorists. Announcement was made that city road scrapers went to work Wednesday morning on Edmonton's almost impassable side roads.

J. A. Turnpenny, of Toronto, advertising manager of the British American Oil Company, Limited, spent Tuesday in Edmonton consulting with C. G. Havard, local manager for the company.

R. Creelman, Winnipeg, passenger traffic manager of C.N.R. western lines, passed through the city Wednesday morning en route to Vancouver. Others in the party included his daughter, Miss Dorothy Creelman, F. S. Rose, Winnipeg, regional auditor for western lines, and Dr. B. Dwyer, Winnipeg, chief medical officer for the western region.

Registered unemployed in this city last Saturday totalled 7,557, according to figures released Wednesday by Alberta Employment Service officials. This is an increase of 30 over the figures for the previous week when the total was 7,527. Of the total registered last Saturday, 6,913 were men and 644 women. This city had the largest number registered with 3,010 men and 259 women, Calgary had 2,706 men and 242 women; Lethbridge 509 men and 57 women; Medicine Hat, 385 men and 12 women; and Drumheller, 303 men and 74 women. During last week positions were found for 195 men and 118 women.

Dr. G. Fred McNally, deputy minister of education and chairman of the Alberta Youth Training Council, is on his way to Ottawa where he will confer with Dominion government officials. He will return in about 10 days.

A series of pictures of the north country shown by the chairman, C. E. Garnett, were the chief attraction at a meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada held in the Macdonald hotel Tuesday evening. The pictures were filmed by Mr. Garnett.

Decrees absolute of divorce were granted to Mrs. Eunice J. Tuse, Edmonton, from Jack Tuse by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in supreme court Wednesday. Romney J. Stibbards, Westlock, was given a similar decree against Mrs. Agnes E. Stibbards.

It was learned Wednesday that Clifford Webber, wanted by R.C.M.P. in Calgary for breaking and entering and theft from a garage in Turner Valley, and who was arrested in Edmonton last week-end by Constable A. Hicks of the city police, is wanted by police in Minnesota for a felony.

Still feeling the effects of a minor operation to remove a fish-bone lodged in his throat, Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., minister of municipal affairs, was back in his office Wednesday. Returning from Winnipeg at the week-end, Mr. Maynard had a meal which included fish. A small bone lodged in his throat. An operation, performed Monday, was necessary for its removal.

Since commencement of the new license year on April 1 a total of more than 7,000 truck licenses have been issued, according to Alfred Chard, chairman of the Alberta Highway Traffic Board. Early improvement in highway conditions is expected to result in a heavy increase. As a rule about 25,000 trucks are operated in this province each year. Passenger vehicle licenses issued to date, since April 1, total about 20,000.

It is reported that 60 per cent of all the planes in use in South American domestic airlines are American made.

Canada Has Ability To Face War Perils Federation Is Told

Ability to face critical times and perils which have presented themselves without being diverted or sidetracked from purpose, has marked the Canadian attitude and endeavor in the war crisis, stated A. E. Ottewell, registrar of the University of Alberta, addressing members of the Federation of Community Leagues at their annual banquet and dance Tuesday evening. About 150 guests were in attendance.

"We have shown a steadfastness and a courage already and we know that we shall maintain them," he stated.

Tribute was paid by Mr. Ottewell to the work of the community leagues in the city. He spoke of the inspiration brought to the city from Rochester, N.Y., where a similar organization came into being 25 years ago.

Today, he said, we find ourselves in an obviously critical time. The federated commonwealth of nations, he stated, is engaged in an attempt to prove that we can vindicate the right to live under free institutions, and as nations and as groups and communities, that right is being upheld.

SEES SIMILARITY

There is an amazing similarity, he said, between the test to which we are now being subjected and that which the American republic was subjected to in the early '60's of the last century.

Mr. Ottewell's speech formed his toast to the community leagues, which was responded to by L. Lloyd Jones, president of the federation.

Replying to the toast by Mr. Ottewell, President Lloyd Jones stated that one of the principal aims of the leagues was to teach the young people to stand on their own feet, and help the community, city, province and Dominion. The pioneer spirit of the young people is well evidenced in their initiative and reliance, he said. They are learning to go forward in the face of obstacles seemingly insurmountable.

Mayor John W. Fry paid tribute to the work of the league and stated that he hoped the leagues and the civic officials would in future work together smoothly. He stated that much had been done by the community leagues to provide entertainment for the young people of the city, and to aid in the beautification of civic grounds.

TOAST TO CITY

His worship spoke in response to a toast to the city proposed by W. G. McConachie. Mr. McConachie spoke of the work of the city fathers in having foresight for the expansion of the city, and stated that the community leagues deserved much credit for the continued development of the city.

Toast to the women was proposed by Ben Hager and responded to by Miss M. Fearn. Grace was said by Rev. Capt. C. F. A. Clough.

Seated at the head table were Mayor Fry and Mrs. Fry, Rev. Capt. C. F. A. Clough, L. Lloyd-Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McConachie, Mrs. J. Rault, Miss M. Fearn, Mrs. W. T. Rice, O. W. Bannister, Mrs. J. A. Clarke, Ben Hager and James F. Miller.

A brief entertainment program was arranged by Jack Williams, Mrs. W. Saunders, Mrs. E. P. Beatty, and Mr. Fred Doucette. Mr. Doucette led the community singing, held prior to the dance which followed the banquet.

AID IS GIVEN 100 FAMILIES IN FLOOD AREA

Required assistance has been given to more than 100 families in the flooded areas in the Drumheller district, according to Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and relief. The work was carried on through the office of J. Gray, relief branch agent at Drumeller.

Dr. Cross said that the main assistance had been the provision of accommodation and bedding. Accommodation had been provided in halls and other points and from all reports the work of assistance had been carried out promptly and without hitch.

Information received Wednesday indicated that flood waters were receding and that some of the people were returning to their homes.

A meeting of the property committee of the Edmonton Public School board will be held at the Civic Block Friday, April 19, at 5 p.m.

Through The Mill

They were just a couple of butterflies who flitted too close to the bright lights of the big town and got their wings singed. In police court Wednesday they pleaded guilty to charges of vagrancy. The cadi ordered them both to spend 60 days in Fort Saskatchewan where a little work, wholesome food and medical attention will enable them to regain their lost health. And perhaps their misfortune will teach them the truth of Tizz-Too's famous adage: "The most expensive school in which to learn is the school of experience."

• • •

Readers of this column will recall that Saturday we told of a young man who pleaded guilty of the great sin of having no work, no money and no friends, and who was sentenced to serve three days in jail as a vagrant. On his release from jail officials of the Salvation Army took the young man under their protective wing and are now able to report that he has been given a job out in the country. Some day the Salvation Army will receive credit for the great work they do for the folks who are down-and-out.

Last Thursday we climaxed a blow-by-blow account of the domestic troubles of one couple by writing that they walked out of the court arm in arm. Wednesday morning the husband arrived in the editorial rooms of The Bulletin, waved a copy of Thursday's paper in the general direction of everyone and denied that he ever walked out of the court with his wife. In fact, he says, he has since obtained a judicial separation. Our eyesight must be failing.

Chief A. G. Shute, of the city police, said Wednesday that Elmer W. Leslie had been appointed to the city police force. A former member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, he was selected from a score of applicants.

K.O. CAVALIER

By Jerry Brondfield

CAST OF CHARACTERS

VAL DOUGLAS, girl sports writer, shipped on a freighter to find excitement.

EDDIE CAVALIER, a prize fighter headed for the title, has a score to settle with Val.

CAPTAIN STEVE HANSEN, skipper of the Northern Belle.

• • •

Yesterday: Eddie and Val escape from their captor, hurry to the Northern Belle. They find Mike Kelly tied up on deck, and the strangers in the hold, trying to damage the machinery. There is a fight, several shots. When it is over, and the strangers captured, Val notices Mike unconscious on the floor, a pool of blood around his head.

CHAPTER XIX

THE acrid smell of gunpowder filled the room and made Val cough. She stared with horror at Mike Kelly lying there, inert. And then Steve Hansen was marching them all up on deck.

Barney MacGregor, with two policemen in tow, was dashing up the gangplank.

"We heard shots," Barney yelled. "What's up, Steve?"

Grimly, Steve Hanson explained. Then they returned to the hold and carried Mike tenderly up on deck.

One of the officers bent down and made a hurried examination. "This man wasn't hurt as bad as you think. Must have been hit by a ricocheted bullet that glanced off his temple."

A vast feeling of relief swept over Val. Good old Mike. With some quick medical attention he'd be all right.

Then for the first time she felt herself trembling. She covered her eyes with her hands. Steve Hansen went over and put an arm around her shoulders.

"I think you've had enough for one night," he said gently.

• • •

Val leaned over the rail in the early morning sun and watched the huge cranes swing aboard the Northern Belle and dip deep into her hold. Steve Hansen, puffing on his pipe alongside her, followed every foot of the journey with hawk-like eyes when the crane swung out with the Halliday mining machinery.

Val sighed when it was deposited on the dock and transferred to a huge truck which the company had sent down. "That's a relief," she said.

Hansen nodded. "Yeah . . . but it's too bad we can't prove those yeggs were agents of that other line. We knew it, of course, but proving it is something else. It's next to impossible. Only satisfaction we have is knowing our playmates of last night will get themselves a nice long stretch for robbery, attempted vandalism, and a few more charges."

"They're lucky it wasn't murder," said Val. "And Mike Kelly is lucky he has a nice, thick skull."

Hansen grinned. "Look at 'im down there. You'd never know he came within a quarter of an inch of cashing in his chips."

They didn't know Pop Grimes was behind them until the trainer spoke. "Unless you folks have serious objections," he said "Eddie and me are going to a little honest-to-goodness road work this afternoon. About a couple of hours outside of town."

"Good," said Val. "I'll go along."

"We ain't walkin', miss, we're runnin'," Pop reminded her casually.

"What's to prevent me from renting a car and driving along behind you?"

Pop shrugged. "You will, as usual. We're starting out a couple of hours after lunch, so have your auto ready."

She invited Duffy Kelso to come along, but he refused. "Thanks," he said, "you've got me believin' it's safest to be where you ain't. And for the luvva Pete, make sure you don't run 'em down."

• • •

That afternoon, for the first time since she left San Francisco, Val wore a dress instead of slacks and skirt. She put on low-heeled shoes and slipped into a beige camel-hair jigger-coat.

"Where's th' party?" Steve Hansen inquired. Eddie Cavalier didn't say anything, but she saw the look of startled surprise on his face.

"That's to remind you she's still a lady," Duffy Kelso observed but Val gave no sign she had heard.

Yet, she admitted to herself as they swung off down the dock Duffy had been partly right. Clever man, in his way, was Duffy Kelso. Too bad he was soured on her so. She couldn't help chuckling at the thought of it. He certainly had a right to be.

She could picture Duffy, once they got back to San Francisco. He'd probably try to put an insurmountable barrier between her and Cavalier. Refuse to see her. Make her get her stories second-hand. Make it tough for her in every way imaginable.

Well, she'd had her innings. Rather riotous ones, at that. Anyway, she had a hunch that Eddie Cavalier wouldn't be too difficult to reach despite Duffy Kelso. It was just a hunch but Val Douglas always placed a lot of faith in her hunches.

She asked a policeman where she could rent a car and he directed her to a garage a couple of blocks away from the main business section.

She climbed behind the wheel of a shiny blue coupe. It felt good to drive again. She slipped through the noonday traffic and headed back for the waterfront. Parking the car as close as possible to the Northern Belle, she boarded the ship.

She was just in time for lunch. "Give you a break," she said to Pop Grimes. "I'll drive you out to the other side of town when you're ready to go."

"Thanks."

"Of course," she lied for Duffy's benefit. "I haven't driven in almost a year, but I think we can stay out of the ditches and avoid the telephone poles."

It was perfect bait. Duffy let out a yelp. "Stay outa that car," he ordered Eddie. "She'll get you killed yet."

Eddie grinned. "Calm yourself, Duffy. Can't you see she's just needing you?"

Duffy Kelso glared and put his fork down disgustedly. "Well, anyway, she killed my appetite."

• • •

Val found that following behind Eddie and Pop as they jogged along the Skeena river road was a little too slow. She practically had to stay in second gear all the time. It was too boring to suit her.

She honked the horn and drew alongside. "See you snails farther down the road."

She roared off in a cloud of dust.

"Didn't think she'd last that long," Pop grunted. "She just ain't used to staying in the same spot for a long time."

The sun had been shining brightly, but now it moved behind a dark cloud which came up from the northwest. Val hummed to herself as the car purred along the country road. And then it happened. There was a loud report and when the car moved sluggishly toward the side of the road she knew she had a flat.

She got out and looked at the tire with dismay. There was a spare in back, but who was going to change it? She looked up and down the road. There wasn't a house in sight. Nor a gasoline station. Nor any sign of another car. She climbed behind the wheel and sat there dejectedly.

It was a half hour before she glanced into the rear view mirror and saw Eddie and Pop come over a slight rise in the road. She breathed a sigh of relief.

"Am I glad to see you," she said. "Look what I've got."

She didn't see Eddie nudge Pop Grimes slyly.

"Gee, that's tough," he murmured. "Well—if we come to a garage or gas station we'll send back a mechanic."

And they left her standing there as they jogged off.

BELGRADE HAS MISGIVINGS AT NAZIS' INFLUX

3,000 Germans Arrive In 48 Hours Ostensibly To Visit Fair

By JEAN-MARC CABEZAC
Havas Staff Writer

BELGRADE, April 17—At least 3,000 Germans have arrived in this capital during the last 48 hours, ostensibly to visit the Belgrade fair, but qualified observers view the influx with some misgivings.

Some observers have pointed out that similar "tourists" played an important role in the so-called "Trojan horse" tactics by which the Nazis staged their coup in Norway.

NOT TOURIST TYPE

This correspondent has seen these visitors. They are not the elderly, rather quiet-mannered German tourists who have come in the past, but are young, and dressed in sports attire, [illegible] jackets, shining boots and military trousers.

They have swelled the number of Germans already touring here to considerable proportions. Many do not remain long in the capital but proceed on visits to interior points.

The number of German automobiles in Belgrade streets is increasing daily. Yugoslav observers also have noted that an exceptionally large number of five-ton German trucks—such as could be used for troop transportation—are on view at the fair. Almost all the trucks and also private cars are well supplied with fuel.

PLAN STRICT CONTROL

Recently 180 members of the Hitler youth, said to be attached to the Berlin division and all 18 or 19 years old, arrived in Belgrade. Later, they left for Prokrajevo and Ouibitchevo, health resorts, and Skroplje, near the Albanian frontier.

Yugoslav aviation units are concentrated at Skroplje while important arms plants are situated near the two other points.

It is reported the Belgrade government is now studying a decree providing for strict control of foreigners in Yugoslavia. The government also has increased its surveillance at all ports.

CANUCK PILOT DECORATED BY KING GEORGE

LONDON, April 17—Flying Officer Andrew Hood McLaren, a native of Montreal, was one of five Royal Air Force fliers awarded a decoration by the King last night for "gallantry and devotion to duty in the execution of air operations."

Flying Officer McLaren was born in Montreal in 1918 and educated in Edinburgh and Dundee. He was granted a commission in the Royal Air Force in 1936. It is understood the award was made for outstanding flying work over a period of time and not connected with any special event.

NAZI INVADERS USING FINNISH TRICKS ON SKIS

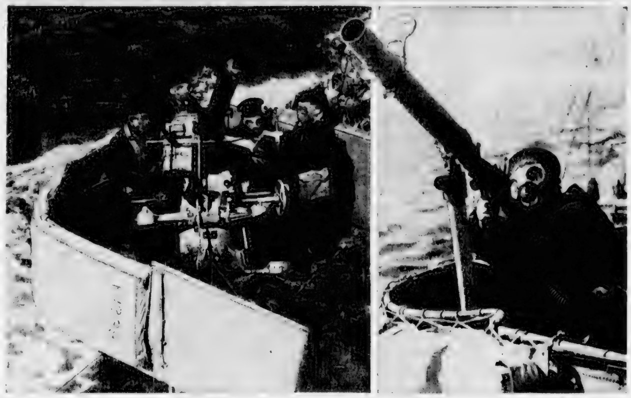
STOCKHOLM, April 17—Norway's German invaders are making capital of a trick learned from Finland—the use of skis to slip silently through snows and pounce upon unsuspecting foes.

A ski patrol of Nazis, carrying the last word in automatic rifles, swooped down on Skurudalvoid, some 13 miles from the Swedish border, in a before-dawn attack yesterday and seized the little town on the Trondheim-Storlien railway before the villagers knew what was happening.

American Autos Reaching Canada Show Increase

OTTAWA, April 17—Approximately 8,600 more United States automobiles crossed into Canada during February as tourists came to visit the dominion than in the same month of 1939 the national revenue department announced yesterday. In February 1939 the total was 141,996 cars compared with 150,587 last February.

Canada's Navy Keeps Supply Route To Britain Open



Living up to their tradition of being "the silent service", the Canadian navy is grimly pursuing its duties in the Atlantic and Pacific, protecting the ugly, unromantic freighters which carry vital supplies to Britain in an never ending stream, through waters where German submarines in the last war spread havoc among Allied shipping. Submarines and mines are not the only danger faced by the men of His Majesty's Royal Canadian Navy as they patrol far out in the Atlantic, aircraft is a new danger of this war and Canada's sailors must ever be in the alert for an attack from the sky. Aboard one of the Canadian destroyers on convoy duty, these gunners are shown as they manned their guns and swept the sky with keen eyes for any signs of hostile aircraft.

SOUTH FARM OPERATIONS ARE DELAYED

Seeding Is Expected To Be Started Within Next 10 Days

LETHBRIDGE, April 17—The spring operations on south Alberta farms are being delayed by recent precipitation, but expectations are that many farmers will be seeding crops within the next 10 days unless additional moisture comes.

Few farmers have been able to get on the land in this area, owing to heavy snow and then rain early this month. In the Taber district several farmers seeded their wheat acreage 10 days ago and were the first in Western Canada to plant seed. In scattered sections of South Alberta some ploughing has been done and farmers are working on land in the Nanton district.

FARMERS ARE NOT WORRIED

Generally, land is still too wet but many farmers expect to be able to work their land near the end of the week. There is no sign of worry at the delay, however, as little seeding is done in this area before the third week of April. Drilling of the sugar beet crop usually starts about April 20.

Moisture conditions are much better than last year throughout the south and little soil drifting is expected. This is attributed to heavy March and April precipitation and absence of drying winds which in years past have sucked up considerable moisture from the soil.

Last month Lethbridge recorded .63 inch of moisture and precipitation to date this month is over an inch. Late winter snowfalls were not whipped into drifts and gradual melting enabled the soil to absorb most of the moisture.

RANGES TURN GREEN

While more moisture was obtained by this area in many past years much of it was lost to Chinooks. This spring the soil has retained most of the moisture and farmers are cheered by the splendid conditions for germination and starting growth.

Ranges are turning green and show rapid growth after the recent soakings.

Officer Named To Brigade Command

CHARLOTTETOWN, April 17—Lieut.-Col. P. S. Fielding, M.M., of Charlottetown, has been appointed to command the 2nd medium artillery brigade of the second Canadian division of the Canadian Active Service Force.

Canada Is Expected to Receive Large Orders for Newsprint from Britain

By FRED BACKHOUSE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 17—Discussions between the government's paper controller and the Newspaper Proprietors' Association representing all Britain's "national" newspapers were expected today to lead to a big increase in imports of newsprint from Canada and Newfoundland, according to well-informed sources.

As an outcome of the German invasion of Norway and Denmark, the United Kingdom's newspapers are facing the gravest supply crisis in history.

Practically all supplies of newsprint pulp came from Scandinavia and had been shipped from Norway since the outbreak of war. With imports of woodpulp and newsprint from Scandinavia cut off Canada and Newfoundland may be expected to make good the deficit.

Experts reported to the government that stocks of woodpulp at present in England could not last more than five weeks. Stocks of newsprint in the ownership of individual newspapers and manufacturers are computed to be sufficient for about four months—and no longer.

From the government's point of view shipping priority must be given to food and munitions. But one newspaper owner last night said he is "confident something will be done in Canada" before the situation becomes more acute.

All national dailies have been reduced from the customary 12 or 14 pages to 10 pages. The Daily Express was voluntarily rationed to eight today and others are expected to follow.

Meanwhile, with the controlled price of newsprint at £21 10s ($105) a ton and a further increase to £25 slated to take effect July 1, newspapers are drastically cutting features and compressing news in order to conserve paper.

Simultaneously advertisement rates have been raised and bigger increases are expected.

Traitors Among Norway's Defenders Responsible for Nazis Reaching Capital

STOCKHOLM, April 17—German forces occupying Oslo never could have reached the Norwegian capital had not Norway been betrayed by some among her defenders, the newspaper Social Demokraten contended yesterday.

Quoting Norwegian military sources, particularly officers of the Norwegian minelayer Olav Tryggvason, the newspaper told this story.

Only the Olav Tryggvason stood in the way to keep three German cruisers, the Bluecher, Emden and Karlsruhe, reaching Oslo after coastal batteries had sunk the battleship Gneisenau when the Germans invaded Norway just a week ago.

The Germans have admitted losing the Bleucher and Karlsruhe, but not the Emden and Gneisenau.

EMDEN SINKS QUICKLY

The minelayer opened fire when the cruisers were about 5,500 yards distant. Two shots reached the Emden's ammunition stores. The cruiser exploded violently and sank within a minute. The Karlsruhe, following in the Emden's wake, was also sunk. A third cruiser also was hit, ran wild, and went ashore.

With the battle still going on, the Olav Tryggvason's commander received evidently false orders from the commander of the Horten fortress saying that King Haakon had instructed surrender. Because of this and other false orders, the fortresses at Horten and Oscarborg surrendered, eliminating what naval experts said would have been impenetrable barriers to Oslo.

The Social Demokraten said there were reports that the Norwegian 3,858-ton coast defence ship Tordenskjold was in the harbor at Horten when the Germans attacked. The commander at Horten, it declared, must have known what was coming because 200 of the Tordenskjold's crew were ordered ashore, leaving aboard only 15. The heaviest Norwegian warship in Oslo fjord, therefore, was out of action.

HOISTS WHITE FLAG

No one had expected the 1,924-ton Olva Tryggvason to put up such a fight, the newspaper continued, but while she and the 760-ton Froya battled the Germans, the Horten commander hoisted the white flag.

It quoted eye-witnesses as saying that when a Norwegian officer was ordered to raise the signal he protested that the Germans were beaten, yet the command was given again.

Charges also were made that officers of the Rauver fortress on the east side of Oslo fjord had a secret agreement with the Germans. The story there, the Social Demokraten said, was this:

When a warship landed troops under the fortress, the defenders fired a few shots but their officers ordered surrender, saying there was no ammunition although fortress troops had seen it arrive a few days earlier. At another fortress, the newspaper said, this was the story:

German warships sailed past securely the first day, but by the second its troops must have seized their officers because its guns spoke and two destroyers were hit and forced aground. What has happened since is not clear although the fortress apparently has surrendreed.

30 Persons Known Dead In Floods At Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES, April 17—Thirty persons were known dead and more than 100 were missing yesterday after one of the most disastrous floods in Buenos Aires' history.

Property damage was estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars as the river Plate began receding, leaving hundreds of homes and business establishments wrecked.

The heavy winds and rainstorms reached as far north as Paraguay.

A launch which sailed with 40 passengers Sunday from Colonia, Uruguay, to Tigre, Argentina, has not been heard from.

TOUGH CANUCK TRAPPER SAID NAZI PRISONER

LONDON, April 17—A Canadian trapper, so accustomed to the sky for a roof that he slept on the Thames embankment when he reached civilized London, was reported last night among British volunteers from Finland arrested by the Nazis at Oslo.

He was identified only as L. E. Young, a strapping out-of-doors man and a particularly [illegible]. The director of the Finnish Aid Bureau in London said Young came out from the dominion to fight for Finland. He said he had received no confirmation of his arrest.

"I can't sleep indoors," Young said when he reached London. So he "bunked" on the hard stones of the embankment.

Teleki Winner In Opening Round Of Fight With Nazis

BUDAPEST, April 17—Premier Count Paal Teleki threatened yesterday to dissolve parliament if disgruntled members of his party deserted him and joined a combination of German sympathizers.

He was regarded as having won the first round in a new battle with the rejuvenated Nazi party by his manoeuvre.

GERMAN FILM, STAGE ACTOR BLASTS NAZIS

LONDON, April 17—Nazi propaganda concocters must have received a shock recently when they listened in to a counterblast in the British Broadcasting Corporation's nightly German language talk and heard the voice of Karl Stepanek, one of Germany's most popular film and stage star.

Stepanek, whose voice and appearance are known to millions of Germans, denounced the Nazi regime.

The fact that he was a Czech by birth helped him to escape from Germany Stepanek said afterward. After an adventurous flight via Italy and France he reached this country.

Canada Decennial Census Will Be Taken Next Year Even if War Continues

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, April 17—War or peace the decennial census of Canada will be taken on schedule in 1941. Officials of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are busy preparing for the counting of heads and the compilation of hundreds of volumes of figures which give a complete picture of the growth of Canada in wealth and population.

On June 2, 1941 some 16,000 enumerators will start ringing doorbells from coast to coast, asking questions and filling in the answers on big sheets of paper.

They will count not only the men, women and children in Canada, but the horses, cows, pigs, sheep and poultry. They will note racial origin, religions, occupation, age, wages, employment or lack of employment, livestock and acreage in crop on farms.

250 CENSUS DISTRICTS

The 16,000 enumerators will work under approximately 250 commissioners, each in charge of a census district, which is about the same thing as an electoral district for the federal parliament.

Back in Ottawa some 1,100 extra employees will be assembled to aid the permanent staff of the census branch, Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in assembling and totalling results of the census.

Population of Canada at the last census in 1931 was 10,376,000. Since then it has been increasing at the rate of about 100,000 a year, according to estimates based on births and deaths, immigration census probably will show a population of between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000.

Canada's governmental machinery hinges on the census at several vital points. The British North America act, provides that the census must be taken every 10 years that after each census there shall be a redistribution of the representation of the country in parliament, based on the census.

AFFECTS SUBSIDIES

This means that areas which increase in population obtain more members of the house of commons, sometimes at the expense of areas which remain stationary or decrease. Thus some constituencies will be merged or enlarged after 1941, while others will become smaller as new ones are created.

The subsidies payable to provincial governments by the federal government also are based, in part, on the census. The larger the population of a province the larger the subsidy it gets.

The British North America act also requires a census every five years in the prairie provinces for the purpose of computing the subsidies payable to them. In 1936 the suggestion was advanced that this special western census be dropped as an economy measure but the provinces concerned protested and the Dominion had no choice but to proceed with it.

FAST HELP BY ALLIED FORCE NORWAY'S NEED

LONDON, April 17—Immediate assistance to Norwegian forces in southern Norway was declared last night in Norwegian circles to be the most important task facing the Allied Expeditionary Force.

Erik Andreas Colban, Norwegian minister to London, who saw Prime Minister Chamberlain yesterday, was believed to have emphasized the importance of keeping the Germans from consolidating their positions in southern Norway.

(It is reported now that the Germans have established control along a railway bisecting Norway from Trondheim to the Swedish border.)

Meanwhile the press advised the public not to expect immediate, spectacular results from the expeditionary force. Newspapers expressed the view that it would take considerable time to organize forces for a knockout blow to the invaders.

Major Progress

Fine Work

Golf Secret

WHEN Dr. W. G. Hardy turned over the helm of Canadian Amateur Hockey Association yesterday to George Dudley of Midland, Ontario, the Alberta professor of classics completed one of the most progressive and eventful terms in the history of the C.A.H.A.

It was Dr. Hardy who saved the association from financial perplexities by staging playoff games where they would draw the most money instead of making them home-and-home affairs regardless of gate receipts. This system has given the C.A.H.A. a bank roll which should pull it through more lean years than are likely to come in a bunch.

However the major achievement of Hardy's piloting was the clearing away of all the hokum about paying players. Hardy led the revolt of hockey when the A.A.U. of C. refused to take a broader view of what constituted an amateur athlete. He then went on to lay a firm, clean-cut foundation for the handling of players under a remuneration system. Jobs plus a bonus for playing, is the ideal arrangement for senior players Hardy believes. However he knows that it is often impossible to procure jobs, so he accepted full time hockey contracts as legal.

Another important achievement was the negotiation of an agreement with the National Hockey League over the signing of amateurs, pro training camp trials and so on. It is due to this agreement that pro clubs cannot sign players of junior age . . . a God-send to amateur hockey if there ever was one.

For a man whose profession is that of exposing university students to the beauties of the classics in Greek and Latin, Dr. Hardy has shown himself surprisingly modern and progressive in hockey matters—and as shrewd as any big business executive when it comes to making good deals and profits for the sport that is his major hobby.

Dominion Intermediate Title Nearer

DECISION of the eastern half of Canada to carry through a full interprovincial playdown in intermediate hockey next fall means that next spring may bring a dominion championship series in this division between east and west just the same as in the junior and senior divisions at present.

For two seasons now the west has completed intermediate playoffs for the western championship, but the east has neglected this division. Actually it is the most important division of hockey so far as number of teams is concerned, for the intermediate is the only classification in which the smaller cities and towns have a chance to operate profitably.

George Mackintosh, president of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association and sports editor of the Edmonton Journal, has been in charge of the western intermediate playdowns and he has now succeeded in interesting the east in carrying through to a [illegible] division. George has done a fine piece of work in this undertaking and I take real pleasure in tossing orchids his way.

Secret of Red Hot Golf

GOLF writers who have been following the winter tourney circuit, rate Jimmy Demaret as the hottest thing in the game today. This happy genial pro from the Brae Burn Club of Houston, Texas, won six out of the 11 major winter tourneys. Playing in every sort of weather he averaged 70.7 strokes for 34 rounds of tournament golf — the best in modern annals.

The secret of this performance probably lies in the fact that Demaret has no ambitions in golf beyond that of being a good pro and greenkeeper. He isn't straining to duplicate the grand slam scored by Bobby Jones or to set any records. He played the winter circuit chiefly for the fun of it and to sharpen up his own game. If he had finished out of the money every time, it would not have worried him.

With that attitude Jimmy naturally would be completely relaxed and at ease. He [illegible] players [illegible] golf for [illegible] grocery money [illegible] game particular [illegible]

Pitchers Feature In Baseball Openers

CHICAGO, April 17.—Bob Feller of Cleveland carved himself a niche in baseball's hall of fame as the American League season opened Tuesday, pitching an amazing no-hit game to defeat Chicago White Sox 1-0 before 14,000 fans.

It was opening-day no-hit contest in major league history—one which ended after two hours and 24 minutes of play as Rack Mack, Indian second baseman, made a great knockdown of Taft Wright's grounder and tossed him out at first by a step.

TIMELY SAFETIES

Feller, who struck out eight batsmen and walked five, earned the decision on two timely Indian safeties in the fourth inning. Jeff Heath, a native of Fort William, Ont., singled and after Ken Keltner had flied out, Heath scored on a triple to right by Feller's catcher and friend, Rollie Hemsley.

It was Feller's first no-hitter, although he has had three one-hit performances in his brilliant major league career. The 21-year-old star won 24 games last season.

The White Sox, even though they enjoyed fine, six-hit pitching by southpaw Edgar Smith, threatened seriously only once. In the second they had the bases loaded with two out. Feller, using his blazing fast ball, then struck out rookie Bob Kennedy.

15 MEN IN ROW

Feller retired 15 men in a row from the fourth inning through the eighth. He got the first two men in the ninth easily, but Luke Appling, White Sox shortstop, gave him and the cheering fans several anxious moments. Appling drove four foul smashes to right before drawing a walk on the 10th pitch.

The last no-hitter in the major leagues was hurled by Monte Pearson of New York Yankees, who beat the Indians in the second game of a doubleheader at New York August 27, 1938.

The Tigers [illegible] lead in the opening inning but saw it fade as the Browns tallied two runs off Louis (Buck) Newsom in the fifth and followed up with single tallies in each of the next three innings.

Coffman, traded to St. Louis for catcher Billy Sullivan, kept Detroit's six hits well scattered.

Cincinnati Reds Win Opening Tilt

CINCINNATI, April 17. — Cincinnati reds, National Baseball League champions, won their first opening-day victory since 1932, blasting a pair of home runs for a 2-1 decision over Chicago Cubs before a capacity crowd of 34,342.

All three scores were homers. Augie Galan hit one for the Cubs in the sixth to tie the count after first baseman Frank McCormick had laced a four-baser in the third. Ival Goodman's circuit clout in the eighth settled the issue.

Paul Derringer, whose 25 victories paced the Reds to the 1939 pennant, was in mid-season form. He allowed six hits, fanned three and did not issue a walk.

Bill Lee almost matched Derringer's performance. The Cub ace allowed eight hits, fanned two, and gave one intentional pass.

ST. LOUIS, April 17.—Pittsburgh Pirates, under the management of Frankie Frisch, leader of the world championship St. Louis Cardinals in 1934, won their National League baseball opener from the Cardinals 6-4 before a crowd of 16,000.

Curt Davis, the old work horse who won 22 games for the Cards last year, was blasted off the mound with 11 hits in five innings. A sixth-inning St. Louis splurge also sent Bob Klinger, starting Pirate hurler, to the showers but he was credited with the victory.

Higbe gave a fine three-hit performance. One of them was a triple by Bill Jurges, which Frank Demaree followed with a fly for the Giants' lone run in the fourth.

Hubbell was heading for a shutout and might have had it had not rookie second baseman Mickey Witek bobbled a double-play chance in the eighth shortly before Suhr came across with his four-base drive.

INTERMEDIATES IN EAST PLAN FULL PLAYDOWN

MONTREAL, April 17.—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association ended its 26th annual meeting here Tuesday with election of officers the announcing of dates for the first two Allan cup games and the declaration that the Association intends to continue a policy of helping strengthen intermediate hockey in eastern Canada.

While Dudley was named to succeed Dr. Hardy as president Frank Sargent of Port Arthur, Ont., was moved up to first vice-president and Hanson Dowell of Middleton, N.S., was appointed second vice-president, giving the Maritime provinces their first major officer since formation of the Association.

In addition, [illegible] Marples of Toronto remained as secretary and W. A. Hewitt of Toronto was renamed registrar-treasurer.

Cecil Duncan of Ottawa immediate predecessor to Dr. Hardy as C.A.H.A. president, suggested to the Association that in future the intermediate champions in Quebec province continue in an eastern intermediate series instead of challenging the provincial senior representative.

Montreal Royals and Port Arthur Bear Cats, [illegible] finals of the Allan Cup hockey playdowns, will begin a best-of-three "runners-up" series in Montreal Saturday, it was announced today.

The second game will be played Monday, with the date of the third if necessary to be decided later.

The teams will play for a trophy to be donated by Prof. W. G. Hardy, past president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. It was understood the series may become an annual event for Allan cup runners-up.

SPORTS BULLETIN

Coach of Kirkland Lake Worried Over Keeping His Devils Up on Bit

TORONTO, April 17.—Lex Cook today faced about the hardest assignment of the hockey season—that of keeping his Kirkland Lake Blue Devils in fighting trim for their Allan cup series against Calgary Stampeders.

The northerners went through a terrific grind in dusting off Toronto Goodyears, Sydney Millionaires and Montreal Royals en route to the eastern Canadian senior championship. Now comes the inevitable letdown with this weeks' layoff.

This same type of layoff is said to have hurt the highly-rated Royals and made them easy victims for the Flying Blue Devils.

Cook had his charges out for a workout Tuesday but nothing strenuous was attempted. The towering coach, who plays on the defence, said he wanted to keep the boys skating. He will depend on the same 14 players who beat Royals to carry on against the Stampeders.

Not at all sanguine over his team's chances against Calgary, Cook declared the Stampeders "must be good" to have beaten Port Arthur Bear Cats, Allan cup winners last year.

"We know how good Port Arthur is and when Calgary could spot them that first game and still take them they must be good," said Cook. "For that matter there never was a western finalist that was weak."

Stampeders, who cleaned up their series with the Bear Cats in Port Arthur Monday night left shortly afterwards for the east and arrived in Toronto this morning. For Coach Marty Burke it will be in the nature of a homecoming, for the former National League defenceman got his start here with St. Mary's juniors.

CALGARY, April 17.—Calgary Stampeders, western Canada senior hockey champions, a collection of stars from Ontario to the Pacific coast, will make Calgary's second bid for the Canadian senior championship when they tackle Kirkland Lake Blue Devils in Toronto Saturday night in the opener of the best of five Allan cup series.

Stampeders, who led the Alberta senior hockey league all season following a schedule the year before when they lolled at the bottom of the seven-team circuit, are in the Canadian final for the first time since 1912 when the Calgary hockey club met Winnipeg Victorias in an Allan cup series while the cup was still a challenge prize.

Stampeders, almost completely rebuilt last fall and coached by Marty Burke who had 11 years experience in the National League wars, entered the National final by downing Port Arthur Bear Cats, 1939 Allan Cup champions.

A year ago President Jim Cross induced Burke, who had just coached Saskatoon Quakers to the Saskatchewan senior title, to pilot Stampeders.

BAUER LIFTS BYNG TROPHY

MONTREAL, April 17.—Hard-working and seldom-penalized Bobby Bauer of Boston Bruins and the veteran Ebbie Goodfellow of Detroit Red Wings, who has all the qualities needed in a top-notch defenceman, were named today as the winners of two of the National Hockey League's individual trophies.

From the offices of Frank Calder, president of the N.H.L., it was announced that Bauer won the Lady Byng trophy, awarded annually to the player adjudged to have exhibited "the best type of sportsmanship combined with a high standard of playing ability during the season." Goodfellow was named as the winner of the Dr. David A. Hart trophy, given to the player considered the most useful to the team.

Runner-up to the speedy little Bauer was Clint Smith of the Stanley Cup holding New York Rangers, winner of the trophy in the 1938-39 season while Syl Apps of Toronto Maple Leafs took third place.

The spectacular Apps demonstrated the high regard with which he was held by the selectors by also being voted second to Goodfellow for the Hart trophy. Aubrey (Dit) Clapper, the versatile Boston rearguard, was given the third choice. In the previous season the Hart trophy was won by Hector (Toe) Blake of Montreal Canadiens.

Oshawa Cheers Ring Out: Tears Shed in Kenora Room

By HUGH C. CHADDERTON

WINNIPEG, April 17.—The crowded Oshawa General's dressing room paid tribute to two of their stars—Dinny McManus and Roy Sawyer—after their 1-0 victory over Kenora Thistles last night in the first game of the Canadian junior hockey finals.

Praise from club officials mingled with back-slapping of their teammates as the pair withstood a good-natured bombardment of towels, socks and other hockey regalia after posing in a corner for photographers.

Sawyer, second-string centre, scored the easterner's goal in the last minute of the second period and it was McManus in goal who deserved a shutout with a magnificent display during the remainder of the game.

SHAW HAS PRAISE

Coach Tracy Shaw, shouting over the din from his hilarious players, gave credit to his diminutive goalie who played with Oshawa last year when they won the Canadian championship.

"Dinny's a good boy and has played some good games for us in the past two seasons but he never gave us more support than he did out there last night," the silver-haired Oshawa coach said.

"I'm tickled to death to get that first one and we know it won't be a cinch from here on.

"These Kenora kids with their funny style are no set-up and they are going to be just as hard to beat as the western champs in the past."

The Kenora club was a mixture of confidence and tears after the game as they realized they now rested on the short end of the odds.

Manager Shorty Elliott, speaking the officials' piece, recalled the 7-1 pasting absorbed in the second game in Edmonton while Thistles followed with with two wins and a tie to take the western crown.

"If we can come back from a licking like that we're not worrying about our one-goal defeat last night," Elliott said.

"We'll go home with the Memorial cup yet."

MILFORD CONFIDENT

Dick Milford, classy centreman, led a section of his teammates in carefree joshing but there were a few glum faces around the dressing room.

One in particular belonged to Bill Juzda, as tough a defenceman as they come, who was in tears as he blamed himself for the goal that cost them the game.

"I stood still as he stepped around me," Juzda said in explaining how Sawyer got past the Kenora defence to leave Goalie Charlie Rayner no chance to save.

"Hey, Bill, you don't mind losing one game do you," Milford said in an attempt to raise the big defenceman's spirits.

"If I knew you felt that way about it I would have sunk that goal in the last minute and we could have beat them in overtime instead of waiting until Thursday to start on that championship."

(Milford hit the side of an open net after pulling McManus out of position with only 15 seconds left in the game.)

VITT PRAYED IN HOT NINTH

CHICAGO, April 17.—Bob Feller, 21-year-old Cleveland Indians star who pitched a no-hit game against Chicago in Tuesday's opening baseball game of the season, took his remarkable accomplishment in "stride" as he cooled off in the dressing room after the history-making game.

"I knew I had a chance for a no-hitter in the ninth," he admitted. "But I tried to put the thought out of my mind by reminding myself you never have a no-hitter until the last man is out.

"Tomorrow's another day, however, and I'll be out there every time I pitch—just trying to win for the Indians."

The Cleveland manager, Oscar Vitt, was far from calm and collected as he swivelled noisily at the feat of his young mound star.

"Boy I'll never forget that ninth inning," he said.

"I sat there with Luke (Sewell, Indians' coach and once a Chicago White Sox Star) and just prayed. I remember saying once to Luke 'Oh God, let him get that Appling.'"

For it was Appling, the White Sox shortstop, who gave Feller most of his anxious moments, with two out in the ninth, Appling fouled four terrific smashes to right before drawing a walk on the 10th pitch. Then Taft Wright was thrown out by Ray Mack to end the contest.

Feller, who has had three one-hit games in his carrer, put on his great show before his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Feller, who headed a large delegation of Iowa fans who came here for the game.

"Of course, all during the late innings, we were silently hoping Bob would get a no-hit game," said Bob's father.

"But you can bet we didn't put these wishes into words. It would be an understatement to say we were holding our breath in that ninth inning."

Field Trials

CALGARY, April 17.—The 15th annual spring trials of the Alberta Field Trials Club will be held April 20, 21 and 22, it was announced by W. Clemons, Rockyford, president of the organization.

Plenty of game birds were found on the 10 splendid courses which were laid out in the Conrich district 10 miles east and north of Calgary, Tuesday afternoon, by course steward Vic Grainger and Jim Lowther.

Southpaw Wins

LONDON, April 17.—Southport defeated Oldham Athletic 1-0 in a replayed preliminary round English war cup soccer game at Oldham Tuesday. Last Saturday the teams drew 1-1 and Southport will now meet Blackpool, April 20, in the first round.

In Scottish west group contests Clyde downed St. Mirren 3-1 and Queen's Park and Motherwell battled to a 2-2 draw.

It is reported that 45 per cent of all the cars sold during 1933 were the four-door sedan type.

Gals Barred

TORONTO, April 17. — The royal and ancient divot-digging pastime enters a new phase at one of Toronto's leading golf clubs this season. Officials of the reorganized Lakeview golf club have decreed that no women will be allowed to play on the course. It will be a club for men only.

CALGARY HERE TO PLAY GRAD CUB QUINTET

Provincial championship basketball will come to the end of the trail at the McDougall Gym next Saturday night when the Grad Cubs tangle with the Calgary Wittichens in the second game of the series to decide the Intermediate Ladies Championship. Carrying a 14 point advantage into this game the Cubs will naturally be favorites to cop the fourth title for the Grad organization.

On their own floor the Grads' youngest sisters will likely play their best basketball, execute their best plays, and display the smart brand of play which has characterized their game during the last few weeks. Ten players will be available for the Edmonton game. Those anxious to complete the Grad record for the season are: Captain Beryl Westbrook, Phoebe Kell, June Cos[illegible], Phyllis Green, Mary Zabarewsky, Dorothy Bolander, Celi Flett, Joan McAllister, Anna Strachan, and Margaret Paterson.

Coach Clare Hollingsworth put his charges through their final work-out at the McDougall Gym last night. The Cubs never looked better. In spite of the fact that the girls' average age is but 17.4 years, they are playing like veterans.

The Wittichens have a speedy squad which gave the locals plenty of opposition in Calgary in spite of the score. They can be depended upon to give a good account of themselves. They have three very fine players in Callighan, Patt[illegible] and Crockett. Fans attending the game Saturday will be well-advised to follow their actions for the bulk of the oppposition will come from them.

The game is billed to start at 8.30 p.m. and the officials appointed to handle the contest are: Jack M[illegible]gan and Ed Tomick.

Entries Named For Preakness

BALTIMORE, April 17.—Six supplementary entries, headed by M[illegible]dale Stable's' Andy Ky, were named today for the Golden Jubilee running of the $50,000-added Preakness Stakes at Pimlico May 11.

Named in addition to Andy K were C. V. Whitney's Carrier Pigeon, C. S. Howard's Mioland, Harold A. Clark's Royal Man, J. W. Y. Martin's Abrasion and Mrs. E. G. Lewis' Jacomar.

Missing from the supplementary entries was William Woodward's Fenelon, a derby candidate that whipped Carrier Pigeon and Victory Morn at Jamaica Monday.

Originally 319 were named for the Preakness, but the number was cut to 139 by the August 15, 1939, declaration date.

Softball Meet

A softball meeting is called for Wednesday night at the Y.M.C.A. and the meeting will start at 8.30 p.m. Plans for the Pastime League will be discussed at tonight's meeting.

The license plates for the state of Michigan for 1940 will be about 30 per cent larger than the plates of 1939.

Roy Sawyer Gets Game's Lone Goal

By CHARLES HOOD

WINNIPEG, April 17.—Meeting far more opposition than they had expected Oshawa Generals defeated Kenora Thistles 1-0 here last night in the first game of the best-of-five series for the Canadian junior hockey championship.

Roy Sawyer, slim centre of the second string line, provided the lone goal 31 seconds before the end of the second period. Generals, Dominion champions last year, were held on even terms by the opposing forward lines, showed a little more class in their defence and were saved time after time by Goalie Dinny McManus, perhaps the game's most brilliant player.

Sawyer's counter came just after a Kenora rush failed to click. Breaking away with Bud Hellyer, his left winger, Sawyer caught Thistles with only their defencemen and goalkeeper back. He took the pass at centre ice, stepped around Bill Juzda and fired at Charlie Rayner, starry Kenora goalkeeper, from five feet out. The rising shot caught the right hand corner of the net.

OPEN UP FAST

The teams started of at a stiff pace and for the first minutes the champion Generals had all the best of the going. Halfway through the first period Kenora apparently found an answer to the Oshawa powerhouse with a system of fore-checking. Through it they held the Generals fully in check for five minutes. Through most of the second period, too, Kenora had the best of the scoring chances.

Play was rough in the early minutes. Hard play between the two teams came to a head late in the first session when Juzda, trying to bodycheck Norm McAtee of Oshawa, sent him flying into the boards. The pair rose with their fists flying and a brief free-for-all broke out.

Six policemen rushed on the ice as the trouble started. Norm McAtee and Juzda drew major penalties for starting the affray and Vic Lofvendahl, Juzda's defence mate, and Jud McAtee were given misconduct sentences for mixing in. Only the 12 players on the ice were involved.

CALL 'EM CLOSE

Throughout the second period the officials called offences closely, handing out seven minor penalties. The teams were at full strength, however, when Sawyer fired his telling shot.

The lone two penalties of the third period overlapped. Both of them were called against Oshawa but Thistles came closer while they had a one-man advantage than they did while Oshawa was two men short. Jud McAtee put on a wonderful display of ragging the puck to save his team while Kenora tried vainly to organize a power play.

As Thistles put on the pressure later in the session, Oshawa staged a series of breakaways and only the sensational work of Rayner kept them from adding to their advantage. He stopped three great rushes.

Dick Milford, speedy little centre, missed the best Kenora scoring chance of the night seconds before the final bell. A loose puck came to him at the wide-open, righthand side of the net as Thistles ganged up in the Oshawa zone but in his hurry he shot into the side of the net.

Coach Bobby Benson was forced to revamp the Kenora lineup late in the second period through an injury to Pinkie Melnyk, second string centre. Melnyk did not come out for the third period.

LINEUPS

Oshawa: McManus; Daniels, Ritchie; N. McAtee, R. Wilson, J. McAtee. Subs: Sawyer, Hellyer, Knott, Peters, W. Wilson, Hewson, Eddolls, Smith, Turner.

ROYAL LAWN BOWLERS SET FOR CAMPAIGN

The semi-annual meeting of the Royal Lawn Bowling Club was held in the committee rooms and Robert Buchanan, president, presided over an attendance of approximately fifty members.

At the outset President Buchanan made fitting reference to the deaths during the winter months of two very old and prominent members of the Club in the persons of John D. Hunt and Lieut.Col. T. C. Sims and a silent vote of sympathy [illegible] the relatives was passed.

It was arranged that, provided weather and green conditions were favorable that the opening of the green take place on Empire Day, May 24, with similar arrangements to those of last year, men's competition in the morning and a mixed tournament during the afternoon.

Appointment of skips and classification of players were left in the hands of the Executive Committee to arrange after the membership list is completed.

The following were appointed office-bearers and Executive Committee for the coming season: Honorary President, Hon. W. A. Fallow; Hon. vice-presidents, Mr. Fred Chorley and Mr. W. D. Stacey. President, Robert Buchanan; vice-president, Angus B. Mackenzie, secretary-treasurer, Wm. M[illegible].

Executive Committee: R. T. Atwood; W. A. Boyle; James Little; Tom DeBoucier; John Martin; Fred Newson; R. G. Rein, R. V. Shore; Harry Schofield; Rob[illegible]; W. Harold Thomas.

Repre[illegible] Association Messrs. A. Butlin, Fred Little and John Martin.

Arrangements were tentatively made for the various Club Competitions for the following trophies: H. F. Hardisty Cup, Jackson Trophy, Col. Sims Trophy and Dominion Motors Trophy and the season's program will be along similar lines to the successful season experienced last year.

INSEPARABLE

A BOY and his C·C·M·

EVERY boy who has a C.C.M. Bicycle regards it as even more than his "personal transportation"—it is his prize possession and invariably he and his C.C.M. are inseparable.

He knows of the extreme accuracy with which all of the fast-moving parts of his C.C.M. are built—the C.C.M. Coaster Brake—the C.C.M. Hanger—the C.C.M. Front Hub.

Not only does the proud C.C.M. owner know these facts but he enjoys the results of them. He enjoys the C.C.M. smooth, easy-running qualities which conserve his energy and give him the maximum of speed and distance for his pedalling effort.

He enjoys the trouble-free service which his C.C.M. gives because it is always on-the-job ready for an easy-riding trip to anywhere.

He enjoys the lasting new appearance of his C.C.M. resulting from the several coats of baked-on enamel and the thick Chromium-plate over C.C.M. 20-year nickel.

When you come to buy a bicycle remember all of these qualities which make a boy and his C.C.M. inseparable and choose a C.C.M. for yourself.

C.C.M. bicycles are made in a variety of models from the "special" illustrated to stouter models such as the reinforced "C.C.M. Delivery" and on the lighter side—the trim light-weight road racer and the "C.C.M. Professional Flyer", as used by many of the 6-day bike racing stars.

Ask your nearest C.C.M. dealer to show you these C.C.M. models so that you may be sure to select the one best suited to your needs.

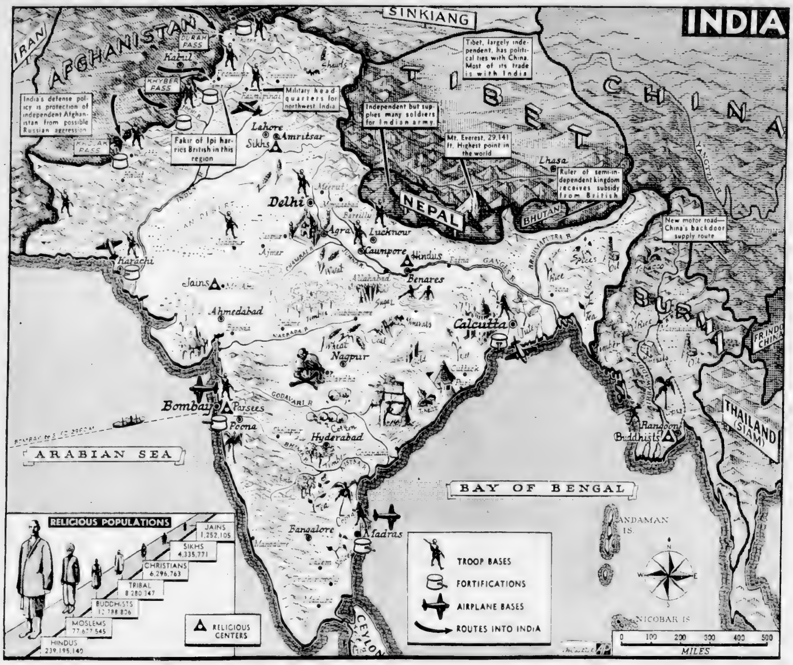
India Gives Britain Men, Money—And Trouble



TROUBLED India is a British treasure house. During the World War [illegible] gave the empire a million and a quarter men and a billion and a quarter dollars' worth of materials, and today her fighting men bolster the Allies' near eastern armies and her gold helps fill the Allies' war chest.

So what happens in India can affect the course of the war—and things ARE happening there, at a war-quickened pace.

These maps give the background of the important but often complicated news from Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi, or Wardha, which is Gandhi's home. They show that India besides being a land of diversified resources, is a land of diversified politics and religions.

AGRICULTURE PARITY PRICE IS OPPOSED

Professor Says System Infeasible In Changing Conditions

SASKATOON, April 17—Difficulties encountered in the preparation of indices upon which to base a parity price structure for agriculture products were outlined last night by Professor E. C. Hope of the University of Saskatchewan farm management department, in an address to the annual meeting of the northern Saskatchewan branch of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists.

Personally, Professor Hope said, he was opposed to the idea of a parity price system because rapidly-changing conditions made it infeasible. He recognized the fact that agricultural prices were not in proper proportion to those of industry, and suggested the financial aid should be given agriculture when and where necessary.

Such financial assistance, he said, should not be so great as to interfere with normal trade trends in agriculture. A bonus which kept farmers in the production of one commodity, the demand for which was declining, was not good business, the speaker continued.

Attempts to increase demand for agricultural products were recommended by the speaker. He expressed the belief that agriculture would not be in a precarious position following the present war, because people and governments were better informed of the world agricultural situation than they had been at the conclusion of precious conflicts.

AUTO WORKERS VOTING TODAY IN 59 PLANTS

General Motors Employees To Select Bargaining Agencies

DETROIT, April 17. — The largest election ever attempted by national labor relations board offers 137,000 General Motors employees the chance today to name bargaining agencies for 59 of the corporation's automotive plants in 11 states.

Object of the balloting is to clarify the confusion of labor relations in General Motors plants that followed the split of the United Automobile Workers of America into branches of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and American Federation of Labor.

Each union claimed to represent the workers. When opposing shop committees were set up, G. M. managements declined to recognize either. To settle the dispute, the corporation and both unions filed petitions for an N.L.R.B. election.

Sometime during working hours today, each eligible voter will be permitted to leave his job and cast his ballot at polling places set up in the plants.

The voting in each plant constitutes a separate election. However, the corporation has agreed to collective negotiations for all plants won by either union on "issues that are common to all" such plants.

Both unions have announced intention to demand, following the election, a general wage increase, vacations with pay, recognition of a shop steward system, and seniority and overtime clauses.

Production workers will vote for the U.A.W.-C.I.O., the U.A.W.-A.F.L., or "nenither."

P.E.I. Beer Sale Bill Is Amended To Include Wine

CHARLOTTETOWN, April 17—A private bill to establish government-controlled sale of beer in hitherto dry Prince Edward Island was amended yesterday in the legislature to include wine and to make a plebiscite necessary before it could go into effect.

The measure, which received second reading today, called originally for immediate proclamation with a plebiscite to be held some time before the next provincial elections, in the event of an unfavorable vote in this case, the bill would have been repealed.

Allies Will Place First Large Plane Orders This Week

NEW YORK, April 17—The New York Times says contracts for the first large-scale orders of United States war-planes by Great Britain and France since the outbreak of the war probably will be signed before the end of the week.

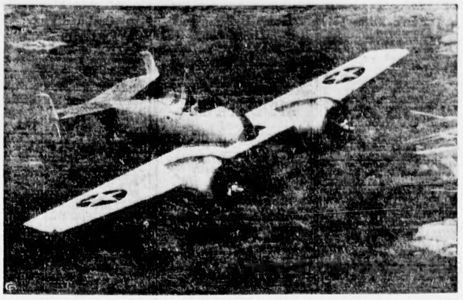
The Anglo-French purchasing mission, adds the newspaper, is expected to place immediate orders for about 4,600 bombers, flying boats and pursuit planes which have been released for export by the federal government.

81 British Ships Of All Sizes Are Sunk During War

LONDON, April 17—Robert Hudson, shipping minister, told the House of Commons yesterday that 81 British merchant ships were sunk by German submarines from the start of the war until April 10.

He said this total included 17 ships of various types, including trawlers which generally were of less than 500 tons. The remaining 64 ships included 41 which used coal for fuel, 15 oil and eight using both coal and oil.

New Plane For Western Front



Shown in flight above is a Grumman, twin-engined skyrocket fighting plane, which, although still in the experimental stage, has proved superior to any other fighting ship in actual combat on the western front. The plane was developed with the aid of the United States navy. The skyrocket is so named because of its ability to out climb any airplane built in the world today. It also carries more heavy gun power than any other plane and has an additional fuel capacity above normal military load to increase flying range so that it may act as convoy for bombers on long-range missions.

REVENUES OF CANADA SHOW BIG INCREASE

Customs, Excise Duties And Taxes Up For Year Ending March 31

OTTAWA, April 17. — Customs duties, excise taxes, excise duties and sundry collections during the year ended March 31 totalled $322,359,284, the national revenue department announced yesterday. This was an increase over the previous year of $36,709,071.

Income tax collections during the government's fiscal year mounted to $134,448,565, a decrease of $7,557,571 from the year previous.

During March customs duties, excise taxes, excise duties and sundry collected showed an upturn of $8,070,740 to $28,488,036 compared with March, 1939, while income tax collections, at $5,896,919 were $1,129,953 ahead of collections for March, 1939.

GERMAN ATTACK ON TWO BRITISH POSTS REPULSED

By AXEL DE HOLSTEIN
Havas Staff Writer

PARIS, April 17. — A German attack on two British posts was the principal event on the Western Front yesterday.

The attacking force was believed to consist of two companies which attempted to storm the posts at dawn after a violent artillery barrage. When the German infantry advanced toward the posts, the German artillery shifted its range in an effort to break the communications of the posts to the rear and on either flank.

The Germans were forced to retreat, however, leaving many dead on the field.

Otherwise there was only scattered French artillery fire directed at labor detachments in the Saar region and activity by a French reconnoitring unit, which penetrated deeply into German lines in Alsace.

The day and night were without incident in the air. A few French and German planes made reconnaissance flights.

An under-inflated tire is far less durable than a tire properly inflated. Soft tires become hot at any speed, according to tire experts.

British Agric Minister Has Powers of Dictator Over Island's Farmlands

By HAROLD FAIR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 17.—Britain's agriculture minister, Sir Reginald Dorman-Smith, is the lord of this island's farmlands with powers of a dictator—given by parliament as soon as war broke out in an effort to increase domestic food production in a country which normally imports half its supplies.

The minister can dispossess a neglectful owner who misuses his land or compel a bad farmer to mend his ways or leave the farm. There have been few cases of this, however, nor has there been one instance of authorities having to use their powers to compel a farmer to work land suitable for ploughing.

COUNTIES HAVE QUOTAS

Necessity of an intensive ploughing campaign became clear when it was seen that England and Wales had 2,000,000 less acres of arable land last year than in 1914. The people set out to plough 2,000,000 acres.

By March 18, after what Sir Reginald called "the worst ploughing winter in living memory" 1,370,000 acres had been placed in cultivation. Every county was given its quota of land to be ploughed.

A shortage of animal feeding stuffs made the program doubly important. The British livestock population—cattle, sheep, pigs and poultry—has increased by about 22,000,000 over 1914 but production of feed did not keep pace. In peacetime it was easier and cheaper to import and about 8,000,000 tons of feed were brought in yearly.

IMPORTS CUT DOWN

Now, however, when shipping space is needed for munitions and conservation of foreign exchange is vital, farmers have been forced to cut down imported supplies. Pigs and poultry keepers have been told not to expect more than 66 per cent of normal supplies from abroad.

The agriculture program can be carried out on more balanced lines than in the first great war when absence of a big world wheat surplus placed the emphasis on wheat growing. Now farmers can grow oats or barley, mixed cereal crops or fodder. Old grassland can be ploughed and reseeded with better grass mixture to increase stock-carrying power of the pastures.

Daily Mass For Peace Planned

VATICAN CITY, April 17.—The Vatican announced yesterday that daily mass for world peace will be offered in the chapel of the Holy Sacrament in Saint Peter's basilica. The faithful were urged to attend in large numbers and offer their prayers.

Montreal Traffic Deaths Increase

MONTREAL, April 17.—Since the start of the year 40 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in Montreal, seven more than in the same period last year, Sergeant Howard Baker, police department engineer, told members of a service club.

Nazis Facing Big Task To Get Troops to Norway Fronts Through Sweden

LEEDS, England, April 17.—The Yorkshire Post discussed Germany's chances of getting troops to Norway through Sweden yesterday in an article warning Britons against expecting an early victory.

"The point arises," the newspaper said, "whether Germany is able to send a force through Sweden with the object of strengthening General Von Falkenhorst in Norway.

"To do she must now send her transports to southwest Sweden. She can sweep a passage through the Baltic minefield. But can she hold it? She can creep along the Lithuanian coast and attempt the long sea passage to Sweden.

"We must look for no early triumphs. The Norwegian landscape should warn us of that.

"The fact is that, owing to the physical configuration of Norway there are only two airdromes that can be used by the types of military aircraft which Germany would have to send against Britain—those at Oslo and Stavanger.

"The Oslo airdrome is as far from Scapa as is Sylt, and in any case it is not a first class military airdrome as the great air powers understand the term.

"Norway's best and most modern airdrome is at Stavanger, which is a comparatively short distance from Scapa. But continuous British bombings in the last few days have revealed how vulnerable Stavanger is, and it is an axiom of air warfare that no hostile operation can be launched from an airdrome which is under constant attack."

NAZIS, REDS SEEK TO KEEP U.S. FROM WAR

Agents In Mexico Trying To Foment Uprising To Divert Attention

MEXICO CITY, April 17—Informed government sources said yesterday that Mexican secret police had evidence of undercover activities of Nazi and Communist agents seeking to foment an uprising to divert American nations, particularly the United States, from any move to enter the war.

They expressed confidence any such movement would be nipped at the start.

A spokesman for the German legation claimed that Germany would not participate in any plot to overthrow a friendly government, when told of the report.

An executive of the secret police said, however: "We now have under surveillance a known Gestapo (German Secret Police) agent, believed to be in charge of all German espionage activity in Mexico. We have not moved against him yet because we are trying to untangle the web of which he appeared to be the centre."

This executive expressed belief that at least 100 Nazi agents and Mexican employees were working under orders of this key leader and that a number of skilled Communist operatives were collaborating.

Informed sources also said that Mexican troops were reliably reported to be patrolling various frontier sectors, including the Rio Grande, to prevent arms smuggling by various anti-government political factions.

Sect Minister To Face Charge Under Canada Defence Act

MOOSE JAW, April 17.—Francis David Danforth of Trewdale, Sask., charged with an offence under the Defence of Canada Regulations, was granted a remand of one week when he appeared in court yesterday.

Danforth, who claims to be a minister of Witnesses of Jehovah, an organization headed by Judge Rutherford of the United States, is charged with unlawfully circulating or distributing a publication intended to, or likely to prejudice recruiting, training, discipline or administration of any of His Majesty's forces.

Jones Is Formally Elected Governor Of Louisiana State

NEW ORLEANS, April 17. — Louisiana yesterday formally elected Sam Jones its governor and swept to defeat four constitutional amendments proposed and endorsed by incumbent Governor Earl K. Long.

The vote was interpreted as full endorsement by the people of the program of Governor Designate Jones, who smashed the 12-year-old political dynasty of the late Huey P. Long in the Democratic primary in February.

Revelstoke Flier Reported Missing By British Force

REVELSTOKE, B.C., April 17—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Perry of Revelstoke yesterday received word from the British war office at London that their son, Sgt. George Perry of the Royal Air Force, has been missing since Monday following an air engagement.

Red Cross Ready To Follow Canuck Troops To Norway

TORONTO, April 17.—Canadian Red Cross Society representatives are ready to go to Norway "at a moment's notice" if reports that Canadian soldiers have been sent there are correct, Norman Sommerville, national chairman of the society, said yesterday.

GERMAN RUSE CAUSES NORSE TO HIT TRAIN

Norwegians Shoot At Own Train Following Call From Nazi Agent

STOCKHOLM, April 17.—A German ruse, it was reported yesterday, caused the Hegra fortress to fire on a Norwegian train. A German agent at Trondheim telephoned to the commander of the fortress, telling him, in the name of "a Norwegian patriot," that the last cars were filled with Germans.

A statement issued by the legal Norwegian government urged that utmost caution concerning the acceptance of rumors because of the "treachery" of persons who are furthering German designs.

It said German warships had succeeded in passing Agdenes fortress in Trondheim Fjord because Norwegian fishing vessels were on both sides of the fleet and the fortress commander feared that Norwegians would be killed by his fire.

It was also revealed German forces reached Storlien Heights because Norwegian railway employees had been supplied with false information that a train loaded with Germans carried Norwegian troops.

The railroaders gave right-of-way to the train and the Germans were carried safely past the very muzzles of a Norwegian-manned fortress.

As the train progressed the Germans posted strong units at all bridges. The Heights are three miles from Swedish frontier and 50 miles east of Trondheim, port on Norway's west coast.

OTTAWAN OWED OLD SHOE BILL BY RIBBENTROP

OTTAWA, April 17. — Shear Miller, former Ottawa shoe merchant, said yesterday he was wondering what to do about a 26-year-old shoe bill owed by one J. von Ribbentrop of Berlin, Germany, formerly of Ottawa.

The present Nazi foreign minister purchased a pair of boots from Miller in 1914 when he was a wine merchant in Ottawa and, Miller said, "Ribben," as he was then popularly known here, evidently forgot to pay for them.

GERMANS CLAIM BRITISH SHIP IS SUNK BY U-BOAT

BERLIN, April 17—The German high command today claimed that a German submarine had sunk a British destroyer northeast of the Shetland Islands.

A German claim was also made that a British battleship (Schlachtschiff) was hit by a bomb of the heaviest calibre when the German air force attacked British naval forces off Norway's southwestern coast.

The high command also announced, after the Official News Agency DNB had reported a heavy British bombardment of the northern German-held Norwegian port of Narvik, that Captain Bonte, leader of a German destroyer squadron, had lost his life in naval fighting in Narvik Bay.

The British destroyer was described as one of the 1,870-ton "Tribal" class, to which belong the Cossack, which the Germans said was set afire and left stranded in a battle at Narvik Saturday. Altogether Britain had 16 of this class.

Paris Archbishop Buried Tuesday In Impressive Service

PARIS, April 17—The body of Jean Cardinal Verdier, Archbishop of Paris, was lowered into the crypt of Notre Dame cathedral last night after imposing funeral services attended by notables of church and state and great crowds of the faithful.

President Lebrun and Premier Reynaud of France, foreign diplomats, the Papal Nuncio, a representative of the primate of Britain and 55 bishops and archbishops from all the major cities of France were present at the services in the historic cathedral on the banks of the Seine.

The primate died suddenly April 9 of heart failure following an operation.

Student Expelled For Refusing Army Training at School

NORMAN, Okla., April 17.—Officials of the University of Oklahoma yesterday announced expulsion of Andrew Kennedy, a sophomore, because of his refusal to take military training on grounds of conscientious objection. Training is required of all students under 21.

Climbers Rip Down German Flag From Top Of Mountain

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 17—A Nazi flag waving from the peak of mount Illimani, 19,500 feet high and overlooking La Paz, sent Bolivian mountain climbers into action.

Three of them, with an Englishman, spent three days scaling the mountain and ripping down the flag.

The Andine Club, which sponsored the climb, sent the flag to the Bolivian government with a request that it punish the Germans who planted it, but government officials could find no law against placing flags on mountain tops.

"Pony" League

Y.M.C.A. senior basketball players start their annual "Pony" league tonight to round out the season. The "Pony" idea refers to abbreviated features such as small teams, only four men playing at a time; short periods of only fifteen minutes; short league, only one round; and frequent substitutions, every five minutes. Regular teams are broken up so the expert players will be divided among all the teams This event was inaugurated last year and proved a popular way of filling in the tail end of the indoor season. Starting time is set at 8 p.m.

NOTICE OF CLOSING HIGHWAYS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to Section 506 of The Edmonton Charter that the Council of The City of Edmonton proposes to pass a bylaw for the closing of that part of certain streets and lanes situate in The City of Edmonton described as follows, namely:

1. All of the lanes in Block 112, Glenora, a subdivision of The City of Edmonton, in the Province of Alberta, of record in the Land Titles Office for the North Alberta Land Registration District as Plan 2893-A.F.;
2. All of the lane in Block 1, and all that part of First (128th) Street lying to the South of a straight line drawn from the North-west corner of Lot 11, in said Block 1, to the North-east corner of Lot 10, in Block 2, and to the North of a straight line drawn from the South-west corner of Lot 20, in said Block 1, to the South-east corner of Lot 1, in said Block 2; all as shown upon a plan of subdivision of Fractional North-east Quarter of Section 1, Township 53, Range 25, West of the 4th Meridian, in The City of Edmonton, in the Province of Alberta, of record in the Land Titles Office for the North Alberta Land Registration District as Plan 3010-P.;

and for the selling, disposing and transfering of title to the said described parts of streets and lanes when closed to The Edmonton School District No. 7 of the Province of Alberta, a Body Corporate.

All persons having objections to the proposed closings and who claim that their lands will be injuriously affected thereby are requested to file with the City Clerk, Civic Block, Edmonton, Alberta, their objections together with any claims for compensation or damage they may have by reason of their lands being injuriously affected by the said closings, on or before Monday, the 13th day of May, A.D. 1940;

And further take notice that the Council will at its regular meeting to be held in the Council Chamber, in The City of Edmonton, on Monday, the said 13th day of May, A.D. 1940, at 8 p.m., or so soon thereafter as the matter can be dealt with, consider the passing of the said bylaw and hear all persons so claiming who petition to be heard and appear either personally or by agent at the said council meeting.

DATED at Edmonton, Alberta, this fifteenth day of April, A.D. 1940.

ALFRED RUSSELL,
City Clerk.
Civic Block,
Edmonton, Alberta.

Notice To Creditors And Claimants

SWISS INCREASE MEASURES FOR HOME DEFENCE

BERNE, April 17—The Swiss high command today increased precautionary military measures throughout the country. Armed sentries were placed in public telegraph offices in Berne and other cities and soldiers posted at both ends of rail and road bridges as was the case last September at the outbreak of the European war.

Officials said the new steps were designed to bring the country back to the strong footing of September when the country was fully mobilized and prepared for "any eventuality."

Reports from the frontier zone indicated that large forces of German troops which were concentrated in the German provinces of Baden and Wurttemburg earlier this spring had been put back in this southern German region north of Switzerland's frontier.

Reports reached Basel that 15 German divisions had returned to this region.

Shanghai Council Given Bodyguard

SHANGHAI, April 17.—Police of the international settlement today assigned a personal bodyguard to each member of the newly-elected Shanghai municipal council, following circulation of rumors that irresponsible Japanese, disgruntled over election results, were plotting violence against them.

ICE BREAK-UP TAKING CITY BY SURPRISE

Breakup of the North Saskatchewan river came with startling rapidity this year with the channel wide open through the city Wednesday morning, and ice floes moving downstream. Power plant officials reported Wednesday that the break-up came sometime between Monday evening and Tuesday morning. The river was filled with ice for its entire width at the power plant Monday, but overnight the level of the river rose 4½ feet and the ice began to move. Officials of the Alberta Motoboat Company reported that the river showed little change overnight.

Temperatures in the city moderated Tuesday with the mercury hitting a high of 44 above at 2:30 p.m. and a low of 25 above at 7:30 a.m. Lowest temperature Tuesday evening and early Wednesday morning was 33 above, while the mercury had risen to 44 above by 8:30 a.m. Forecast is for fair and mild weather.

Movement of ice from the North Saskatchewan this year was about normal. The earliest date for the official breakup of the river occurred April 4, 1930, while the latest date on record took place May 6, 1920.

Streets in Edmonton were drying rapidly and city workers were busy Wednesday morning clearing away sand and ashes thrown on the ice-covered streets in the winter months.

Majority of roads throughout northern Alberta were reported "impassable" by the Alberta Motor Association, although cars were getting through on most of the main highways.

CITY MOTORIST HAS CLOSE CALL WHEN CAR STUCK

Pete Yanow of Calder came close to losing his life when he was overcome by carbon monoxide gas when his auto became stuck in a mudhole near the corner of 128 street and 124 avenue early Wednesday morning.

Racing the motor with the windows closed, gas leaked into the car and overcame Yanow. Another motorist, passing by, noticed the engine of the car racing in the mudhole with Yanow slumped unconscious over the wheel.

Police were called and Yanow was dragged from the auto and rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital, where he recovered under a physician's care. Wednesday he was reported "just as good as ever."

Butterfat Shows Large Increase Report Reveals

Butterfat production in the province showed an increase of 110,907 pounds for the month of March, over the same month in 1939, it was revealed by the dairy branch of the department of agriculture Wednesday. Largest increase was reported for the southern section of the province, where an increase of 22 per cent was shown over 1939, while the northern section of the province showed an increase of 8.3 per cent and the central section 6.4 per cent.

Creamery butter production in Alberta during March increased 11.2 per cent over March of 1939, in contrast to a decrease of 4.4 per cent recorded for all Canada.

Australian Sales To U.K. Sustained

CANBERRA, April 17. — The Speech from the Throne, read at the opening of the Australian parliament today, expressed satisfaction over the sale to the United Kingdom of £100,000,000 ($308,000,000) of primary produce despite shipping difficulties. The speech indicated the government will not resort to inflation but will rely on a policy of taxation and war loans.

HANNA NAMED NEW SITE OF AREAS BOARD

Tanner Says Change Will Cut Administration Costs

Early transfer will be made of the provincial special areas board from this city to Hanna, where headquarters will be established, Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, declared Wednesday. Offices have been accupied by this board in the administration building, 109 street, since its establishment several years ago.

When the Special Areas Act was passed through the legislature at the 1939 session, the expressed intention of the government was to transfer the Board to the drought areas.

SAVING EFFECTED

Mr. Tanner declared that advantages of the transfer would include saving in administration costs and the board would be closer in touch with its work. Also the public would be convenienced in transacting business with the board.

It is expected that the transfer will be completed within the next two or three weeks. Just what staff will be transferred with the board is not known.

C. McCully is chairman of the board, while members include D. M. [illegible], secretary, and G. R. Armstrong. Headquarters will be set up in the government building at Hanna.

FOUR DISTRICTS

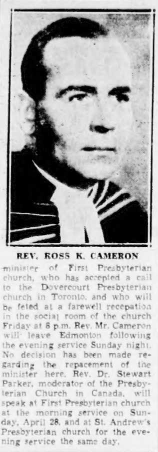
There are four districts in the drought area administered by the board—No. 1, Tilley East; No. 2, Berry Creek-Sullivan Lake; No. 3, Sounding Creek-Neutral Hills; No. 4, Bow West.

There were 36 municipal and local improvement districts in these areas prior to their being taken over by the board.

U.S. Protectorate Greenland Urged

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Representative Edith Rogers (Rep., Massachusetts) told the House of Representatives she believed a United States protectorate should be established over Greenland "until such time as Denmark regains her sovereignty" from Nazi Germany.

Leaving Soon



REV. ROSS K. CAMERON

minister of First Presbyterian church, who has accepted a call to the Dovercourt Presbyterian church in Toronto, and who will be feted at a farewell reception in the social room of the church Friday at 8 p.m. Rev. Mr. Cameron will leave Edmonton following the evening service Sunday night. No decision has been made regarding the repacement of the minister here. Rev. Dr. Stewart Parker, moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, will speak at First Presbyterian church at the morning service on Sunday, April 28, and at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church for the evening service the same day.

Bon Accord Man Named President Honey Producers

Peter Kowalski of Bon Accord has been elected president of the Alberta Honey Producers' Co-operative Association, Limited, it was announced Wednesday by Secretary-treasurer Charles Hunsley, of Edmonton.

Other officers elected are W. H. Coghill, of Edmonton, vice-president; executive members, W. J. Cantin, Edmonton; J. I. Watt, Rossington; A. C. Bradley, Athabasca; E. A. McLeod, Mirror; Harvey Smith, Bassano; Dempster Havens, Patricia, and Dale Wood, Glenwood, and S. H. McCuaig, Edmonton, legal counsel.

The company has been formed with a view to arranging "orderly marketing" of honey and at the present time is attempting to raise capital to establish a suitable extracting plant.

BIBLE SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL PARLEY HERE

W. H. Sterne Re-Elected President; Good Progress Reported

W. H. Sterne was re-elected president of the Northern Alberta Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society at the 22nd annual meeting of the association in the Salvation Army citadel Tuesday evening. His Honor John C. Bowen, lieutenant governor, was named honorary president of the association.

Reviewing activities of the past year, Rev. S. A. Carlson, who read the secretary's report, stated there was an increase in bible circulation of nearly 3,000 copies in 34 different languages in North America. An increase of $214.04 over last year was noted in the contributions from Edmonton and branches, which amounted to $4,752.17, while the sales, amounting to $7,797.64, were increased by $784.94 over last year.

WORK IN WAR

Work and Scripture circulation of the Society in almost every war since 1804 was referred to in an address by Rev. J. B. M. Armour, general secretary of the British and Foreign Bible society and guest speaker of the evening. Taking as his subject "A Key Industry in Peace and War", Rev. Mr. Armour emphasized the services of the Society during the last Great War, when its wartime circulation alone amounted to over 9,000,000 volumes of the Scripture in over 80 different languages.

He spoke of the present efforts to meet the need of armed and auxiliary forces, stating that the War Emergency fund for Canada alone requires $22,000 to meet the purchase of 170,111 volumes for distribution among Canadian forces. Some 54,000 volumes have already been presented to the men in Canadian forces and a Newfoundland.

In recognition of his services as district secretary since 1927, a beautifully-bound Bible was presented to Rev. J. K. Smith, who is retiring due to ill health. On behalf of the Society in Canada and Newfoundland, Rev. Mr. Armour made the presentation, expressing the deep regret of the society at Rev. Mr. Smith's resignation.

In view of the war emergency, no permanent secretary will be appointed to succeed Mr. Smith, but Rev. H. D. Marr, District Secretary Emeritus for Southern Alberta, will act from May until the end of July. Rev. H. O. Burkwall, former provincial secretary for Canton, China, will take temporary duty for the next six months while general affairs of the auxiliary will be under the direction of Rev. A. A. Lytle and a special committee appointed by the northern auxiliary board.

Presentation of a life membership, in memoriam to Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCallum was made by Mrs. W. J. Melrose. Rev. A. M. Trendall read the scripture lesson and the devotional period was taken by Rev. R. M. Thompson.

EXECUTIVE

Others on the executive are: Vice-presidents, Mrs. W. J. Melrose, B.A., Rt. Rev. A. E. Burgett, D.D., J. F. Lymburn, Judge A. U. G. Bury, Rev. A. S. Tuttle, D.D., Rev. F. D. Roxburgh, D.D., Rt. Rev. A. H. Sovereign, Brigadier L. Ursaki; honorary secretary, G. W. Jones; honorary treasurer, K. W. Reikie.

Defences Reported

PARIS, April 17.—The French senate met in secret session today to hear reports of its naval and air defence committee. The army committee's report was heard last night.

Wartime Concert Party Gives Troops Good Time At Garrison Gathering

Songs that helped to win the World War of 1914-1918 were sung by singers who made them famous when members of the Dumbells Company—the concert party of the 3rd Canadian Division—visited the Hostess House in the Y.M.C.A. building Tuesday night and entertained soldiers of the Edmonton Garrison.

Ross Hamilton, the stretcher-bearer of the 9th Field Ambulance, who became a famous female impersonator; Red Newman, who sent the song, "Oh, It's a Lovely War" winging round the world; and little Pat Rafferty, who could make the "sourest puss" smile, ran over to the Hostess Hut' between shows at the Strand theatre and gave the boys a treat.

Over at the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall, the Legion entertainment group put on another show for the soldiers, the main program being sound pictures.

Both these shows were well patronized by the troops and greatly appreciated.

Lt. Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., Area Commandant, announced that the Garrison entertainment board had presented the garrison with half a dozen ping-pong tables and a similar number of dart throwing outfits, which were much appreciated by the troops.

REVENUE FOR PHONE BRANCH IS INCREASING

Revenue from the city telephone system up to April 16, 1940, totalled $21,749.40, compared with $214,159.61 for the corresponding period last year, an increase of $7,589.79, it was disclosed in an interim report filed with city commissioners Wednesday by R. Christie, city telephone superintendent.

The report disclosed that there are 811 more telephones in commission in 1940 than on the same date last year, of which 500 are in private residences and 300 are new business telephones. Total number of telephones in service in the 1940 period is 19,187 against 18,376 last year.

During the past week the department handled 49 installations, 43 moves and 30 disconnections.

Scandinavians Meet Tonight To Discuss War Aid

Scandinavians from Edmonton and district will hold a mass meeting Wednesday evening (tonight) at the Memorial Hall to organize refugee and medical aid for the Scandinavian countries along the lines carried out here recently in aid of Finland. The meeting is scheduled to commence at 8 p.m.

The committee in charge of the meeting, J. Hober, Kay Sivertsen, O. Rost and B. Pearson has extended a special request to all church and other religious organizations to send delegates to the meeting, and all interested are cordially invited to attend.

Chairman and secretary of the Scandinavian Central Committee will be elected at the meeting.

SETTLEMENT OF SLANDER CASE NOW EFFECTED

Settlement of the $10,000 slander action brought by John Stott, North Edmonton farmer, against Sunwapta Broadcasting Co. Ltd., and Colgate-Palm Olive-Peet Co. Ltd., has been effected, it was learned Wednesday.

Under terms of the settlement, defendants pay the costs of the action and make full apology in a radio broadcast on Saturday next at noon.

The action arose out of statements alleged to have been made by E. L. Gray, former provincial Liberal leader in the legislature, and which were published in a news broadcast sponsored by the Colgate-Palm Olive-Peet Co. Ltd.

Statement of claim in the slander action was filed by S. H. McCuaig, K.C., for Mr. Stott. He represented him in settlement negotiations. Gerald O'Connor, K.C., represented the broadcast company, and the firm of Simpson and Macleod the Colgate-Palm Olive-Peet Company.

Professor's Son Has Scholarship Geology Course

John Donald Allan, son of Dr. John A. Allan, head of the department of geology at the University of Alberta, has been named winner of a $300 scholarship in geology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston, according to a report received in the city. He will commence his course next September.

Last year Mr. Allan won a scholarship in geology at Queen's University, Kingston.

He graduated from the Alberta university in mining engineering in 1938 and after a year's post-graduate work in geology here he went to Queen's where he is receiving his Master of Arts degree this year.

Acreage Increase

REGINA, April 17.—Saskatchewan may have 14,500,000 seeded wheat acres this year, a slight increase over 1939, a survey showed today.

Planes hummed busily between Edmonton and northern points Wednesday as pilots raced against heat in an effort to complete their work before the warm weather puts an end to winter operations.

Ted Field of Yukon Southern was bound for Fort St. John with a Barkley-Grow airliner Wednesday on the first leg of the mail run to the Yukon.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO SPEAK HERE EARLY IN JUNE

J. H. R. Cromwell, U.S. ambassador to Canada, will address a joint meeting of the Men's Canadian Club and the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce early in June at the Macdonald.

Council of the Chamber of Commerce, meeting Wednesday noon at the Corona hotel, said Mr. Cromwell had notified the Canadian Club he would be able to address its June meeting, and the latter invited the Chamber to join it in sponsoring the meeting.

Although Mr. Cromwell's subject has not been announced, it is expected he will discuss the place of democracy in a world at war, and the need of defending the principles of freedom.

UNDERWRITERS HOLD CONGRESS ON WEDNESDAY

Educational congress of Northern Alberta Life Underwriters opened Wednesday at the Macdonald hotel under the chairmanship of Thomas G. Morris, C.L.U. Registration for the one-day convention opened at 8:30 a.m. with delegates from all parts of Northern Alberta in attendance.

Following the registration Lee Nickols, president of the Edmonton Life Underwriters' Association, welcomed the delegates, and Morley J. Stephenson spoke on agency and agent's records.

D. M. Duggan, M.L.A., spoke on "Our Financial Future," and C. M. Horner, C.L.U., on "Some of Our Competitors".

Wednesday afternoon a discussion will be led by Louis Hyndman, K.C., and Vernon Hembling, and a valedictory address will be given by His Honor J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, at the conclusion of the afternoon session.

Concluding the session a banquet will be held at the Macdonald hotel starting at 6:15 p.m.

North Rivermen Leave Edmonton For Summer Work

Vanguard of the host of rivermen who man the boats which ply the water trade routes from Waterways to the mining camps and trading posts of the entire northland right down to Aklavik and the western Arctic Ocean, left Edmonton Tuesday aboard the N.A.R. train.

Among the first to leave were Joseph Hicks and J. White, ship carpenters who will be working for the Northern Transportation Company; Purser C. Mills, of the Radium Queen, and Purser Harold Caskill, Mechanic Thomas Gaetz, and Murray Hislop of the Mackenzie River Transport.

A. M. "Matt" Berry, manager of the Northern Transportation Company returned to the city over the weekend in a Canadian Airways plane.
